Skybolt Offered To U.K.

U.S. Will Give Up Rocket Program

PARIS (AP) — The United States has offered to turn over the entire controversial Skybolt rocket program to Britain free of charge, qualified sources reported tonight.

They said the British have been told they can take over the highly complicated project either in the United States or in their own country if they feel they can successfully develop it.

The British government accepted the U.S. suggestion for study along with other alternative proposals advanced as replacements for the 1,100-mile, air-launched rocket, according to a British informant.

Skybolt, a rocket designed to be fired from the swift-moving platform of U.S. and British bombers, thus far has cost the United States nearly $500,000,000 for development.

The British informant said that it would be quite feasible for his country to take over the Skybolt program despite American warnings that failure might lie ahead.

MORE TAXES

"We have by no means ruled it out," he said. "But of course it probably would mean another half-a-crown (about 35 cents) on the income tax and naturally it will have to be considered very, very carefully."

The disclosure of the American offer came at the end of a daylong behind-scenes meetings between American and British authorities on the Skybolt program.

U.S. Policy Praised By Soviet

Times News Services

MOSCOW — Soviet Foreign Minister Gromyko today praised the "calmer and more sober" approach by Washington to international issues and said the way appears to be clear for Soviet-American co-operation.

Gromyko was speaking at a session of the Supreme Soviet (parliament) that has been marked by attacks on Communist China and its Balkan ally Albania.

Gromyko told the Soviet deputies a "restrained and sober approach" has gained the upper hand in Washington even though the last two years have brought relapses into "extreme aggressiveness."

Russia, he said, no longer sees any unsurmountable obstacles to Soviet-American co-operation, provided the Americans want it.

DENIES U.S. CHARGES

Turning to Cuba, Gromyko sought to answer American charges that he personally misled President Kennedy and State Secretary Dean Rusk about the Soviet missile buildup on the island.

Gromyko said he assured Kennedy and Rusk there were no offensive weapons in Cuba. But he did not tell the American leaders about Soviet rockets on the island because "they did not ask us."

In any event, he said the rockets came under the category of defensive weapons "as Mr. Khrushchev pointed out yesterday."

Agreement between Kennedy and Khrushchev would mean a solution of the international problems on which the fate of mankind depends, Gromyko said.

He pointed to the international agreement on Laos as an example, coming as a result of the Kennedy-Khrushchev summit meeting in Vienna in 1961.

But a negative example was the disarmament talks where, he said, Russia has been trying to end the arms race but "the

Customers Disappointed

WINNIPEG (CP)—A Winnipeg music teacher says he was listed as a bootlegger on a public list of eligible voters in Friday's provincial election.

He says he has turned the matter over to his lawyer to see if any action can be taken.

The man said he has received several phone calls from people wanting liquor since the list was made public.

"I don't know what they mean," he said. "I don't have any liquor here for sale."

He said he has been in touch with his lawyer and asked him to see if he had been libelled by the listed occupation.

Workers at the returning office said they are puzzled.

Time For West To Move'

PARIS (AP) — U.S. State Secretary Dean Rusk urged the North Atlantic Treaty Alliance today to take the initiative in the cold war and demonstrate that freedom is the wave of the future.

In a cautiously optimistic report to the annual NATO winter ministerial meeting, Rusk said the outcome of the Cuban crisis and weaknesses developing in the Communist bloc offered the West new opportunities.

The world may be arriving, he explained, at a time when the East instead of the West will do a greater part of the worrying.

Rusk also assured NATO allies the United States government is not negotiating with the Soviet Union on any other subjec than Cuba.

He proposed wide ranging Western studies of major diplomatic problems to consolidate advantages now flowing toward the Atlantic community.

NO MORE CONCESSIONS

And he warned the Soviet Union the United States has given all the concessions it intends to offer in the negotiations for a treay to ban nuclear tests.

Rusk spoke for nearly an hour.

But the allies were divided

Family Groups Could Get Aid

A new plan to solve the problem of the 1,300 Sons of Freedom Doukhobors now camped at Hope, B.C., has been put forward by the British Columbia government.

They have been offered assisted passage to any part of Canada they may wish to go, if they go in family groups.

The plan was unveiled in Vancouver Wednesday by Premier Bennett and followed up with advertisements inviting those interested to make individual applications.

The policy applies only to the group at Hope, 49 of whom recently made a bus trip to Victoria and camped on the Legislative Buildings steps overnight.

They are the Sons who left burned homes at Krestova and trekked as far as Hope with the intention of being near the 60 convicted terrorists serving terms in Agassiz Mountain Prison.

Premier Bennett said:

He made the statement in an interview in Vancouver. Later, advertisements signed by Deputy-Welfare Minister E. R. Rickinson and headed "Attention Sons of Freedom Doukhobors," appeared in Vancouver newspapers.

'GOOD INTENTION'

They state:

"In accordance with the individual's need, consideration will be given to assist bona fide applicants who show good intention."

Mr. Rickinson elaborated later:

"If the Freedomites wish to move as family groups, then we would be pleased to assist them to move to a community that would accept them as long as jobs are available to them.

"We would definitely not move them as the community that they are now."

The Premier said applicants had only to apply to Mr. Rickinson for the assistance.

At the same time, Premier Bennett criticized television remarks by Toronto writer and broadcaster Gordon Sinclair who said British Columbia should be ashamed of its treatment of the sect. (See story Page 20).

Mr. Sinclair likened the treatment of Sons of Freedom by B.C. to that accorded the Canadian-born Japanese expelled from their West Coast homes during the Second World War. He said the Bill of Rights should ensure the sect full privileges as citizens.

"Sinclair was completely wrong," the Premier said.

"The Doukhobors received voting rights and full citizenship long before the Bill of Rights. His statements were made without any knowledge of the situation."

City Vote Below '61 Level

A light vote appeared shaping up today as city electors went to the polls in the former Victoria Ballroom, northwest corner of Government and Cormorant.

Early voting patterns indicated about 30 per cent of the 20,452 eligible voters were casting ballots—bringing an urgent appeal from civic officials for more citizens to take the trouble to vote.

Polls remain open until 8 tonight and transportation is available in a car pool for those otherwise unable to get to the Victoria Ballroom. Phone numbers for transportation are EV 4-8331 and EV 3-8116.

First to cast a ballot was J. Targett, 166 Joseph Street, a night clerk at the nearby Westholme Hotel who waited for the polling station doors to open at 8 a.m.

RATIO LOWER

Total of 240 votes were cast in the first hour compared with 394 last year when the mayoralty race brought a 49.1 per cent turnout.

By noon the count had grown to 1,648 compared with 2,764 in 1961 at the same hour.

The vote will decide fate of a $950,000 Centennial Victoria Squares bylaw. Seven candidates are running for four aldermanic seats and three candidates are trying for two school trustee seats.

Columbia 'Shot Down' To Shield Peace Cost

(Times News Service)

OTTAWA—The British Columbia government has "downgraded" the Columbia River project to divert attention from the higher power costs of its pet Peace River scheme in the north, Gen. A. G. L. McNaughton suggested Wednesday night.

"I can't prove it but, looked at logically, that is what happened," he told a group of senators and members of Parliament.

"The sooner the treaty is decisively rejected the better for all concerned including the United States," he told the informal group of about 35 legislators. He had been invited to give them his views on the treaty.

The treaty was so embarrassingly one-sided in favor of the Americans that a good many of them were "red-faced about this bare-faced deal."

OTTAWA (UPI) — Prime Minister John Diefenbaker said today no deadline has been set for British Columbia to agree to the terms of the Columbia River Power Development Treaty.

He said the pact, if approved by Canada, would be "very damaging" to Canada's control of its resources.

Warming to his subject before the receptive group, which met in the Liberal caucus room, he also said the treaty constituted a deprivation of Canadian rights and would perpetuate in a vicious form a servitude of Canadian soveignty granted to the U.S. by the treaty.

"If this treaty goes through, we lose a kingdom—no, an empire," he told the meeting, which was attended by Liberal and New Democrat MPs and one Social Credit MP (H. A. Olson, Medicine Hat).

Gen. McNaughton, who was chief Columbia advisor to the Canadian government until he retired last spring with cries of "sell-out," blamed the B.C. government for the "improvident" deal.

In reply to a question by Arthur Laing (Lib—Vancouver South), he said the real "break-

Macmillan Under Fire

LONDON (Reuters)—Prime Minister Macmillan today faced a barrage of questions in Parliament about the future of the U.S. Skybolt missile and promised Britain will maintain its independent nuclear deterrent "if we are able to do so."

He told Labor opposition members who questioned the effectiveness of a British deterrent, in the light of U.S. doubts about Skybolt: "As President Kennedy has stated, no decision has been made."

Macmillan said he planned to discuss in detail the Skybolt question with President Kennedy next week in Nassau.

"I wish to go into all aspects of this matter and I hope as soon as possible to make a statement," the prime minister said.

Teachers, Newsmen On Strike

ROME (UPI) — Newsmen and school teachers joined a pre-Christmas strike wave today, leaving Italy without newspapers or magazines and children without classes.

The newsmen went on strike for eight days, the teachers for two.

Red Cross workers also started a 48-hour strike, and metal and paper workers went into the second day of their two-day walkouts.

Some telephone workers planned to strike Friday for one day. Bar and cafe workers scheduled a weekend work stoppage.

Ex-Soviet Spy Draws Jail Term

NEW YORK (AP)—Mark Zborowski, a former Soviet secret agent, today was sentenced to three years and 11 months in prisonment for perjury before a federal grand jury about his activities.

Judge Richard H. Levet passed sentence on the 55-year-old one-time Harvard University researcher who was convicted in a retrial last month.

He was convicted of the same offence in 1958 and given a five-year prison sentence. That conviction was reversed a year later by an appeals court.

Sunday Movies Out for Victoria

Victorians who applauded Vancouver voters' decisive approval Wednesday of Sunday movies will never have a chance to register their feelings at the polls under present provincial legislation.

The Vancouver referendum—which passed 67,006 to 35,565—was possible only because the mainland city has its own charter. (See story page 3.)

Victoria city council could not ask its citizens how they felt about Sunday movies even if the aldermen wanted to—the B.C. Municipal Act forbids it everywhere in the province except Vancouver.

The referendum virtually assures an "open" Sunday for Vancouver—citizens approved Sunday sports some time ago—under which movies, operas, concerts and other cultural entertainment will be allowed after 1:30 p.m.

Florida Cold Snap 'Worst of Century'

LAKELAND, Fla. (AP)—A cold wave called the worst in the century blasted into Florida today and dealt a killing blow to the state's lush orange, grapefruit and tangerine groves.

Vegetables which escaped the earlier Arctic wave were blackened and withered by 30 mile-an-hour north winds pouring down into the state Wednesday night and today.

Robert W. Rutledge, general manager of Florida Citrus Mutual, said a preliminary survey indicated the industry "suffered the worst freeze of this century."

The citrus belt outside the lower east coast area lost more fruit than in the bad winter of 1957-58, Rutledge said.

In north Florida, the temperature plunged to 10 degrees at Tallahassee, the coldest weather since the big freeze of 1889 which started migration of people from the upper parts of the peninsula down into the warmer southern tip.

Extreme south Florida was more fortunate, with temperatures remaining above freezing.

Friendship Dollars for India

'We Live Like Kings Compared With Them'

Contributions ranging all the way from 40 cents to $25 swelled The Times "Friendship Dollars for India" Fund to $6,108 today.

The 40 cents was saved by a schoolboy out of his weekly allowance and there were three donations of $25—all of them from Victoria residents who wish to be anonymous.

A Victoria College student sent 50 cents and there was an anonymous donation of $5 in memory of the late Dr. J. M. Thomas, a founder of the CCF party and a former high school teacher, who died last Monday.

"We should all give according to our needs," wrote a Victoria widow with four children. "We are a poor family and I have to work to keep the children at school. But we live like kings compared with those starving people in India."

She enclosed a $2 bill.

Many people feel this way about The Times annual fund and all contributions, great or small, are welcome. They may be sent to "Friendship Dollars for India," c/o The Times, 2631 Douglas, or left at the Bank of Montreal, Yates and Douglas.

An acknowledgement will be made in the news columns of this paper, with or without the name of the sender as desired.

An official receipt will be sent for income tax purposes by the Unitarian Services Committee, which puts the friendship dollars to work in India. (See list of donors on page 14.)

THIS WORLD OF OURS

People and Things

(Times News Services)

WASHINGTON (CP)—Reporters, who had been trying to learn from presidential aides what President Kennedy thinks about the numerous mimics of his voice and mannerisms, went to the top for their story Wednesday.

At the president's press conference, a question was put.

"Mr. President," the questioner said, "it has been a long time since a president and his family have been subjected to such a heavy barrage of teasing and fun-poking and satire. There have been books . . . and cartoons with clever sayings, and photo albums and the rest, and now there is a smash hit record. Can you tell us whether you read and listen to these things, and whether they produce annoyment or enjoyment?"

The answer:

"Annoyment. Yes, I have read them and listened to them and actually I listened to Mr. Meader's record, but I thought it sounded more like Kennedy's brother Teddy than it did me, so he's annoyed."

The president's reference was to Vaughan Meader, a comedian whose record The First Family has sold copies by the hundreds of thousands. He imitates the president on the record.

Earlier, it was learned that the use of a Meader recording to promote a Washington radio station caused a flurry in the Kennedy administration last weekend. The voice was taken off the air before the White House could deliver a formal protest.

Election Fever Stirs Ottawa After Pay Rise

By ALEX YOUNG
Times Ottawa Bureau

OTTAWA — A mild election fever is stirring Ottawa again as parliament approaches its holiday recess.

Observers are seeing signs daily which they think indicate the next federal election could well be in the cards for late March or early April.

One of the most convincing indicators was the government announcement Monday that some 65,000 civil servants would get their long-awaited pay increases, which had been frozen by the government's emergency economy program.

The announcement represented a change in government policy on the way it planned to go about easing the emergency program. The government had said import surcharges would be lifted before it could grant the pay raises, but the salary revision came while five-sixths of the surcharges remained in effect.

Big CS Vote Considered

The change in approach, observers believed, could only result from consideration of the substantial civil service vote.

Wednesday there was an electoral kind of enthusiasm as Progressive Conservative members of parliament and senators held their last caucus before the Dec. 20 holiday recess.

Rousing cheers and applause punctuated the 90-minute closed doors meeting. The demonstration was for Prime Minister John Diefenbaker, marking observance of the sixth anniversary of his assumption of the Conservative party leadership.

There were rumors the demonstration was planned to counter reports that widespread discontent with Mr. Diefenbaker's leadership existed within the party, especially with another federal election anticipated in the near future.

In speculating on an early election, observers feel there's a good chance the prime minister will dissolve the House during the holiday recess, which starts Dec. 20 and is supposed to end with resumption of the session on Jan. 21.

Liberal Help Offer Refused

One supporting factor in this speculation is the government's refusal to take advantage of a Liberal opposition offer to expedite government business; by accepting such an offer the government would be unable to continue complaining that the opposition was obstructing progressive legislation and would have no excuse to dissolve parliament for an election.

There is no doubt that MPs from all four parties are finding the session not only unproductive but frustrating as well. In corridor and coffee shop conversations their minds are turning more and more to support of the theory that the only way to get the legislature back into effective operation is to hold an election and thus try to get free of the hobbles of minority government.

The Liberals are convinced the prime minister is thinking of an election as close as possible to March 31—the date in 1958 on which he achieved the greatest political victory in Canadian history. The closest possible election dates are March 25 and April 8.

Tories aren't that specific on dates. But it is no secret that national Tory headquarters is expanding its space in Ottawa and apparently is girding itself for a big publicity push.

'CANADIENS' TO GET MORE TOP POSTS

OTTAWA (CP) — A recommendation calling for more French-Canadian civil servants in higher levels of government administration will be considered by a committee of cabinet ministers, Prime Minister Diefenbaker said in the Commons Wednesday.

Coalition Gov't For N. Rhodesia

LUSAKA, Northern Rhodesia (AP)—Northern Rhodesia's two major Negro-nationalist parties announced agreement Wednesday night on a coalition to give this mineral-rich British protectorate its first Negro government.

Kenneth Kaunda, leader of the United National Independence Party, said there would be "an African government in Northern Rhodesia within 48 hours."

Kaunda conferred earlier with the leader of UNIP's coalition partner, Harry Nkumbula of the African National Congress, and Sir Evelyn Hone, Northern Rhodesia's governor.

Nkumbula's party issued a statement saying its ruling council had decided to form a coalition government with its once bitter rival, UNIP, and that Nkumbula had been authorized to negotiate details.

The two Negro parties together have won a majority of the legislative seats thus far decided in the first election under the complicated voting procedures of Northern Rhodesia's new constitution.

OPPOSED CONSTITUTION

Negroes had opposed the constitution on the ground it assured the white minority a large representation even though Northern Rhodesia's whites number 75,000 compared with 2,500,000 Negroes.

With two rounds of voting completed, Kaunda's party has won 14 seats and Nkumbula's seven. Sir Roy Welensky's white-dominated United Federal Party has 16.

Eight seats remain undecided because none of the candidates contesting them managed to get the required minimum vote from each of the racial groups. However, if the deadlock on these seats is broken, they almost certainly will go to Negroes.

Welensky is prime minister of the central African federation, made up of Northern and Southern Rhodesia and Nyasaland.

Strike Halts Savannah's First Voyage

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The nuclear-powered Savannah, proudest member of the U.S. merchant marine, has finally reached Los Angeles harbor—backward, and pushed by tugs.

She got as far as nearby Long Beach on a maiden voyage and was halted there Nov. 30 by a strike of engineers.

Tugs pushed her across the harbor backward to save a time-consuming turnaround to the berth where she is to go on view for visitors Thursday through Sunday.

Engineers were reported to be planning to cool off the Savannah's reactor. No progress was reported in wage talks.

The maritime editor of the Baltimore Sun, Helen Delich Bentley, said that members of the Marine Engineers Beneficial Association (AFL-CIO) said they would start shutting the reactor down Friday. The process takes 72 hours.

The ship's 29 engineers and trainees resigned because they said their pay was pegged to that of other ship's officers—and should be higher, because of the specialized tasks involved.

Canada Takes Hard Line At Oil Talks

Times Ottawa Bureau

OTTAWA — Canada-U.S. oil talks opened today with Canadian representatives taking a hard line against any restrictions on entry of Canadian oil to the U.S. market.

Trade Minister George Hees, head of the Canadian team, made his government's position celar. He said:

"We consider the continuation of the overland exemption (exemption from restrictive quotas set by the U.S.) to be of vital importance to Canada," he said.

The meetings were expected to take only one day, but the U.S. group, said Mr. Hees, had requested Canadian spokesmen to keep Friday clear just in case another day of talks was needed.

The Americans, headed by G. Grififfth Johnson, assistant state secretary for economic affairs, had no public statements to make as they joined the Canadian representatives in a parliamentary committee room for the closed-door talks.

It was understood, however, that they would be presenting details of President Kennedy's new oil import policy. No suggestion was to be made that Canadian oil should be subject to a restrictive quota, but they were prepared to express concern about Canadian oil exports to the region of the U.S. east of the rockies.

Thant Takes Action On Katanga Boycott

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (UPI)—Secretary General Thant asked Katanga's biggest copper and cobalt customers to impose a boycott to force Moise Tshombe to end his provincial secession from The Congo.

With the boycott letters en route, the general assembly's budgetary committee faced a critical vote on compulsory payment of peacekeeping costs that may be necessary to finance the Congo operation if Tshombe's secession is not ended soon.

The secretary general acted only a day after he informed Tshombe that he would act if the premier did not quickly fall into line and put his province's minerals and the revenues from their production under the central Leopoldville government.

It was learned that Thant's letters "to the powers principally concerned" went out Tuesday night and Wednesday.

They were understood to have been addressed to Belgium, Britain, the United States and West Germany, the biggest buyers of the minerals on which Katanga depends.

Thant summoned his 20-nation Congo advisory committee to a meeting Thursday afternoon to discuss the next move.

CUBA PUTS SHOES UNDER RATIONING

HAVANA (Reuters)—Shoes in Cuba were rationed Wednesday, with priority being given to workers and schoolchildren in the Havana area.

The move, announced by the interior trade ministry, follows a shortage of footwear in the area where it had been almost impossible to buy any kind of outdoor shoes in recent months.

The announcement said shoe sales should be made first to "workers and school students according to the priority given for their purchase by work centres and school councils."

The new rationing measure does not affect women's dress shoes, sandals or baby booties, which will be sold on presentation of ordinary ration books.

JFK Leaves No Doubt U.S. to Drop Skybolt

By HAROLD JOHNSON

WASHINGTON (CP) — President Kennedy says engineering required to make the Skybolt work is of a kind that has been "beyond us." But he is sure Britain will play a significant role as a nuclear power even if the ballistic missile is scrapped.

Emphasizing that no final decision on the 1,000-mile-range bomber weapon will be taken until he meets Prime Minister Macmillan in the Bahamas next week, Kennedy made clear Wednesday that he does not think there is much point in continuing development of the Skybolt, which failed its first five tests. Britain is depending heavily on the Skybolt to extend the life of the British nuclear bomber force.

"The problem with the Skybolt is that it is the most sophisticated weapon imaginable," Kennedy told a press conference. "To fire a missile from a plane moving at high speed to hit a target 1,000 miles away requires the most advanced engineering and, of course, it has been really, in a sense, the kind of engineering that's been beyond us."

The U.S. has put $500,000,000 into development of the Skybolt and completion of the system as well as acquisition of the weapons would cost about $2,500,000,000. With other projects competing for the American budget, Kennedy questioned whether the project is worth the money.

Without the Skybolt, Britain's nuclear strike power will be vastly reduced. But with the rapid expansion of its own nuclear missile strength, the U.S. now is reported to have concluded Britain's nuclear capabilities no longer are essential as a strategic deterrent against Russia.

New U.S. Curbs on Cuba Shipping

Kennedy also said the U.S. will issue new regulations within two weeks to discourage the flow of international commercial shipping to Cuba. At the same time the U.S. will maintain daily surveillance to make sure no nuclear weapons are introduced on the island.

That was the president's initial response to Soviet Premier Khrushchev's warning that Russia will safeguard Cuban sovereignty and will take appropriate steps if Kennedy fails to abide by a pledge not to invade Cuba.

Kennedy told reporters the U.S. position is unchanged from Nov. 20 when he said he could give no assurances against invasion of Cuba until the Communists agree to international inspection of Cuban territory. Negotiations on that point are continuing at the United Nations but State Secretary Dean Rusk has indicated the outlook for agreement is bleak.

While displaying an uncompromising attitude on Cuba, Kennedy said he is negotiating to establish "instantaneous" communications with Khrushchev. The two leaders had to rely several times on open broadcasts during the Cuban crisis because normal coding procedures slowed their message transmissions.

"In a nuclear age speed is very desirable," Kennedy said. The new set-up may be either a telephone or teletype—a form of typewritten transmission—which the president suggested might be safer.

QUESTIONED ON ADLAI

The heaviest bombardment of questions at the conference on the Adlai Stevenson affair and Kennedy's part in it.

The president denied that the White House either initiated or helped prepare the Saturday Evening Post article which accused Stevenson of desiring a "Munich" during the Cuban crisis. Again praising Stevenson's work as U.S. ambassador at the UN, Kennedy said he is satisfied the reference to Stevenson's views did not come from any member of the National Security Council — the president's highest advisory body.

'Let U.S. Decide'

LONDON (Reuters)—The controversy over the future of the Skybolt missile project was the subject of lively comment in the British press again today—including a plea from the Manchester Guardian to let the United States make its own decision.

Under the headline Putting Skybolt Too High, a Guardian editorial suggests the U.S. Navy's Polaris missile is the best available weapon if Britain insists on a separate deterrent.

The Liberal newspaper reminds Britons the Skybolt "is an American program and has been entirely financed from Washington."

MUST HAVE FREEDOM

"The Americans must have the freedom to take a complex decision about an expensive project without feeling that they are damaging Anglo-American relations," the Guardian says.

The editorial says that for Britain "to switch to Polaris between 1965 and 1968 — rather than to prolong the V-bombers with Skybolt until 1970 or 1972 —will be safer, more effective, and in the end probably cheaper."

A front-page story in The Daily Telegraph says growing signs that U.S. defence secretary Robert McNamara is "determined to scrap the Skybolt" have "cast a shadow over normally close Anglo-American defence relations."

The Telegraph's defence correspondent says: "America is not believed to have asked Britain to put up a very substantial amount of money if she wants to keep the Skybolt going."

CONCERTED POLICY

The Daily Express declares: "There seems to be a concerted American policy, planned by some over-all authority, to deny nuclear power to Britain."

CANADIAN PUBLISHER Roy Thomson today was made a commander of the Royal Order of the Phoenix. In his London office Mr. Thomson received the decoration from Michel Melas, Greek ambassador to Britain. Melas said the Thomson papers have consistently maintained a "friendly attitude" toward Greece.

6 Negroes Killed In S. Africa Riot

PRETORIA, South Africa (Reuters) — Six Negroes were killed Wednesday when white police opened fire on them during a clash in the Transkei territory, Police Commissioner Lt.-Gen. J. M. Keevy said today.

Keevy said more than 60 Negroes attacked a police mobile unit with spears and battle axes when the police tried to close an illegal meeting. Shots were heard and stones were thrown at the police, Keevy said.

Three policemen were injured, one "fairly seriously."

New Vancouver Mayor Promises 'Streamlining'

VANCOUVER (CP) — William Rathie, who once owned a laundry and a trucking firm, and is out to streamline city hall, swept in Wednesday as mayor of Vancouver.

Mr. Rathie, 48, a city alderman for four years, piled up votes almost from the start to dump veteran Alderman Halford Wilson and two other candidates who never were in the running.

At the same time, voters gave a decided "yes" vote to a stepped-up Sunday. They favored Sunday movies, plays, concerts and opera after 1:30 p.m. and in the evening.

Dumped as hard as the livelier Sunday was favored were two money bylaws that would have cost taxpayers more than $6,000,000 for the purchase of two tracts of private land to be used in park development.

A third referendum asked if voters would let the city make a grant of $250,000 to help expand the city's aquarium in Stanley Park. When vote-counting stopped early today, voters appeared to say they did.

TURNOUT HIGH

Figures on the turnout were not immediately available, but early predictions said they would exceed 40 per cent. There was a record 55 per cent vote in 1934 when the late Senator G. G. (Gerry) McGeer took over as mayor from L. D. Taylor.

There were 119,933 property owners and 121,273 tenants eligible to vote Wednesday. Homeowners only could vote on the bylaw questions, which needed a 60 per cent majority to pass.

When counting was completed, Mr. Rathie had 58,638 votes, Mr. Wilson, 41,600, contractor Albert Dunn 2,174 and food merchant Edward Moxey 1,783.

Mr. Rathie succeeds Mayor Tom Alsbury, who relinquished his post recently to take a job at the University of B.C.

Mr. Rathie promised "substantial streamlining" at city hall. He said homeowners are "fed up" with increased taxes and "it's time we cut them down and re-evaluated the situation."

MADE PREVIOUS TRY

Mr. Wilson, 57, a contractor, has been an alderman for 21 years. He ran unsuccessfully against Senator McGeer for the mayor's job in 1946.

Mr. Wilson and Mr. Rathie fought a hectic and, at times, bitter campaign which often became entangled with the issues of next Monday's provincial by-election in Vancouver Point Grey.

Also at stake in Wednesday's election here were the seats of five councillors, five school trustees and four park commissioners. The strong Non-Partisen Association candidates, 15 in all, appeared assured of election.

For a time lawyer Harry Rankin, supported by the Communist newspaper Pacific Tribune, was gnawing at a council seat, but late Wednesday he dropped to sixth place.

One pre-election notable did not make it to the polls. Wahoo Brent, a three-year-old Pomeranian dog that somehow got on the voter's list, failed to show.

Clerks had been warned to stop him at the door.

Black Boxes of Little Use

GENEVA (Reuters) — The United States told Russia today that the Soviet "black box" proposal to police a nuclear test ban was clearly a move to get the West to abandon insistence on on-site inspection.

Russia has proposed that three unmanned automatic seismic stations — the so-called black boxes—be placed on Soviet territory for the detection and identification of suspicious seismic events under a test ban treaty.

Arthur Dean, chief American delegate to the 17-nation disarmament conference's three-power nuclear test ban subcommittee, said the locations specified by Russia for two of the three were "not actually in seismic areas."

"Sites seem to have been chosen so as to give a minimum amount of seismic information," Dean said.

NO UNMANNED STATION

Dean said the U.S. understood there was as yet no prototype of an unmanned seismic station and none had been tested in the field.

"The Soviet Union had led us to believe that its placement of three stations in seismic areas of the Soviet Union would be a solution to all of our problems," Dean said, "but in fact the Russians had not gone as far as they claimed."

Both the Yakutsk station in the Far East and the Kokchetav station in central Asia would be relatively poor locations for clearly recording events, he said.

Grain for China

SOME OF THE FINANCIAL AND all the political facts of Canada's grain sales to Communist China have been revealed by a recent debate in Parliament. The main fact is that the Canadian government will sell all the wheat possible wherever it can get hard cash.

By its current agreement with China the government guarantees to deliver up to 187.6 million bushels of wheat and 46.7 million bushels of barley to China by December, 1963. It refuses to disclose the price of this grain but says that so far China has not defaulted on any agreed payment in convertible sterling currency.

Mr. Alvin Hamilton, minister of agriculture and the Conservative Party's manager on the prairies, has tried to play a little crude politics in this business by saying that the Liberal Party is opposed to it. If the farmers can be persuaded that Mr. Pearson is against grain exports to any market they are likely to vote against his candidates. Or so Mr. Hamilton hopes.

Mr. Pearson was so disturbed by Mr. Hamilton's speeches that he rose in Parliament to deny them flatly. By quoting his former statements he showed that he had never opposed the sale of any non-strategic goods to China or other Communist countries.

He warned the government, however, and rightly, that so long as Communism maintains its cold war this kind of business cannot be "a sound foundation for permanent and expanding trade relations which will be mutually profitable. With this cautionary qualification regarding trade with Communist countries like China, I repeat that we most certainly do need all the expansion of trade we can possibly get, and where we can get it."

For the present China wants our grain and will pay hard money for it but we may be sure that its imports will not continue if it masters the food shortage which marks the Great Leap Backward.

Mr. Hamilton evidently fears a future drop in this business. He has suggested that the grain farmers contribute part of their earnings to a fund which would protect them collectively from any losses incurred on credit sales like those negotiated with China. This proposal naturally alarmed the farmers, endangered the government's prairie vote and caused Mr. Diefenbaker to repudiate his minister of agriculture without delay. Mr. Hamilton explains, rather lamely, that he was only throwing out a personal idea for the farmers' consideration.

His second idea, no more popular than the first, is that the farmers should set up their own organization to promote grain exports, even though the government maintains a huge selling apparatus under the Wheat Board.

In British Columbia these questions may not seem important but to the nation they are very important indeed. Grain is still one of Canada's major exports and hard currency earners at a time when it is running a huge trade deficit. And we may be sure that if the farmers cannot sell their crops the taxpayers of all provinces, including British Columbia, will have to subsidize them. Grain is everybody's business because the state and only the state is allowed to sell it.

For the present, despite some American criticism, Canada has every right to sell grain wherever it can find markets. For our refusal to sell to China would not alter its aggressive foreign policy in the least. Somehow its armies will be fed even if the civilians go hungry.

But if, after the existing ceasefire on the Indian border, China resumes its invasion and a major war against a peaceful India is renewed, then Canada will certainly have to reconsider its grain policy, whether it is a military factor or not. Under those conditions it would be a moral factor which this nation could not conscientiously dodge.

Universal Control for Drugs

CANADA IS TO HAVE A SPECIAL parliamentary committee to review the laws and practices concerning the introduction, marketing and use of drugs in this country.

Arrangements for such a group have been announced by Health and Welfare Minister J. Waldo Monteith. This is a good move, as far as it goes. But it does not go far enough. Controls over such preparations must be more than national in extent—more even than continental.

Many nations do, or can, produce drugs of various sorts and of different properties. Some of them may be adequately tested before use. Some of them obviously would not be thoroughly researched. The tragedies of thalidomide prove that point.

Moreover, with modern methods of transportation, drugs unacceptable to a certain country could be placed in the hands of that country's nationals innocently by returning travellers.

Under these circumstances more than national control is required. This, it seems, is a subject for a branch of the World Health Organization whose workers could establish standards of safety and conduct tests.

A national study is valuable in itself. But it cannot be as valuable as one undertaken universally. The problem is not one for the people of a single country alone but for everyone.

A Different Pattern

EXPERTS HAVE BEEN STUDYing snowflakes in various parts of the country. They conclude that Montreal snow is different from that which falls in most other places. It seems that the Montreal snow crystals are put together haphazardly, instead of in the orderly pattern of most snowflakes. Lower temperature is said to be the cause.

We suggest to the experts that a study farther west might reveal other interesting facts. In Victoria, for instance, the snow falls in the form of small, round, wet, transparent globules, drips off the roses into the green grass and disappears.

FROM LONDON — By NORA BELOFF

In a Troubled and Divided Frame of Mind

MR. HAROLD MACMILLAN departs in a few days on what may well be his last overseas tour as Prime Minister of Britain, in a troubled and divided frame of mind. His first call at the end of this week will be on General de Gaulle (Dec. 15), and a few days later he will meet President Kennedy in the Bahamas.

He has felt too weary to fly on to Ottawa, as Mr. Diefenbaker had suggested, and, instead, has persuaded his Commonwealth colleague to join him in Nassau immediately after President Kennedy leaves.

The end of Mr. Macmillan's political career is certainly approaching: many Conservatives are publicly saying that new leadership is required. If he prefers to precipitate elections while still in control, it seems hardly possible that he could win them.

There is no doubt that the Prime Minister would like to leave behind him at least a firm British commitment to Europe, and would also be happy if he could revive the "Entente Cordiale" with his old wartime friend General de Gaulle. But he is also deeply aware of the dangers of the international arms race and wholly out of sympathy with the General's nationalist aspirations.

In fact he cannot, on the one hand, endorse the Gaullist independent nuclear deterrent (which, on the accepted principle of non-discrimination would mean admitting the Germans, too, into full nuclear partnership); and, on the other hand, insist on slowing down the arms race, limiting the proliferation of nuclear weapons, and perhaps reviving the old "Eden plan" for a demilitarized zone in Central Europe—now being urged by the Russians at Geneva.

Come to Terms

In government circles, it is true the pressures are all for coming to terms with General de Gaulle and for bringing Britain into the European Community as quickly as politically possible. Yet the Prime Minister's left-wing critics are surely doing him an injustice when they suggest—as the New Statesman did recently—that he plans to give the General nuclear bombs as Britain's price for admission into the EEC.

It is certainly true that the signature of the Rome Treaty may lead, at a later stage, to a joint European defence system including a single European nuclear deterrent. But this would not be Mr. Macmillan's personal choice. In fact no European leader is more profoundly disturbed by the risks of the nuclear arms race than the British Prime Minister—perhaps because none of them knows as much as he does of the ultimate horror and total destructive potential of the new weapons.

His immediate friends say that it has become almost an obsession with him and in private conversation he constantly reverts to it. He is reported to have said after the Cuban crisis that he had not felt so near to war since 1945.

There was always the risk of a breakdown in communication between the Kremlin and the men on the spot, and the impression prevailed here that any nuclear exchange would inevitably have escalated into world war. The RAF has already worked out with the American Air Force how they would share targets on the Soviet mainland and Britain itself could hardly have survived a nuclear conflict between the two big Powers.

Unswerving Conviction

Mr. Macmillan shares with Britain's other party leaders the unswerving conviction that within the present balance of forces this island can only be defended within the wider Atlantic partnership. But he shares a prevailing British apprehension that the arms race is now getting out of control.

As a key British official put it to me this week, most of us agree we are now comparable to dinosaurs—faced with extinction because our evolutionary processes have failed to adjust to the new thermonuclear world.

The Prime Minister has learned by experience that he cannot play the role of "honest broker" to improve relations between the two big nuclear Powers, without compromising his status inside the Western Alliance. But after the Cuban jolt he and some of his closest advisers were still wishing they could initiate some new move towards breaking the East-West deadlock.

Inside the Geneva Conference on test ban and disarmament, and within the four-Power planning group (Britain, France, Germany and the U.S.) on Berlin, the British have consistently urged the most (and the French the least) flexibility and restraint.

Was there anything more Britain could do? Some people among the Prime Minister's friends were believed to be toying with the idea that if the test ban talks went well Britain might contribute towards reduced tension by sponsoring a new move against any further spread of nuclear weapons. This, they felt, might be achieved by some self-denial ordinance against maintaining a British deterrent.

Both British opposition parties, Labor and Liberal, publicly oppose Britain's retaining any national deterrent, but the Conservative Party has always insisted that Britain must retain its own nuclear weapons in self-defence.

But aside from the controversial nuclear issue, there is growing exasperation in the Defence Ministry and among leading British industrialists of American efforts to produce all sophisticated arms themselves and then compel the Europeans to "buy American."

Whether or not there can be a European nuclear force, there is growing sympathy for the idea of a joint European armaments pool, rationalizing production and sharing markets so that European manufacturers could hold their own against the giant American firms.

Military Potential

The supersonic jet liner, itself designed for civilian use but with obvious military potential, which the French and British have just agreed to build together, is an indication of a trend which will soon extend also to armaments.

All this emphasis on increasing build-up of Western strength and coming to terms with General de Gaulle, who boycotted the disarmament meeting and demanded total intransigence on Berlin, may seem very far from Mr. Macmillan's own inner conviction that the Western Alliance must do something to reverse the arms race before it is too late.

But the political and economic pressures from inside his party are all in the other direction, and General de Gaulle can expect a reasonably pliant visitor at Rambouillet this week.

As Our Readers See It

'Pray for the Souls'

Everyone is now preparing for Christmas. On December 25 we all celebrate the birth of Christ.

Let us all try to remember what Christ stands for—love, peace on earth, good will towards men. How can we achieve peace on earth? By realizing we are all our brother's keeper.

As long as discrimination is present we are not a whole people, whether organized in cemetery associations, country clubs or churches, when we discriminate against fellow men, dead or alive, black or white, red or yellow, Gentile or Jew, Catholic or Protestant.

And in these times of national peril we must be a whole people or perish. So let us all on Christmas Eve pray for the souls of the bigotted and the shallow, the shameful and the shamed.

Only then can we have a Merry Christmas.

Amalgamation

Equality in amalgamation is an idle dream. Give and take is the case. Like all marriages, we share both the debits and credits—the assets and liabilities. So has it always been, so will it always be.

Amalgamation is more than physical. it's a state of mind. And we either have it or we don't. For amalgamation is the catalyst to change two differing areas into one without changing itself.

The areas concerned can never be equal—only united in their inequality. And in unity there is strength!

A Widow's Plight

I am not asking charity or a handout—just a square deal. Today and for a couple of months now I have been hounded and pushed so far I think it is time the public was made aware of a few things that go on unpublicized. And I know I am not alone in my misery—there are other similar women going through the same "hell on earth" just because we are women alone with families.

I am a widow with a daughter, 10, and I moved to Victoria 17 months ago from Nanaimo hoping that, it being a bigger city, there would be more opportunity to make a decent, comfortable living. What a dream!

Out of the 17 months I have managed seven months' steady employment at sufficient income. Six months of that was at the Empress this summer. As is customary there, and which seems to be customary in all decent waitress jobs, we are laid off for the winter. I have found that unless you have been on a job for several years, that is what happens every winter in the better-class dining rooms. And those that have managed to live to acquire that seniority are usually women with "well" employed husbands!

My wages and gratuities for those six months went to buy winter clothes, a few necessary appliances and pay as many old debts as possible.

I rented a house with extra rooms hoping to insure my winter income by renting those rooms and two of them are still vacant.

All the creditors I was unable to pay completely have hounded me day after day by mail, phone and collectors, refusing to believe that we are trying to live on approximately $100 per month.

Today I received a notice from the B.C. Hydro saying my lights would be turned off at this address because of an old outstanding gas bill from last winter when I was unemployed and on welfare, I was "roped into" signing for the gas in the first place by an enterprising landlord taking advantage of my position.

True, I have one extravagance—a cheap second-hand TV that doesn't work because it needs a new picture tube, which I purchased for my little girl for this foul weather we have been having.

I have been waiting to hear from job applications that I have had in for a month in various places that I understand pay sufficient wages, with no answer as yet.

I hesitate to go to the Welfare, it's doubtful they would help when I manage $100. And they made me feel like such a parasite last year I don't know that my nerves would take it again. They seem to have two classes for women in my position, neither one good, and they take the attitude that if you can't make ends meet on what they give you, you are not trying. I know some women do live on it and I also know how, but I still want to be able to face myself in a mirror when I put on my lipstick.

I opened an account for additional furniture for my rooms to rent but am going to have to send it back because I can't keep up the payments. Then I stand even less chance of renting my rooms and reducing my living expenses.

Now, I ask you, what way out is there for women in my status? I like my work very much and consider it a profession after spending 15 years at it. But I find here that doesn't mean a thing. Any friend of the manager who wants extra money can get the job. It isn't what you know or what you are—it's who you kow and who you are.

And I consider it a most deplorable state of affairs for women alone trying to keep honest, respectable and comfortable. And surely, when we have been raised in a country we have a right to choose where we wish to live in it. I was told last year by a landlord that I owed rent, that I should never have been allowed in Victoria when I didn't have a job or money. Is that the attitude of prosperous Victorians to working people? And do the merchants and business people think the workers pick their money off the holly trees?

I asked the U.I.C. for a course in something to improve my employment possibilities and I was told I was too old for anything but hairdressing.

I know this may all sound fantastic but I can swear it's all true. Incidentally, I am 46.

If you consider making this public please omit names as I do have to work and I find frankness and truth are not completely acceptable. No legal action, mind you, but a coolness and unwelcomeness by acquaintances.

More Appalling Than Any Previous Turn of Human History

By ALISTAIR COOKE, from Santa Barbara, Cal.

IN the next decade, two-thirds of the human race is most likely to stagger along the road from increasing poverty to "social unrest, through chaos to dictatorship, possibly of the Communist Party, more probably of generals and colonels."

For the rest of us, the lucky industrialized nations, the prospect is hardly less grim, for unless we "break out of the ideological prison of our nationalist and militarist culture, we may find ourselves compelled by the military consequences of our science and technology to descend into the steel and concrete dungeons of total and totalitarian civil defence."

This was the grey outlook offered to 120 philosophers, scientists, and writers by Aldous Huxley, peering down the beautiful mountains and beyond the offshore islands, to "The Prospects For Democracy, 1963-73." That is the title of a weekend symposium which has brought to the lush retreat of the Centre for the Study of Democratic Institutions (the secular monastery of the Fund for the Republic) such distinguished doubledomes as Justice William Douglas of the Supreme Court, Mr. Paul Hoffman of the Marshall Plan and the United Nations, Dr. Harrison Brown of "The Next Hundred Years," Sir Robert Watson-Watt of radar, and Dr. Jonas Salk of the immortal vaccine.

The company, though appallingly brainy, was cheerful to the point of perkiness in the hot December sun. The setting was Elysian. The eucalyptus and the pepper trees gave off their charming smells, but the air was heavy with the scent of doom.

This may well be because the keynote was struck by Mr. Huxley, a pale spectral figure bravely reading through a magnifying glass a couple of inches away from his manuscript. After his regretful account of the world's reproductive mania today, and his brief inspection of the dungeons we are about to retire to, this conference had nowhere to go but up. But if cheerfulness dared to break in, it had to be armed with solid facts to refute or charm away the legions of horrid statistics that Mr. Huxley massed for his jeremiad.

Item: In the last 50 years, science has found cheap methods of halving the infant and adult mortality rates, but birth rates remain as high as ever. Accordingly, while it took about sixteen hundred years, from the beginning of the Christian era to the Pilgrim Fathers, for our planet to double a population of 250 millions, today "the world's population stands at 3,000 millions. By the year 2000, unless something appallingly bad or miraculously good should happen in the interval, 6,000 millions of us will be sitting down to breakfast every morning. In a word, 12 times as many people are destined to double their numbers in one-fortieth of the time."

Item: In the poorest parts of the world, the numbers "are increasing at a rate much higher than the average for the whole species." India will double its people in 28 years, most of Latin America in 23 years.

Item: The underdeveloped countries will accordingly use all their resources to supply "the primary needs of (their) new members . . . available capital may be increased by loans and gifts from abroad; but in a world where the industrialized nations are involved in power politics and an increasingly expensive armaments race there will never be enough foreign aid to make much difference."

Item: This conclusion, which finds the underdeveloped countries declining into worse poverty than they have ever known, is supported by the findings of the World Bank and "foreshadowed by current statistics of the Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations."

Item: "Birth control . . . is expensive, involves the whole adult population and demands . . . forethought and directed willpower." It is unlikely to be "successfully carried out, in time," in the countries that need it most urgently.

In more dogmatic passages, Mr. Huxley maintains that all the poor countries have got from technology is the taunting knowledge, through radio and the cinema, of the affluence of the affluent world. This new knowledge "breeds envious desires" and "high expectations which are doomed to disappointment. From disappointment . . . to widespread social unrest and chaos and the generals . . . the road is short . . .

"The spirit of tyranny was always willing; but its technical and organizational flesh were weak. Today the flesh is as strong as the spirit . . . fifty years ago an armed revolution still had some chance of success. In the context of modern weaponry, a popular uprising is foredoomed." The fateful trend will absorb democratic governments as well as ones admittedly totalitarian in an unrestrained world of "advancing science, the population explosion, the armaments race."

This is where we came in, and it was also where we went out. For the other speakers offered no refutation of Huxley's major premise.

All this would be enjoyably terrifying if it had been presented as a play by Ray Bradbury. It might have been hilarious as a Ustinov satire or a second edition of "Beyond the Fringe." But the relevance of this meeting, not as surmise but as headline news, is sharpened by the truth that here assembled was as brilliant a handful of practical men as any hundred you could gather on the globe; that the facts of the population explosion are undeniable and its immediate consequences more appalling than any previous turn of human history; and that none of our political leaders, fiddling with school and housing plans while the planet chokes, has done more than shudder at the prospect and turn back to his professional obsession with the old alliance, the new rocket and the next election.

OTTAWA — Socred leader Thompson's crack that Parliament is suffering from "boardom" is further evidence that he's a good turner of phrases. Earlier he produced "House of Minorities" to describe this Commons.

The various boards the government is creating (e.g., productivity, economic, Atlantic and industrial) are so nebulous that nobody knows just what they'll do or how they'll do it. So the debates have become a recital of the economic needs of individual MPs' ridings, to the "boardom" of everybody else . . .

Another parliamentary newcomer building a reputation as a phrase-turner is the NDP member from New Westminster, B.C., Barry Mather. Cracks that he imports from the coast are new here, like "Premier Bennett is selling B.C. for a mess of wattage" . . .

John Fisher, erstwhile see-Canada-firster, is bucking for the top executive position in the centennial organization. Dr. Norman MacKenzie, retired university head (UNB-UBC) is president of the Canadian Centenary Council. Fisher, who quit publicizing the scenery to publicize John Diefenbaker, hopes to move from the PM's office to become MacKenzie's top aide—perhaps as general manager or managing director of the centenary . . .

Pete Robertson, the way freight conductor from Kenora who was summoned from his van (railway parlance for caboose) to a seat in the Senate, contributes the quote of the week—about the PM, the man who gave him his $10,000 a year lifetime job:

"He's a great man, always thinking about all of Canada. I mean that, all of Canada" . . .

The PM used to believe he had the vote of the running trades in his pocket, out of gratitude for his legal defence of a railway telegrapher in B.C. years ago who had garbled a message and caused a wreck. Before picking Pete for the Senate, he named Harry Campbell, retired brotherhood official to the Board of Broadcast Governors. Then someone found out Campbell was two years overage at 72, so the PM reached into the hat again for another name: Charles Chambers, a district fire department chief in Toronto. Aside from the fact that firemen vote too, it's just as hard to figure that appointment as the Hon. Pete's . . .

I owe the Winnipeg police an apology for intimating they clobbered a 12-year-old boy in the 1919 strike. The fact is that Harold Winch's career as a radical politician wasn't launched until some 15 years later, when the Vancouver police used their truncheons on him in a sit-down "strike" of unemployed in the Vancouver post office . . .

Works Minister Davie Fulton, leaving to become a Tory Moses in B.C., has been called the best brain in the Diefenbaker cabinet, bar none. This opinion is not widely accepted by his cabinet colleagues . . .

The two-headed Socreds are the strangest animal in the Commons, but right across the way is another odd critter. The NDP has a small head, in diminutive Tommy Douglas, and a big rump of six MPs who are unregenerate CCFers. The rump comprises Bert Herridge, the former CCF-NDP House leader, old socialist Colin Cameron, hell-raisers Frank Howard and Arnold Peters, Murdo Martin, the MP for Timmins-Pigalle, and young rebel Reid Scott of Toronto. The NDP brass hates Hazen Argue and grits its teeth when kindly old Bert Herridge tosses out complimentary references in the Commons to his former leader, now the Liberal MP for Assiniboia.

Socreds Urge 'Positive Action'

OTTAWA (CP) — The Social Credit party Wednesday called on the government "to accelerate positive action at once" in the fields of agriculture and productivity.

A statement issued followed a caucus meeting of the 30 Social Credit MPs also renewed the party's demands for a provincial municipal development bank as part of the Bank of Canada to provide long - term, low-interest funds to municipalities.

The statement said the MPs "are concerned about the lack of action taken by the government respecting legislation that has been passed."

It said many problems facing Canada today are a direct result of lack of action by the government on recommendations placed before it months ago.

The Agricultural Rehabilitation and Development Act and the productivity council could be of benefit.

"The obvious need is for follow-up action by the government. We therefore urge the government to accelerate positive action at once on these facts."

U.S. Urged to Adopt Bold Fiscal Policy

PARIS (AP)—The Organization for Economic Co-operation and Development urged the United States Wednesday to adopt bold fiscal measures—with no concern for budget deficits—to spur the lagging U.S. economy.

The 21 - nation organization said a high and expanding level of activity in the United States is important if the 50-per-cent groweh target of the OECD in the 1960s is to be met. Nineteen nations in Western Europe, plus the United States and Canada, make up the organization.

An OECD report on the economic situation in the United States was released as part of its survey of conditions in each nation. Since none of these reports is prepared without the help and advice of the nation concerned, the Kennedy administration apparently had at least tacitly endorsed the conclusions.

THE LIGHTER SIDE — By DICK WEST

Shhhh!

WASHINGTON (UPI) — We had going simultaneously in the capital recently two hearings on noise abatement.

One of the hearings, conducted by a House commerce sub-committee, sought ways to abate the noise of jet aircraft.

West

The other hearing, conducted by the internal revenue service, sought ways to abate the screams of anguished taxpayers over its new expense account regulations.

The aircraft noise abatement hearing featured a 10-member panel, which discussed noise from various angles. Fortunately, they didn't all try to talk at once, as that would have created a noise abatement problem of a different type.

I stopped by the hearing and listened with abated breath as Charles H. Ruby of the Airline Pilots' Association traced the sound output of planes from the time the engines are turned on until they reach their destinations.

His testimony would be difficult to summarize, but the main point seemed to be that airplanes make more noise with the engines on than with them off.

At any rate, Ruby said that under present conditions it is not possible for airliners to "tippy-toe in and out of airports." True enough, but Ruby's group should at least make sure that none of the pilots wear squeaky shoes.

The noise level at the revenue service hearing was considerably higher than at the aircraft hearing. Several of the tax witnesses had squeaky voices, presumably as a result of squealing with outrage.

Additionally, the audience was composed of taxpayers, and the noise of their blood boiling added to the din.

The petitioners at this hearing were upset over the new rules for deducting the cost of entertainment as a business expense.

They contended that under these regulations dining out on an expense account would require so much bookkeeping that no meal would be complete without a certified public accountant.

A requirement that business be discussed during a business meal came under particularly heavy criticism.

One witness said a restaurant in Chicago was offering tables with built-in tape recorders so that its customers could prove they said what they said they said.

Revenue officials indicated the regulations might be modified to some extent. I certainly hope so. I'm against anything that might deter anyone from taking a newspaperman to lunch.

Ontario College Heads Deny Influence on Students by Reds

TORONTO (CP) — Presidents of five Ontario universities express doubt that Communist or "pink" cells exist on most Canadian university campuses.

The accusation was made Tuesday by R. W. Tedgham, president of Chrysler Corporation of Canada Limited, in a speech to the Montreal Rotary Club.

Mr. Todgham said there is a danger some students will become "permanent converts to alien ideologies."

Dr. J. A. Corry, principal of Queen's University in Kingston, said there is less student Communist influence on Canadian campuses today than there has been at any time in history.

Dr. Murray Ross, president of Toronto's York University, said students on his campus are conservative and are gravely concerned about maintaining democratic principles.

J. G. Hagey, president of the University of Waterloo, said there may be some campuses throughout Canada that have Communist groups, "but we don't have them here."

RECOGNIZED CLUB

The only recognized Communist club in Ontario is at the University of Toronto. The university's supreme disciplinary body, composed of the senate and faculty heads, gave the club recognition in 1960.

The club has six official members and during recent elections for the university's model parliament they drew 2.2 per cent of the popular vote.

Dr. H. G. Thode, president of McMaster University in Hamilton, said students discuss communism in economics classes but don't appear to be interested in it as a guiding principle.

Dr. Edward Hall, president of the University of Western Ontario in London, said no Communist clubs exist on the campus.

Canadian Oil Industry Uneasy

By GORDON BELL
Times Business Editor

The Canadian oil industry is distinctly uneasy over the Canadian-U.S. negotiations opening in Ottawa today on President Kennedy's new oil policy.

A few months back, the industry concensus was that there was little to worry about; Canadian exports would be allowed to increase at a reasonable rate and there would be no trouble so long as the growth was not forced, particularly east of the Rockies.

Now, no one in the industry is so sure. There is, in fact, a distinct feeling that the president's new policy could mean the utter failure of the hitherto-successful Canadian national oil policy.

The new U.S. move brings Canada into an import control system for the first time and limits Canadian sales in the area east of the Rockies for the next six months to 120,000 barrels per day or roughly the present level.

While this rate is higher than average sales for all of 1962 it leaves almost no room for the growth contemplated in the national oil policy.

Bell

The limit for the first six months is apparently final and not open to further negotiation. The next six-month period will be discussed by U.S. and Canadian officials but the feeling is that even if an increase is allowed it could hardly be sufficient to offset the stagnancy of the initial six months.

Washington officials have also warned that imports of Canadian natural gas liquid products will not be allowed to expand beyond present levels.

The U.S. move poses a tough problem for Ottawa which had had good reason to be pleased with the voluntary oil policy. Washington's official intervention has made it impossible for Ottawa to put further pressure on the international oil companies to force further exports; the oil companies simply could not comply if they wanted to.

Wall Street sources say it is expected that Quebec's Premier Lesage will be down their way in the spring looking for financing of his provincial hydro take-over.

Terms of compensation will be the governing factor in his reception from the investment bankers, but the feeling is that Lesage will be given terms generous enough to assure him an easy job of financing the arrangement.

The general feeling is that Quebec will be able to get better terms than B.C., but this is not necessarily significant in view of the fact that Quebec's resources are larger.

The Baxter International Economic Research Bureau of New York has always had a reputation as a gloomy forecaster but their latest weekly bulletin paints the dreariest picture for many a year.

". . . We believe we are facing the worst depression in history," Baxter claims. "We believe the stock market is going much lower . . . we face one of the worst periods of deflation we have ever had."

Also: ". . . we believe a serious commercial crisis is coming. In our opinion the failures of the credit companies will be enormous (and) what is happening in the Southwest will happen all all across the country."

Baxter cites the "almost unbelievable" number of personal and company bankruptcys in the Southwest and notes that one of the leading credit car firms had dropped 40,000 customers mostly in California, Arizona and Texas.

A decrease in business costs of Coronation Credit Corp. Ltd. as a result of reductions in short-term interest rates is predicted by president Dennis L. Clayton in a quarterly report to shareholders.

The report showed Coronation had a 60 per cent increase in earned income in the period ended Oct. 31 compared with the same quarter last year. Earned income for the quarter was $670,054 and net profit after taxes showed a slight increase.

Track laying on the Great Slave Lake Railway, which will haul lead-zinc concentrates from Consolidated Mining and Smelting's Pine Point mine, has been halted for the winter season about 73 miles north of Peace River, Alta., southern terminus of the line.

The CNR has let contracts for clearing the final 300 miles of right-of-way into the Hay River northern terminus and about 150 miles of track will be laid next year with completion scheduled for 1965.

While track-laying has been halted, bridge building will continue during the winter including the 2,000-foot long, 165-foot high steel on concrete structure over the Meikle River valley.

A CNR official commented that while the Pine Point mine is the prime objective of the new railway line, already the effect in opening up northern farmland has been seen. At Manning, 56 miles north of Peace River, four elevators were built this summer, and grain was loaded and shipped the same day the track reached the town.

Canadians Smoke More Cigarettes

OTTAWA (CP)—A 5.4 per cent increase in cigarette consumption during the first nine months of this year, compared with a year earlier, was indicated in a Dominion Bureau of Statistics report.

It said sales of excise revenue stamps indicated 28,803,735,000 cigarettes were withdrawn from warehouses for consumption, compared with 27,336,248,000 in the first nine months of last year.

Tax-paid withdrawals of cigars rose 4.8 per cent to 252,141,000.

Sept. 30 stocks of unmanufactured tobacco totalled 206,079,552 pounds, 4.2 per cent higher than a year earlier.

BOND OFFER BY MARWELL

VANCOUVER (CP) — A public offering of $775,000 of 7½-per-cent first mortgage sinking fund bonds of Marwell Construction Ltd. is being made by a group of investment dealers here. Price of the bonds is $100.

The offering is to raise cash which will form part of the purchase price of about $2,000,000 required by the Vancouver firm to complete purchase of a group of companies known as the Highway Group, as well as to consolidate some Marwell operations.

Both the Marwell group and the Highway Group have been large operators in the construction and property development field. Following the merger they would be in a position to bid on international contracts, a prospectus said.

$14.3 Million Offer to Gunnar

TORONTO (CP)—A group headed by Teck-Hughes Gold Mines Ltd. has made an offer of $14,300,000 for 1,300,000 shares of Gunnar Mining Ltd., it was disclosed Wednesday.

On the Toronto Stock Exchange Wednesday Gunnar, with 3,541,649 outstanding shares, advanced 40 cents a share to $9.95 as 45,800 shares changed hands. The stock has risen steadily from its low in October of $7.60.

Associated with the Teck-Hughes group in the purchase offer and in a request for proxies to be voted against a proposed Gunnar merger with the privately-owned McNamara Corporation construction firm, is Charles L. LaBine, a vice-president and director of Gunnar and uncle of Gunnar president Joseph LaBine.

In a letter to Gunnar shareholders, Charles LaBine questioned the wisdom of Gunnar directors' proposal to purchase McNamara for $8,000,000 cash and 800,000 Gunnar treasury shares.

"Why, when now at last we have adequate money in Gunnar to be a major force in development of Canadian natural resources, should we become in effect merely backers for a construction business?" the letter asked.

The Teck-Hughes offer is open until 3:30 p.m. Dec. 21 and may be extended until 1,300,000 shares are tendered, or until the Gunnar shareholders' meeting Jan. 10, whichever is earlier.

C. M. BENADOM

D. E. McMICHAEL

TORONTO, Ontario—Cecil M. Benadom, a former resident of Toronto, has been elected President of Beneficial Finance Co. of Canada, effective January 1st, it was announced December 5th by the Board of Directors. He succeeds Donald E. McMichael, who is retiring after 37 years, but who will remain a member of the Board.

Benadom, who served as Vice-President in charge of the firm from 1952 through 1959, lived here in Lawrence Park. He left Toronto in 1959 when he was elected Vice-President and Assistant to the President of Beneficial Management Corporation, a U.S. affiliate in Morristown, N.J. Benadom also succeeds McMichoel as President of Beneficial Management Corporation in the U.S.

Both Beneficial Finance Co. of Canada and Beneficial Management Corporation are part of the Beneficial Finance System which has over 1,350 affiliated offices throughout Canada, the U.S., England and Australia. There are 160 offices in Canada.

Benadom started his career with Beneficial in a branch office 33 years ago. In 1949 he was promoted to Assistant Supervision Director of the firm's Eastern Department in the United States and three years later became Vice-President in charge of Beneficial Finance Co. of Canada.

Open on Wednesday, Dec. 19 and, of course, also Monday, Dec. 24.

K Takes Open Stand Against Chinese

By GEORGE SYLVERTSEN

MOSCOW (AP) — Premier Khrushchev has declared war on the ideological views of Communist China and Albania and publicly made his peace with his old enemy in the Communist camp, Yugoslav President Tito.

In his speech to the Supreme Soviet Wednesday Khrushchev outlined to his people for the first time the details of his feud with the Chinese and Albanians.

A neutralist diplomat called the speech a "historic turning point" in Moscow-Peking rivalry.

Khrushchev declared that dogmatism, a Communist synonym for the extreme views of the Chinese, had become just as dangerous as revisionism, a word applied to such independent Communist thinking as Yugoslavia's.

He swore that, from now on, "Soviet Communists, to whom there is nothing higher than unity of the ranks of the world Communist movement, will fight resolutely against both right-wing and left-wing opportunism."

In an open affront to the anti-Titoist Chinese and Albanians, Khrushchev declared Soviet friendship for the Yugoslav Communists.

DELEGATES APPLAUD

This drew an approving nod from Tito, seated behind him on the stage, and loud applause from the deputies of the Supreme Soviet.

Khrushchev blamed Joseph Stalin for the differences that led to Yugoslavia's explusion from the Communist camp in 1948.

"But our Yugoslav comrades were not wholly blameless," he added.

"There are still serious divergencies on a number of ideological questions," but recent moves in Yugoslav domestic and foreign policy have "eliminated much of what we regarded as erroneous and as prejudicing the cause of building socialism (communism) in Yugoslavia."

He said the Soviet Union is trying to strengthen party unity and if this policy is subjected to hit-and-run attacks by some people, "this only shows that these people are not genuinely interested in strengthening the ranks of the Communist movement."

While never mentioning the Chinese by name, Khrushchev accused them of "sinking deeper and deeper in the quagmire of leftist opportunism, splitting tactics and sectarianism."

"In the crisis over Cuba, Yugoslav Communists took a correct position, whereas dogmatists who pose as true Marxists-Leninists took a provocative position," he said.

He compared the Albanians to children who have been taught to hurl obscenities by adults who do not want to do it themselves.

Japan Meet Delayed

TOKYO (AP) — The Japanese foreign ministry reported Wednesday the Canadian government has turned down a Japanese proposal to hold the first session of the Japanese-Canadian ministerial economic committee next month. Ministry officials said the Canadian reply was governed by internal considerations. Canada's Parliament convenes in mid-January.

Canada to Compete In Gliding Tourney

BUENOS AIRES (Reuters)—A record number of 18 countries, including Canada, will compete in the ninth world gliding championship over the Argentine Pampas in February.

This is the first time the tournament is being held in the western hemisphere.

Scene for the competition is the rural town of Junin, about 155 miles west of Buenos Aires. For 16 days, starting Feb. 10, the competitors will take advantage of the blue skies and gentle breezes of the Argentine summer.

Nations represented will include Britain, the United States, West Germany, Canada, Australia, Japan, Chile, Austria, Spain, Denmark, Finland, Holland, Italy, Norway, Sweden, Rhodesia and Switzerland. There is still hope that other countries, including Poland, which gained second and third places in the last tournament, will enter.

In some cases, the long distance separating Argentina from other centres where gliding is popular will prevent the sending of representatives. Russia, for instance, is reported to have dropped out because of the burdensome transport of gliders and equipment.

WON SITE

Argentina was voted the site of the 1963 championship because of its brilliant performance in the last tournament held in Cologne, West Germany, in 1960. This was won by Argentinian Rodolfo Hossinger.

Along with Jose Ortner, the current Argentine champion, Hossinger is still Argentine favorite. In a recent tournament to choose the country's team for the championship, Hossinger established a national record, flying a distance of 375 miles in an almost straight southward line.

Each of the countries entering the championship will send three flyers, a team manager and its own craft. Competition will take place in the "open" and "standard" categories.

Firm candidate for the world title, in addition to Argentina, include the United States, Britain, West Germany and Spain.

Gordon Urges Special Probe

MONTREAL (CP)—CNR president Donald Gordon said Wednesday he believes a royal commission should be set up to study Canada's bicultural system and the consequences of it.

He said such a commission should look into not only the CNR but also all public services and large industries.

"Far from having any objections to such an inquiry, I see it as the best way of obtaining objective, scientific knowledge of the problems implicit in the system and of working out satisfactory solutions," he said in an interview with Montreal La Presse.

New Fighting Threat

TEL AVIV, Israel (UPI)—Dangers of new mid-east fighting grew here as a result of Premier David Ben-Gurion's threat to strike deep into Syria if Syrian attacks on Israeli border settlements continue.

REPRISALS HIT NEGRO VOTERS

NEW YORK (AP)—The Congress of Racial Equality says 20,000 Mississippi Negroes who tried to register to vote have been dropped from federal surplus commodities lists in reprisal. The organization called on Attorney-General Robert F. Kennedy and Agriculture Secretary Orville Freeman to intervene.

BORNEO MOP-UP

Rebels Flee Into Jungle

LABUAN, North Borneo (AP) — British troops pushed out from regained towns in Brunei and northwest Sarawak today chasing rebel bands seeking refuge in dense jungles and swamps.

Local British commanders were concerned that the rebels, whose strength still is unknown, would attempt to organize a long guerrilla war from swampland hideouts.

Several hundred tribesmen from the interior of Sarawak, responding to an ancient hostility to the rebel coastal dwellers, were reported prowling the Brunei-Sarawak border area in an effort to cut off rebel bands.

However, Lt.-Gen. Sir Nigel Poett, commander of British Far East land forces, declared after a visit to operations areas that the possibility of rebel guerrilla resistance was remote after six days of revolt.

"We have broken the back of the rebellion," he said.

He pointed out that the rebels, who wanted to set up an independent state composed of the Brunei sultanate and the two neighboring crown colonies of Sarawak and North Borneo, were armed only with shotguns and a few rifles.

RESISTANCE SLIGHT

The lack of fierce fighting anywhere indicated the rebels wanted no showdown with British troops at this stage.

Rebel dead so far are believed to total about 50. The British have lost 10 dead. A number of civilians and police also have been killed.

The freeing of 45 hostages from Seria jail by the British forces Wednesday brought the first eyewitness accounts of the early hours of the rebellion last Saturday, as well as stories of heroic parts played by a Scottish nurse, an Anglican priest and an Australian doctor.

Rev. John Vyvyan led a group of hostages in the Lord's Prayer as the rebels forced the march as a human shield in an attack on the police station at Penaga, west of Seria.

"Those 15 yards seemed like 15 bloody miles," said a Shell Oil Company aircraft engineer.

When shooting started, the hostages fell on their faces. Several escaped in the confusion. But one hostage, a Eurasian engineer, was killed, and five others were wounded.

Originally 62 persons, including 12 women and children, were rounded up as prisoners by the rebels. But Nurse Jean Scott of Glasgow persuaded the rebels to free the women and children. She refused to treat a badly wounded rebel unless they agreed to the exchange.

Dr. Alan MacLean was praised for dashing under fire from the cover of a ditch to drag one of the wounded hostages to safety and give him first aid.

FOUR YEARS FOR KILLING

QUESNEL (CP)—Nurmal Singh Sidhu Wednesday was sentenced to four years on a reduced charge of manslaughter arising from the death of Bawa Singh Sangha in a sawmill bunkhouse brawl last October.

Sidhu, 22, who had been charged with non-capital murder in the case, also drew an 18-month term to run concurrently, for causing bodily harm to Raghbir Singh Mann.

Evidence showed the fracas erupted during a drinking party at the Lac la Hache mill.

All UN Members Must Pay for Peace Forces

UNITED NATIONS (CP) — A Canadian - conceived resolution accepting a World Court opinion that all United Nations members must shoulder the costs of UN peace - keeping operations was approved overwhelmingly Wednesday by the world body's budgetary committee.

By a vote of 75 to 17 with 14 abstentions the committee adopted the resolution sponsored by Canada along with the United States, Britain and 17 other countries. Both the U.S. and Britain had warned its defeat might affect the attiude of their governments as major financial contributors to the UN.

Those voting against included France and the entire Soviet bloc, which have refused to pay anything toward the $10,000,000 - a - month Congo operation threatening to bankrupt the UN.

The committee also approved another Canadian-inspired resolution instructing a 21-nation working group to consider a special scale of assessments for peace-keeping operations.

The first resolution won by a large enough margin to assure its ratification by the required two-thirds vote in the 110-nation General Assembly, but both France and the Soviet bloc made plain they will continue to ignore their Congo assessments.

Acceptance of the court's opinion was significant in that it could pave the way to eventual loss of voting rights of UN members who fall in arrears in their assessments.

The Black Death plague which raged from 1347 to 1351 caused about 25,000,000 deaths in Europe and killed 45 per cent of Britain's population.

DISASTER TRANSIT 'AIRY-FAIRY'

'Not This Bus, Buster . . . Ma Comes First'

A plan for use of transit buses to help evacuate Victorians from impending disaster was termed an "airy-fairy" arrangement by an Oak Bay civil defence committee man Wednesday.

J. W. Ritchie, of civil defence executive committee, was commenting on a main feature of plans now being drawn to provide transportation for those without their own means when there is warning of attack or other catastrophe.

Under the scheme, transit buses would go to assembly points at public school grounds, after bus drivers have picked up their own families and put them into the back of the bus.

"This seems a very airy-fairy sort of arrangement," Mr. Ritchie said.

"When does the bus driver go to pick up his family? Does he leave people stranded on the street . . .?"

"I expect he will leave people behind," CD officer Geoffrey White said, pointing out that the details, revolving around a question of timing, had to be worked out.

"When does the plan go into effect?" asked Stephen Morres. "Dies it start with an alert? Does there have to be a war? We were very near war the other day . . ."

"The plan will bear some close scrutiny," acting chairman Coun. Fred Robinson said.

"On the face of it, the plan is ridiculous. On any given day we would probably have 20,000 people downtown," pointed out warden organizer Geoffrey Ellis.

Open Meet Monday On Motel Rezoning

A public hearing will be held at the Saanich municipal hall at 7:30 p.m. Monday to consider an application to rezone for motel and hotel use a total of 67½ acres of farm land situated south of Beaver Lake on the west side of the Patricia Bay highway.

Applicant is Foster Isherwood, lawyer, who plans to establish a hotel and recreational centre on the property.

FALLOUT PROTECTION SOUGHT IN OAK BAY

Oak Bay building inspector Paul Cunningham will be asked to make a survey of buildings in the municipality that could be used as fallout shelters in a nuclear emergency.

The request was made Wednesday to Oak Bay civil defence executive committee by Victoria target area co-ordinator W. W. Mathers, on a request from the federal Emergency Measures Organization.

Oak Bay CD officer Geoffrey White said he had already made a preliminary survey of schools and noted that some of the newer apartment blocks were suitable shelters because of the thickness of concrete in construction.

'NEUTRALIST' PRESSURE REJECTED

Nehru Cool to Talks Plan

NEW DELHI (UPI)—Premier Jawaharlal Nehru intimated today he would resist "neutralist" pressure on his government to negotiate its border differences with Red China.

Representatives of six "nonaligned" nations meeting in Ceylon decided Wednesday night to try to arrange a conference between Indian and Red China. Ceylonese Premier Sirima Bandanaike said she would visit New Delhi and Peking at "the earliest possible opportunity" to inform leaders of the two nations of the neutralist views.

Nehru has refused to consider talks with the Reds until they pull their troops out of invaded territory on India's northeast frontier. His first reported reaction to the Ceylon plan appeared to be negative.

"We do not have precise information of what happened there (in Ceylon)," he told the executive committee of his Congress Party's parliamentary delegation today, "but it seems what is obvious to us is not obvious to some."

Lawyers Delay Inspection Trip To City Jail

Planned inspection of the city jail Thursday by a lawyer's committee has been called until next month.

David Hummel, chairman of the criminal justice committee, said the group was not able to keep the date set by police commission and would request another date.

'PRINCE MIKE' CLOSING CAFE

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif. (AP)—Mike Romanoff said Wednesday he is closing the swank Hollywood-oriented restaurant that has borne his name for 23 years. He blamed a trend toward informality.

"There is no longer room here for an elegant restaurant of this kind," he told a reporter.

Romanoff, 69, dubbed Prince Mike by his friends, set the closing for Dec. 31. He said he has lost money the last year but is not yet in serious financial straits.

RCMP to Share Federal Pay Boost

(Times Ottawa Bureau)

OTTAWA — RMCP members and personnel will get pay increases soon, federal government spokesmen said today. But it was not certain whether the armed forces would get similar boosts.

The pay freeze, lifted from salaries of some 65,000 civil servants Monday, will be removed from RCMP salaries "within the next few days," the officials said.

This would be through issuance of a treasury board minute covering the new scale of pay, retroactive to April 1, 1962.

For the armed forces it appeared they would get upward adjustments in pay and allowances perhaps within six months.

The armed forces, since the Second World War, have always shared in pay increases, but usually not for some months after any major civil service pay boost.

Government officials said there was no reason this policy should not apply in this case. But they emphasized they could not indicate just when the move might be made.

Navy, army and air force members have no staff associations and do not petition the government for pay improvements. However, it is almost automatic that pay increases for them follow any civil service pay hike.

Boy Started Fire

QUEBEC (CP) — The fire commissioner's office said Wednesday a seven-year-old boy accidentally started the fire which destroyed four tenement buildings in the St. Sauveur district of the city Tuesday night. The boy was playing with a lighted candle and unwittingly set curtains afire in the living room of his home. Loss was estimated at $300,000.

. . . COLUMBIA

down" came when "B.C. interests" found it necessary to downgrade the benefits of the Columbia scheme (the McNaughton plan) which had been negotiated so that B.C. power development could be shifted to other areas—namely the Peace River.

The result, he said, was that the "guts" was removed from the Canada - U.S. Columbia agreement at B.C.'s insistence—and with the aid of an American—so that the U.S. would benefit.

Gen. McNaughton sharply questioned the safety and the economics of an integral part of the development plan envisaged by the treaty—the high Arrow dam on the Arrow Lakes.

He said he understood there was "no clear evidence" that the proposed dam had an adequate natural foundation. Test drilling had gone down beyond 100 feet without finding bedrock.

In addition it was clear, he claimed, that original cost estimates of $66 million for the dam were out of line, because they did not allow for cost of facilities for navigation or clearing or of provision for restoring spawning areas for game fish. These considerations would push the cost to between $100 million and $150 million, he said.

ARRANGED MEET

On both points, on safety and on cost, he turned for confirmation to Kootenay West MP Bert Herridge of the NDP who, with James Byrne (Lib., Kootenay East), had arranged for the holding of the meeting.

(Earlier in the day Liberal MP Jack Davis of Coast-Capilano had asked Resources Minister Walter Dinsdale if information questioning the safety or engineering feasibility of the High Arrow dam had reached him. Mr. Dinsdale said it had, but that engineers had reported no such problems existed; there was a seepage question but this could be easily handled, he said in his answer.)

The general advocated that the treaty be rejected by Canada "decisively . . . the sooner the better." In its place could be negotiated a new deal, still providing the U.S. with benefits, but enhancing Canada's position.

He said there were many Americans who would go along with such action because they believed the treaty in its present form would be more damaging to Canada-U.S. relations "than the Alaska boundary treaty."

. . . GROMYKO

United States and other states remain deaf."

NO REASON FOR DISPUTE

He said there ought to be no reason for disputes between Russia and the U.S. "the biggest powers in the world."

Gromyko said the Soviet Union would like to negotiate a settlement of the Berlin problem but is setting no deadline for the agreement.

Gromyko told the Supreme Soviet, in the presence of Premier Khrushchev and President Tito of Yugoslavia, that the Soviet Union is prepared to continue an exchange of opinions with the west on a solution of the German problem.

While saying no time limit was placed on such negotiations, he said the Communist powers ultimately would sign a separate peace treaty with Communist East Germany if the Western power refused to come to an agreement.

"But we will not count the pages of the calendar," he said

WANTS UN FLAG

Gromyko repeated the proposal by Khrushchev Wednesday to replace the Western allies' troops in West Berlin with the flag of the United Nations.

He said that after a treaty is signed and the Allied troops are out of West Berlin, the Soviet Union would give guarantees for the city's independence.

Gromyko said Soviet guarantees of West Berlin's independence would be just as dependable as those of the NATO powers.

Tito, who followed Gromyko to the rostrum, strongly praised Khrushchev for his handling of the Cuban crisis and defended the Soviet premier's conciliatory moves against the criticism of the Communist Chinese and Albanians.

Tito's appearance before the Soviet parliament was a dramatic turning point in Soviet-Yugoslav relations which Stalin ruptured in 1948. The Yugoslav president described those relations as having a "long and complicated history."

PROGRESS IN TALKS

He hailed the recent establishment of friendly relations between Yugoslavia and the Soviet Union and said that he and Khrushchev had made progress during their meeting here to-war further strengthening the bonds between their countries.

He avoided overt criticism of the United States in the Cuban crisis but emphasized his approval of Khrushchev's handling of the Cuban crisis.

"I would like to express appreciation to the Soviet government and to Nikita Khrushchev personally for acting so courageously.

"Unfortunately, about this policy of the Soviet government there are strange views which are dangerous insofar as they might lead certain circles to a false assessment of the motives of the wise and peace - loving step."

City Coffee Company Included in Merger

Merger of J. L. Trumbull Ltd. of Vancouver, which owns the W. A. Jameson Coffee Co. Ltd. of Victoria, with J. Lyons and Co. (Canada) Ltd. of Toronto, was announced today by J. L. Trumbull, president of the Vancouver firm.

Mr. Trumbull becomes president of the new company, Trumbull-Lyons Ltd. He is also a director of B.C. Power Corp Ltd., Confederation Life Association and the Toronto-Dominion Bank.

In making the announcement, he said: "This arrangement that brings my business, established over 40 years ago, into joint operation with one of the world's largest food companies will assure a continuity of management plus the strengthening of a local enterprise through affiliation with an international organization."

The Lyons company is a subsidiary of J. Lyons and Co. of London, England, a £40 million organization which is the largest caterer in the world and is famous for its Lyons Corner Houses. In Canada the firm's operations are limited to the tea and coffee business.

The Jameson company which was established in 1888 will be a subsidiary of Trumbull-Lyons Ltd. and no change in its spice packaging and extract manufacturing business in Victoria is expected under the new arrangement.

ANCHOR weighing 1,000 pounds, and pulled from depth of 42 fathoms off William Head in October by Sidney beam trawler, Good Hope II, will be given permanent mounting in Sidney village park. Admiring hand-forged relic is D. Johnson, 1940 Mills Road, Sidney.

Free Bus Run Resumed At Hillcrest

DUNCAN — Free bus service for Hillcrest Lumber Co. loggers between Mesatchie Lake and their homes in Duncan and Lake Cowichan has been restored, ending a year-old dispute.

Decision was taken Wednesday by the company, which had already recommended the Lake Cowichan service on trial.

The firm announced last year its intention of dropping bus runs at the start of this year, and when it stood by the decision the members of Mesatchie Lake unit of the International Woodworkers of America went on a strike that lasted 5½ months.

When they agreed to negotiate the dispute and the Lake Cowichan run was replaced, the loggers went back to work in mid-June.

Company director Peter Stone said the decision "could hardly be called a settlement, but we have no alternative". A vote to accept must still be taken by the union.

Last month the loggers refused a suggested 50-50 cost split on restored bus service.

ENGINE FAILURE NEAR PARKSVILLE

RCAF Pilot Successful In First Forced Landing

PARKSVILLE—FO Harold L. Harris, of Vancouver, and a crew of two landed their RCAF search and rescue Otter safely when the single-engine craft developed trouble near Hilliers Wednesday.

The pilot, with 14 years' flying time behind him, made his first forced landing about a mile from French Creek, where wind beached the aircraft until a boat towed it to French Creek boat basin.

The plane was on a routine flight from Vancouver to Tofino and developed engine trouble before reaching Cameron Lake.

FO Harris said it was fortunate the sea was calm when the engine finally failed just over the water.

The aircraft was beached at high tide to allow repairs to be made today.

SOOKE — A man who defrauded the Unemployment Insurance Commission of $108 while earning $196.52 at a full-time job was fined $50 and $7 costs in RCMP court Tuesday.

John Vantilborg, of Sooke, was convicted by Magistrate E. Murphy for making two false statements to obtain benefits over a three-week period last March while he was employed by Goodrich Sawmills.

He was fined $25 and $3.50 costs on each charge and given until Jan. 15 to pay.

DUNCAN — A dollar an hour for hotel and cafering workers is too much for some employers to pay, a Chamber of Commerce tourism chairman said Wednesday.

Dennis Mason Hurley said the provincial government's new minimum wage order, effective in the hotel and catering industry Jan. 1, "will create undue hardship to small operators in certain sections of the industry in B.C., particularly in small areas and unorganized districts."

They might have to curtail their services, he told a chamber directors' meeting.

The chamber did not take a firm stand, but agreed to write the B.C. Chamber of Commerce asking consideration be given to Mr. Hurley's protest.

DUNCAN — Magistrate D. K. McAdam sentenced James MacLaughlan (alias Mickey Thompson) and Josef Galea, both of Duncan, to 12 months each in Oakalla Prison for breaking and entering Evans Motors, Duncan, and stealing two tires and car accessories.

Both men pleaded not guilty to the charge and were convicted following trial last Friday.

The magistrate told MacLaughlan he will recommend a transfer to the correctional institute for him.

"In your case," he told Galea, "a recommendation would be hopeless."

over the wisdom of approaching the Soviets to reopen negotiations on Berlin.

Rusk's stand that the U.S. will not negotiate with the Soviets on any other issue until the Cuban crisis is fully resolved, was backed strongly by Great Britain, France, West Germany, Denmark, Greece, The Netherlands, Turkey and, to a lesser extent, Italy. But Belgium, Canada and Norway urged that no opportunity should be lost to reopen talks with the Soviets if that would ease international tensions.

The two issues highlighted the opening day of the three-day NATO council session. It was devoted entirely to a broad review of the world political situation following the Cuban crisis.

He said the Soviet Union is bumping into serious problems, including troubles inside Russia itself, within the Communist bloc and in relations with the rest of the world.

He described Premier Khrushchev's differences with Peking as serious and predicted more trouble probably is coming. At home, he added, Khrushchev's government is beset with serious economic problems both in manufacturing and agriculture.

Rusk said the United States highly appreciated the immediate and firm support it received from its allies in the Cuban crisis. This had been a contribution to peace and could not have failed to impress the Soviet Union considerably.

UN PLAYED ROLE

The United Nations had played a useful role in the crisis and had exerted a moderating influence, he said.

He told the delegates that when such topics as Berlin came up during the Cuban negotiations, U.S. representatives replied with positions previously taken by the Kennedy administration.

FEDERAL Works Minister Davie Fulton will participate in a seminar workshop of the Canadian Council of Christians and Jews Jan. 12 at Nanaimo. More than 400 persons are expected to attend.

Post Office Purloined

KELSEY BAY (CP)—A storm has burst upon this north Island community of 400 over the moving of the post office "in the dark of night."

The post office, since 1924 situated on the wharf of the bay, was moved Friday a mile down the road to a logging camp where most of the populace live.

But the residents around the wharf are demanding it be moved right back again.

A. B. Bendickson, owner of a tree farm on nearby Hardwicke Island, said: "They did it in the dark of night and what we'd like now is a full investigation into the move and, especially, we'd like to know who is behind it."

"We know secretive petitions were sent around last year asking for the move and we have an idea who sent them. Mainly, we'd like our post office back. It's not much of a building but it's darned important to us."

He says the post office is used by persons living in outlying areas and on nearby islands.

Officials said in Ottawa the department was faced with the choice of leaving the post office where it was to serve a few or moving it to serve the majority.

Thomas Barnett, New Democratic Party MP for Comox-Alberni, said he supports the move.

Athletes Win 'Biggest' Game

PORT RENFREW — Two locally-known basketballers of the prewar era played for their lives and won in floor waters of the San Juan River Wednesday after a fishing party of three was swamped.

Timothy McCullough, sheriff of King County at Seattle, his son Timothy Jr., 24, and Seattle cafe operator Tom Werner were dumped into the river when their pram tipped in a willow clump near 12-mile black suspension bridge.

The McCulloughs managed to fend for themselves, but Werner, an arthritic, was swept downstream in the icy water, held partly under a log and struck by the water-filled pram which pinned him to the log.

The elder McCullough tried to stay with Werner at first, but lost his grip. He and his son togelher were able to release Werner and help him to shore.

All had been wearing hip waders and lost all their steelhead fishing gear.

When they walked out they still had to beat brush and ford the river four times.

Sheriff McCullough had been a referee and Werner a player in basketball of the 1930s.

IWA Claims Overtime Rule Threat to Loggers' Safety

VANCOUVER (CP) — The International Woodworkers of America said today an amendment approved by the board of industrial relations "could kill and maim more loggers than any other circumstance in the last 20 years."

The union said it was notified Monday by the board that the Hours of Work Act has been amended to extend a list of exceptions calling for an eight-hour day or 44-hour week.

"This year has already seen a production speed-up accompanied by more logging fatalities than in any other year since 1947," Bob Ross, IWA regional safety director, said in a statement.

"We cannot help but conclude that increased compulsory overtime under these conditions for workmen already exhausted by a full day's work could only push the accident hazard to an impossible extreme."

Labor Minister Peterson said Tuesday the changes affect only the maintenance and preparatory work sections of the logging industry.

The IWA, however, says the changes include nearly all important phases of log productions and will affect the majority of loggers.

MAGISTRATE RICE
. . . 'rubber-stamp justice'

U.S. Award For Novel Procedures

WINNIPEG (CP)—Controversial Magistrate Isaac Rice has won an American judicial progress award for unorthodox procedures in his Winnipeg courtroom.

Last month Magistrate Rice created a legal uproar by confining a 34-year-old mother of 11 to her home for two years.

Mrs. Rita Dzedzora was convicted of possession of stolen goods which she said friends of her husband had left in her basement.

Instead of sending her to jail, Magistrate Rice gave her a two-year suspended sentence on condition she stay at home without visitors except for close relatives.

Earlier he set up an informal probation system for alcoholics and others who appear on drunk charges.

Instead of a fine or jail term, he sends first offenders home with a warning.

Explaining his program Tuesday, he said: "We've got to get away from this rubber-stamp justice of $10 or 10 days."

Court Upsets Douk's Conviction

VANCOUVE R(CP) — The B.C. Court of Appeal Tuesday upset a jury's verdict that put a Sons of Freedom Doukhobor leader in jail for 18 months.

The appeal court, in a split decision, set aside John S. Savinkoff's conviction on a charge of attempting to obstruct justice and directed his acquittal.

Five other members of the sect's ruling Fraternal Council could win their freedom from prison following the decision.

Peter Elasoff Sr., Fred W. Chernenkoff, Mike Hadiken, Tom Woykin and Nick Bryan were also jailed for attempting to obstruct justice.

The six were alleged to have tried to persuade other Doukhobors who had confessed to terrorist crimes to deny their statements to police.

It was part of a plan, the Crown alleged, to have sect members held on terrorist charges give false evidence in court.

The appeal court, however, said there was no evidence to establish that Savinkoff knew the statements made by other sect members were true.

The appeal court, in freeing Savinkoff, directed that the cases of the other five men convicted of the same offence be reviewed in the light of the new decision.

Car-Truck Crash Sends Sailors To Hospital

Two HMCS Naden ratings were taken to St. Joseph's Hospital after the car in which they were riding collided with a large CPR semi-trailer on the Trans-Canada Highway Wednesday morning.

David R. Hodgson, 20, and James K. Halverson, 23, were transferred to Naden hospital where they were treated for cuts and abrasions. Hodgson was admitted.

The crash occurred in the Goldstream Park area of the highway abor 3 a.m.

The car was a total wreck and about $400 damage was done to the trailer, police said.

GUMP KEEPS HAWKS HOPPING

Busy nights are routine business for Gump Worsley and New York goaltender had another hectic evening Wednesday as Rangers tangled with Black Hawks in National Hockey League game at Chicago. Returning to action after being sidelined with shoulder injury, Gump kept Hawks hopping with spectacular netminding, making 38 saves before Hawks pulled out 4-3 victory. Here Worsley has pushed puck to side of net after making save. Chicago's Bobby Hull (7) tries to get rubber back to Red Hay in front of net as Albert Langlois of Rangers moves in from left. B.C. ASKS . . . . . FOR DAVIS CUP

We'll Be Hosts, If . . .

Don't hold your breath until it is decided, but Victoria may again be host for the North American zone Davis Cup tennis finals.

Currently it is a situation rich in speculation and studded with "ifs" and city net brass has not yet been informed of any move to stage the tennis battle here.

This is the situation today:

The Canadian Lawn Tennis Association has applied for the 1963 zone finals. CLTA vice-president Jim Macken of Vancouver has asked that if Canada gets it, the event be played in British Columbia. If it is played in B.C., the site will be either Victoria or Vancouver.

Canada will learn next month if its bid has been accepted. If it is, Macken's recommendation will be dealt with at a CLTA meeting in February.

Victoria hosted the 1956 zone finals, which involve teams from Canada, the U.S., West Indies and Mexico.

Same Old Situation In Rangers' Corner

Hawks Mistreat 'Cousins' Again

By The Canadian Press

Ranger goalie Gump Worsley proved Wednesday night he didn't lose any form during a three-game layoff with a shoulder injury.

But the fifth-place Rangers showed they haven't improved any during his absence, losing 4-3 to first-place Chicago Black Hawks in the only NHL game Wednesday night.

Chicago outshot the Rangers 42-20 and needed two unanswered goals in the third period to come from behind for the win.

Black Hawk centre Bill (Red) Hay beat the roly-poly Worsley midway through the third period with the winning goal. Hay returned a week ago after missing four games with a charley-horse.

SIX-FOR-SIX

The win was the Hawks' sixth in the six meetings between the two teams this year. It boosted their hold in first place in the league standings to four points over the Detroit Red Wings.

In Chicago Wednesday night, the Rangers built up a 3-2 lead after two periods of play in which they were outshot 27-17.

The Hawks' flying Scooter Line tied it up 3-3 after two and a half minutes of bombarding Worsley. Right winger Ken Wharram scored from linemates Stan Mikita and Ab McDonald. Seven minutes later Hay fired the winner.

Defenceman Pierre Pilote gave Chicago a 1-0 lead early in the first period when he stickhandled through the Ranger defence and beat Worsley. Dean Prentice of New York tied the score 22 seconds later when he scored from a goal - mouth scramble.

BATHGATE EVENS SCORE

Mikita put Chicago out in front again early in the second period, but Rangers' Andy Bathgate beat Chicago roalie Glenn Hall with a 20-foot drive just 23 seconds later to tie things up again.

Rangers' veteran centre Bronco Horvath tipped in a blueline drive by Doug Harvey midway through the second period for New York's last goal of the night.

Mikita's goal and assist increased his league-leading scoring lead to 28 points. McDonald and Bathgate remain tied for second spot with 26 points adding a point each in the game.

Canadiens will be playing without veteran defenceman Tom Johnson when they meet the Bruins tonight. The club announced the 34-year-old rearguard will probably miss Canadiens' next three games with a wrist injury.

Shores Rally For 1-1 Draw

VANCOUVER (CP)—North Shore United and Columbus finally managed to complete their Pacific Coast Soccer League game Wednesday night, but nothing was settled.

After two postponements, the game, played in driving rain, ended in a 1-1 tie before some 1,300 spectators.

Originally started Dec. 2, the match was called off before half time by referee Dan Kulai after Columbus forward Gogie Stewart had refused to leave the field when sent off by the official. A second attempt to play the game last Sunday was halted by fog after 30 minutes play.

ELLETT TIES IT

Wednesday night, centre forward Dan Comuzzi gave Columbus a 1-0 lead at the 11-minute mark with a solo burst down the middle of the field. Right halfback Neil Ellett tied the score with a 25-yard drive which swerved into the Columbus net 18 minutes later.

The tie left Columbus in fourth place in the eight-team league, seven points behind the second-place pair Victoria United and Vancouver Firefighters. United gets a chance to break the deadlock Saturday, meeting Pilseners at Royal Athletic Park.

Kings Get Roughed Up; Forced to Share Lead

It was a tough night for Kings of the Commercial Hockey League.

Undisputed rulers of the four-team league before hostilities commenced at Memorial Arena Wednesday, Kings were rudely roughed up by Duncans and hauled down into a three-way deadlock.

Perhaps feeling chipper because they will now get a two-week holiday break from hockey chores, Duncans pulled the upset of the season as they clobbered Kings 10-1.

In the night's other game, Dormans edged past Northwesterns 3-2 to share first place with Kings and Duncans.

LAST-SECOND GOAL

Booming into a 5-0 first-period lead and stretching the margin to 7-0 after two periods, Duncans blanked Kings until the final second of play. Joe Dobbie wrecked goalie Bert Johansen's bid for a shutout at 19:59 of the third period, scoring on a pass from Whitey Ashworth.

Rey Leclair scored three times for Duncans, Dave Thera and Bud Brice each chipped in with two goals.

Randy Ferbey was the big man for Dormans, making the play for a first-period goal by George Sears and then notching the winning tally in the third session.

GIANTS' AL SHERMAN VOTED COACH OF YEAR

NEW YORK (AP)—Allie Sherman of New York Giants has been named coach-of-the-year in the National Football League for a second straight season.

Associated Press balloting by a committee of sports writers and broadcasters from the 14 league cities produced a scramble among five coaches.

Canuck Defence Sporting a Leak

PLAYER OF YEAR in National Football League is jarring Jim Taylor of Green Bay Packers. The 215-pound fullback leads NFL in scoring and touchdowns. Runner-up in voting was New York quarterback Y. A. Tittle.

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Vancouver coach Max McNab says goals will take care of themselves in the Western Hockey League. What he wants is a good defence.

The Canucks had it for a fast start this season, but their guard has fallen in the last two weeks and with it their standing in the Northern Division.

Wednesday night in Edmonton, the Flyers poured 40 shots at goaltender Gilles Villemure and scored on six of them to beat Canucks 6-4.

The night before in Calgary, Villemure had to be sensational to rescue a 3-3 overtime tie. In that one he stopped 54 shots.

SEALS DOWN COMETS

In the Southern Division, San Francisco Seals defeated Spokane Comets 5-2.

Flyers got their goals from Warren Hynes, Neil Forth, Sid Finney, Bo Elik, Jack McIntyre and Barclay Plager.

WHL scoring leader Phil Maloney picked up one of the Canucks' goals and assisted on others by Dave Duke and Al Lebrun. Rookie Trent Beatty was the other Vancouver scorer.

The Seals took a 1-0 lead into a free-scoring third period at Spokane. They ran their lead to 4-0 by the seven - minute mark and coasted home.

Bert Will Jump At Trail Offer

VANCOUVER (CP) — Bert Olmstead will ask New York Rangers of the National Hockey League for permission to play for Trail Smoke Eaters in the world hockey championships.

The former NHL star told the Sun in a telephone interview from Calgary: "I will jump at the chance to play for the Trail club."

The veteran left-winger said he is still New York property. The Rangers drafted Olmstead from Toronto Maples Leafs in June for $20,000.

"Certainly I want to go," said the former Chicago Black Hawks, Montreal Canadiens and Toronto star.

"What player wouldn't? It's a great honor to represent your country at an international competition."

Trail coach Bobby Kromm, who has been trying to sign Olmstead for more than a month, said:

"What a Christmas present this could make. Why, it would make you believe there is a Santa Claus."

But to get Olmstead for the Smokies, Kromm has to work fast. The deadline for reinstating professional players for the amateur competition is Dec. 31.

The Smokies won the world title in 1961 but Sweden won it last year. The championships will be held in Stockholm in February.

Fog and All, It Was 'A Great Production'

TORONTO (CP) — Ken Brown, publicity director of Toronto Argonauts of the Eastern Football Conference, said Wednesday the Grey Cup game telecast carried on the American Broadcasting Company television network in the United States "was the greatest promotion Canadian football ever had."

Brown, just returned from a recruiting trip to the southern U.S., said the impact of the Grey Cup telecast there eased the conversational path to players and coaches.

"Other years I've talked to people down there and the first thing they'd say was 'Canada?' as if they can't figure we'd play football up here.

"But this trip, as soon as I'd mention Canada, the reaction was, 'I saw that game—how did it come out?' So even the fog that forced a two-day game had its talking point."

Brown did not give any details of the Argonaut's recruiting program.

Esks' Balance Sheet Felt Players' Injuries

By BOB TRIMBEE

EDMONTON (CP) — Edmonton Eskimos, who started the 1962 season on wobbly financial legs and then were battered from pillar to post on the playing field, can expect brighter days in the 1963 Western Football Conference season, says club president Hastings (Red) McMahon.

Despite Eskimos' long list of injuries that cost the club $35,000 and bounced them into the league basement for the first time since 1949, Edmonton just failed to break even financially.

McMahon told the annual general meeting of the club here Wednesday night the operating deficit was a modest $7,700, one-tenth of the loss piled up in 1961 when Eskimos finished second in the five-team league. It left Edmonton with a bank surplus of $14,500.

Careful budgeting reduced expenses $44,000 and increased revenues by $22,000 compared with 1961 standards, he said. The club also was able to stop the downward trend in season ticket sales and attracted an attendance of 117,000, second-lowest in the league but a rise of 9,000 above 1961.

SEES IMPROVEMENT

"A few new faces will bring us back to the top of the heap in 1963," he added. "The club has experienced real success in recruiting American players."

While club policy dictated no player signing announcements until after the college year, several players have been signed, said Mr. McMahon.

"While the financial picture can not be described as rosy, the club is not on the brink of disaster," he said. "We feel 1962 certainly was the critical year . . . and good progress was made in solving our financial problems."

DESPONDENT MACHEN DETAINED . . . . . SUICIDE CONTEMPLATED?

'Everything All Wrong' for Contender

NAPA, Calif. (AP) — Eddie Machen, top - ranked heavyweight contender, was detained in a mental hospital Wednesday after a highway patrolman said he found him contemplating suicide.

The patrolman said Machen told him he planned to kill himself because he was broke, couldn't get any more fights and "everything was all wrong."

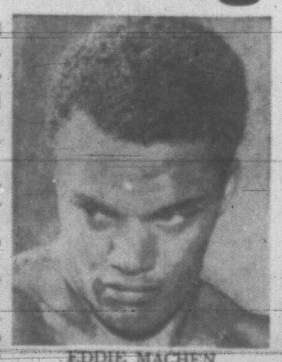
The 30-year-old Negro boxer was admitted to Napa State Hospital for observation.

Patrol Traffic Officer Bill McCluskey said he found Machen parked off U.S. Highway 40 near Vallejo, Calif., a loaded gun next to him on the seat. He was writing a farewell letter.

Dr. B. J. Whelan of the hospital staff said he would be examined today.

Patrolman Joe White, who along with another officer took Machen from Vallejo to the hospital, gave this account.

"Officer McCluskey said Machen admitted right away who he was. Machen had fired the 32-calibre pistol three times into the mud. The farewell note was addressed to his wife in Portland, Ore.



EDDIE MACHEN

"When we drove him to the hospital he said he felt so bad he might jump out of the car. But he was no trouble. Dressed neat — raincoat, slacks, sports coat. Trimmed mustache. But looked very tired.

"To tell the truth, I felt sorry for the guy."

White signed a petition for Superior Court Judge Philip Lynch in nearby Fair Field who signed the detaining order that sent Machen to Napa "for his own protection."

The Redding, Calif., boxer is scheduled to appear in court next Tuesday for the presentation of a report on his condition from the hospital.

"Developments could alter that, however," Judge Lynch said. No criminal charge was involved.

Machen is ranked No. 1 by the World Boxing Association and No. 2 behind former champion Floyd Patterson by Ring Magazine. He has won 42 fights, lost four, had two draws and has scored 24 knockouts.

CURLERS' CORNER

By Ernie Fedoruk

These short days are still too long for Alberni curlers.

Alberni's new $325,000 rink is due to open Jan. 15. You can ignore the curlers' impatience, but not the manner in which they and other Alberni citizens went to work in replacing the old curling rink destroyed by fire last February.

It was fast work. The old club, a converted army drill hall that served the Alberni Valley for 10 years, was destroyed by fire last Feb. 17. It will have taken, if all continues on schedule, only 11 months for them to replace the razed building with the modern concrete edifice that will be the envy of all neighbors.

In addition to the six sheets of curling ice, the new building includes an adjoining skating rink, locker-rooms, change rooms, a concession and clubrooms.

Majority of the $325,000 was financed by a city bond issue ($250,000). The balance (about $60,000) came from insurance and redeemed curling club bonds.

In recent days, there had been a slight delay in the installation of electrical fixtures, but club president George Dunbar is convinced curlers will be stepping into the new hacks "on or before" Jan. 15.

Alberni council, incidentally, will appoint a full-time recreational director who will also double as manager of the skating rink. The curlers, operating on a long-term lease, will look after their own end of the building. That includes the naming of a manager.

Rumbles from up-Island can be translated into meaning that Courtenay's Dr. Grant MacDonald must be considered a strong favorite in the men's Island finals this season. The Comox Valley skip has on hand the same crew that helped him claim Island honors last spring.

You have to respect the rumbles. In Frank Coates, MacDonald has one of the most capable thirds around. This, despite the fact Coates is a comparative newcomer to the slidin' sport. He was the Comox strong man last year.

Keith Acorn and Ken Aitken, who took over as the Comox Valley Club's manager this season, make up the front end.

MacDonald won his first start when Comox club playdowns got under way last weekend. Also competing in the six-rink, double-knockout competition are quartets skipped by Eric Kakoski, Dave Patterson, Joe McClure, Al Nygren and Jim Gordon.

Nanaimo, like Victoria Club, will pick its representative after a three-day showdown in the new year. Eight rinks are entered at Nanaimo, but the list fails to include defending champion Brock Wilson. Wilson passed up the playdowns this year because of a trip that had been planned for some time.

Nanaimo's skippers are Gene Koster, Bill Peters, Vern Thompson, Ken Thompson, Don MacRae, Bill Karjala, Ron Dunn and Len Phillips.

Icemaker Glen Harper is the unbeaten skip in Duncan's six-rink playdowns while Wes Young, Len Prokopow and Howie Ward are unbeaten after two rounds of play at Esquimalt.

The first step was easy and delightful for Grace Deans' rink from Duncan. No competition. It automatically gives Grace, Jean Barber, Melba Shepherd and Vera Wilson a spot in the Island ladies' finals.

Women's playdowns open at Nanaimo tonight. Foursomes skipped by Doris Fiss, Marg Fuller, Frank Sergeant and Irene Schroh are entered in the four-rink, double round-robin.

'ON BEHALF OF SPORTS

JFK Sounds Warning Note

NEW YORK (AP)—Spanked by President Kennedy for "continued bickering" that threatened United States participation in the Olympics, the Amateur Athletic Union and the new college-dominated U.S. Track and Field Federation have agreed to submit their differences to an arbitration panel.

The president called for such arbitration at his press conference in Washington Wednesday "on behalf of the country and on behalf of sports."

Kennedy warned that if the organizations refused, "we will not have an Olympic team in 1964."

"We will submit to the panel suggested by the president," said Col. Don Hull, executive director of the AAU.

"I think the president is absolutely right," said Chick Werner, head of the federation and track coach at Penn State.

"The federation has stood willing to work out a solution with the AAU and I am sure federation officials continue to hold that position," said Walter Byers, executive director of the National Collegiate Athletic Association, which spawned the federation.

AGREEMENT FAILED

The dispute between the two organizations over the control of amateur sports in the U.S. has raged for 2½ years. Attorney-General Robert Kennedy, the president's brother, sat in on a meeting between the two groups in New York last month at which a solution apparently was reached.

But the agreement quickly fell apart.

The NCAA, through federations set up in track, gymnastics, basketball and baseball, has challenged the right of the AAU to certify athletes as eligible for international competition. The AAU holds the right under international rules.

As a result of the dispute, participation in the Olympics and the Pan-American Games in Brazil next year is threatened.

At the heart of the dispute is the fact that the colleges turn out most of the amateur athletes in the sports in which they have formed federations, but the AAU controls their participation in international sport.

The federation has demanded a large voice in international affairs. A coalition of the two groups was agreed upon but disintegrated.

Traded 'Moose' Quite Unhappy

CINCINNATI (AP)—The Cincinnati Enquirer said Wednesday night that first baseman Moose Skowron, traded recently by New York Yankees to Los Angeles Dodgers for pitcher Stan Williams, plans to quit baseball and take a 10-year contract to coach baseball at Purdue University.

The story, written by Enquirer sports editor Lou Smith, quotes an "authoritative source" and said Skowron is unhappy over the manner in which Yankee manager Roy Hamey informed him of the trade.

Minnesota Back Signed By Lions

VANCOUVER (CP) — British Columbia Lions of the Western Football Conference announced the signing Wednesday of halfback Bill Munsey from the University of Minnesota.

On the backswing, the left arm should not be rigid or stiff but it should be straight and fully extended, as in the illustration.

If it's not, your swing are will be reduced—and reducing the are of the swing means reducing the power of the swing.

Also, if you let your left arm bend a bit at the point we show today, you will develop more of a chopping swing than you want. At this point, the wrists are beginning to cock naturally as the backswing continues.

If the left arm were crooked, the wrists would cock sooner, and the swing would be more upright than is necessary.

Easterners Dominate Yacht Team

MONTREAL (CP)—The Canadian Yachting Association has named its 12-man team to represent Canada at the 1963 Pan-American Games April 20 to May 4 in Sao Paulo, Brazil.

The team:

Dragon class: Skipper Dr. S. A. MacDonald, L. A. Watters, Peter Dorion, Royal St. Lawrence Yacht Club, Montreal.

Flying Dutchmen class: Skipper Troy Zegers, Andre Baby, Royal St. Lawrence.

Lightning class: Skipper Bob Bleasby, Royal Canadian Yacht Club, Toronto. Names of Bleasby's two-man crew were not available.

Finn class: Harry Jemmett, Kingston, Ont.

George Parsons of the Royal Vancouver Yacht Club, who competed in the 1956 Melbourne Olympics, will manage the team.

The committee also announced plans to send a Canadian yachting team to Europe next summer to gain experience for the 1964 Olympics.

FRESNO, Calif.—Gabe Terronez, 147, Fresno, knocked out Charley (Tiger) Smith, 143¼, San Francisco, 2.

HOOP LEADERS HERE SATURDAY

Haida Hopes High

Haidas, playing their first season in the Inter-City Basketball League, are riding a two-game win streak and have optimistic hopes of climbing to the top of the four-team circuit.

Manager Neil Sprinkling thinks Haidas can hit the top. North Vancouver Nocturnes plan to show Neil he is whistling in the dark and both could learn whether or not Chiefs are aiming too high when the two clubs tangle Saturday.

Nocturnes are currently sailing along in first place, with a four-point lead over Chiefs and New Westminster Bakers after whipping the Bakers 58-48 at New Westminster Wednesday night.

Nocturnes have a chance to stretch the margin tonight, meeting Bakers again at Vancouver before keeping their Saturday date with the Chiefs.

Blue Directional Signs Planned For City Parking

Large round blue signs with the letter 'P' will soon sprout on traffic signal poles to direct motorists to the growing number of parking facilities downtown.

The signs initially will point to the city's new View Street garage, the city's Cormorant Street surface lot, the Hudson's Bay Parkade and the Eaton's Store car park.

Eventually, the directional signs will be used to guide motorists to all off-street parking facilities with 100 car spaces or more—whether they are surface lots or garages, civic or privately owned.

Official Opening Friday Morning

City manager C. C. Wyatt will do the honors by pressing a button which will illuminate the View Street parking bulding.

Mrs. Wyatt will be the first person to drive up the ramp of the building.

Before these events, there will be some brief remarks by Mayor R. B. Wilson, Ira Hill, chairman of the Victoria Parking Commission which will operate the building, and Douglas Abbott, president of the Downtown Business Association.

150 TO START

By 10:15 a.m. the car park should be open for business—accommodating 150 cars to start.

Completion of all four split-level floors will provide a total of 400 car spaces by January. An elevator will be installed a few weeks later.

The building — 240 feet along View between Douglas and Blanshard and 120 feet deep—is the largest of the two planned under the $1,115,000 money bylaw approved by downtown ratepayers last year.

BEGIN NEXT YEAR

Construction of a 200-car building will begin by the end of February on the premises now occupied by the O'Neill Paint and Glass Company and Cantin's Moving and Storage.

This building is expected to be opened in May.

Revenue from the two buildings will be used to defray operating expenses and pay off the debentures.

Under the terms of the bylaw, if the garages don't pay their way the downtown ratepayers will make up the difference.

That way Victoria ratepayers at large will not risk anything in the venture.

Construction of the two parking garages is a key move in the city's plans for rehabilitating the downtown area and results are appearing already. Several major building projects are planned by private enterprise and the decline in property values appears to be reversing itself.

Members of the parking commission established by the city to run the car parks are all prominent businessmen:

Chairman Ira Hill, T. Eaton Company; I. C. Dinning, Canadian Imperial Bank of Commerce; Douglas Abbott, Huron and Erie Mortgage Corporation; J. H. Wilson, W. & J. Wilson Ltd.; F. N. Cabeldu, F. N. Cabeldu Limited; Charles W. Conrad, Canada Permanent Mortgage Corporation; E. Hobbs, F. W. Woolworth Co. Ltd.

Also included as ex-officio members are city comptroller James Bramley, city engineer J. C. Garnett and city solicitor T. P. O'Grady.

Parking Garage Expected to Help Revenue Reserve

Opening of the View Street civic parking garage is expected to give a big boost to a special parking meter revenue reserve fund which will be used to provide more off-street parking.

The reserve fund, established last year, is expected to reach $50,000 by the end of 1962 and revenue surpluses from the parking garage — after paying off debt installments and operating costs—probably will add to this amount annually.

The reserve fund receives street parking meter revenue over and above the equivalent of one mill in taxes — about $95,000 this year—which goes to general revenue and the operating costs.

R. O. MUNSON

New View Street Garage Offers Single Entrance

Motorists will have only one entrance to the View Street parking garage—off Blanshard.

A "storage lane" accommodating 45 cars will run from Blanshard past the garage and loop around in a "U" turn painted on the roadway to the entrance of the building.

Cars leaving the building will turn right toward Blanshard. No entry will be allowed to View Street off Douglas.

Trucks servicing stores on View Street will be allowed through the storage lane and cars intending to park in the private surface lot at the corner of Douglas and View will have to move through the storage lane, past the civic garage entrance, to the lot.

Improvements Expected to Aid Fort, Yates Street Merchants

Yates Street and Fort Street merchants are expected to benefit from the View Street parking facility.

Shopkeepers on both streets are known to be investigating plans to run pedestrian arcades through buildings to View Street so that shoppers using the garage could walk through directly to either of the flanking streets.

Engine Breakdown Traced In Fatal Pat Bay Crash

By ALEX YOUNG
Times Ottawa Bureau

OTTAWA — Two B.C. highways department officials lost their lives in a plane crash at Patricia Bay Airport May 24 this year because the pilot, one of the officials, lost control of the aircraft.

This is the finding of a Department of Transport team which investigated the accident in which the officials, D. R. McLeod and A. F. Provenzano, both of Victoria, died.

Loss of control, says the transport department report, happened when the pilot, Mr. McLeod, was confronted with failure of the left engine of the two-engine Anson V aircraft on take-off.

Mr. McLeod, said the report, held a valid private pilot licence and had accumulated a total of about 141 hours flying experience, of which 56.5 hours had been flown in Anson V aircraft. Of his Anson experience, 8.73 hours had been spent in the 90 days prior to the accident.

CLIMBED STEEPLY

In summarizing the accident, the DOT report says:

"Shortly after leaving the runway the aircraft climbed steeply to about 50 feet, slowly veering and rolling to the left in a nose-high attitude until it was inverted.

"The nose dropped and the aircraft struck the ground in a near vertical attitude. The aircraft was destroyed by the impact and fire, and the occupants lost their lives."

After a detailed technical outline of the accident and the factors contributing to it, the DOT report made this conclusion:

"The pilot lost control of the aircraft when the left engine failed during take-off."

PUMP FAILED

Cause of the failure of one of the two engines, said the DOT, was the presence of a particle of carbon in the fuel pump, which held the relief valve off its seat.

The piece of carbon came from a carbon bearing in the pump which had disintegrated. The disintegration may have been caused by the fact the bearing had been put in a reverse position earlier in its history, thus causing more wear. At the time of the crash the bearing was in its correct position, the report said.

The DOT officials, questioned on this finding, were asked if it meant there had been anything resembling "sabotage." They said this could not be sugrested. It was simply that the bearing had been improperly placed at one time and later correctly placed.

OLD SAYING

"The only conclusion we can reach from this is best illustrated by the old saying in aviation that if anything can be incorrectly done, it will be done incorrectly accidentally at one time or another," an official of the DOT explained.

The plane which crashed held a certificate of airworthiness, the DOT report said, carried a load less than its maximum, and had a centre of gravity "within the prescribed limits."

$200,000 Robbery

Manslaughter Case Blamed For Troubles

PRINCE GEORGE (CP) — Jeweler Steve Russack, 68, convicted of manslaughter, then given a one-year suspended sentence, said the case has wrecked his health and his ability to work and left him almost penniless.

Russack was charged with the rifle murder of suspected burglar Gilles Michaud, 24, last May 10.

Mr. Justice H. A. MacLean Friday ordered Russack to post a $500 bond after saying there was nothing to be gained by jailing the jeweler.

The suspended sentence followed a defence plea that the shooting incident had ruined Russack's health and craftsmanship.

"I had a heart condition before but it's worse now and my blood pressure is up," said Russack.

"My mind is ruined—I can't remember things very well any more.

"And my hands have started to shake—it finishes me as a jeweler."

He said he spent all his savings on legal fees and now is collecting welfare.

He blamed his predicament on the fact he didn't have burglary insurance.

"It was too expensive so I lived in a basement suite under the store and had a rifle."

Engine Breakdown Traced In Fatal Pat Bay Crash

By ALEX YOUNG
Times Ottawa Bureau

OTTAWA — Two B.C. highways department officials lost their lives in a plane crash at Patricia Bay Airport May 24 this year because the pilot, one of the officials, lost control of the aircraft.

This is the finding of a Department of Transport team which investigated the accident in which the officials, D. R. McLeod and A. F. Provenzano, both of Victoria, died.

Loss of control, says the transport department report, happened when the pilot, Mr. McLeod, was confronted with failure of the left engine of the two-engine Anson V aircraft on take-off.

Mr. McLeod, said the report, held a valid private pilot licence and had accumulated a total of about 141 hours flying experience, of which 56.5 hours had been flown in Anson V aircraft. Of his Anson experience, 8.73 hours had been spent in the 90 days prior to the accident.

CLIMBED STEEPLY

In summarizing the accident, the DOT report says:

"Shortly after leaving the runway the aircraft climbed steeply to about 50 feet, slowly veering and rolling to the left in a nose-high attitude until it was inverted.

"The nose dropped and the aircraft struck the ground in a near vertical attitude. The aircraft was destroyed by the impact and fire, and the occupants lost their lives."

After a detailed technical outline of the accident and the factors contributing to it, the DOT report made this conclusion:

"The pilot lost control of the aircraft when the left engine failed during take-off."

PUMP FAILED

Cause of the failure of one of the two engines, said the DOT, was the presence of a particle of carbon in the fuel pump, which held the relief valve off its seat.

The piece of carbon came from a carbon bearing in the pump which had disintegrated. The disintegration may have been caused by the fact the bearing had been put in a reverse position earlier in its history, thus causing more wear. At the time of the crash the bearing was in its correct position, the report said.

The DOT officials, questioned on this finding, were asked if it meant there had been anything resembling "sabotage." They said this could not be suggested. It was simply that the bearing had been improperly placed at one time and later correctly placed.

OLD SAYING

"The only conclusion we can reach from this is best illustrated by the old saying in aviation that if anything can be incorrectly done, it will be done incorrectly accidentally at one time or another," an official of the DOT explained.

The plane which crashed held a certificate of airworthiness, the DOT report said, carried a load less than its maximum, and had a centre of gravity "within the prescribed limits."

Manslaughter Case Blamed For Troubles

PRINCE GEORGE (CP) — Jeweler Steve Russack, 68, convicted of manslaughter, then given a one-year suspended sentence, said the case has wrecked his health and his ability to work and left him almost penniless.

Russack was charged with the rifle murder of suspected burglar Gilles Michaud, 24, last May 10.

Mr. Justice H. A. MacLean Friday ordered Russack to post a $500 bond after saying there was nothing to be gained by jailing the jeweler.

The suspended sentence followed a defence plea that the shooting incident had ruined Russack's health and craftsmanship.

"I had a heart condition before but it's worse now and my blood pressure is up," said Russack.

"My mind is ruined—I can't remember things very well any more.

"And my hands have started to shake—it finishes me as a jeweler."

He said he spent all his savings on legal fees and now is collecting welfare.

He blamed his predicament on the fact he didn't have burglary insurance.

"It was too expensive so I lived in a basement suite under the store and had a rifle."

WHAT DOES FUTURE HOLD FOR AMISH?

'The Old-Fashioned Way Is Good Enough for Us'

By JACK DONOVAN

KALONA, Iowa (AP) — The grey late-autumn sunlight filtered through the windows of the weathered one-room schoolhouse, but it did little to brighten the growing darkness inside.

The bearded Amish school teacher rose from behind his cluttered desk. "I'll turn on my lights," he said, as he raised the shades.

The remark was intended as a joke, and the Amishman smiled. He explained that the Amish, because of their religious beliefs, generally shun modern conveniences.

"Lights would be nice," he said, "especially on cloudy days but the (public) school board has never put in electric lights."

The Amish resistance to change and desire to live a quiet, unadorned 19th century existence focuses curious attention upon them and frequently brings them into conflict with a more worldly society.

WHAT IS AHEAD?

What is the future course of the Amish whose biblical interpretations and simple dress have come down through four centuries from their medieval European beginning?

"I don't know," said the school teacher, 46-year-old Amos Yoder, a college graduate and paradox among Amishmen. "I have thought about it often."

Dr. Melvin Gingerich, author of The Mennonites in Iowa writes "As long as the Amish can give their children an education in a rural setting under conditions which they can control, there will continue to be strong Amish settlements in Iowa and elsewhere.

"But if they must send their children away to consolidated schools . . . an increasingly large per cent will . . . drift away from their childhood culture."

Dan Borntreger, 62, who farms in a northeast Iowa Amish settlement near Oelwein, perhaps exemplifies the older order Amish thinking.

"The old-fashioned way is good enough for us," he said. "So why bring in the new? You don't need change. If we keep our faith on what is good enough and let it alone, we'll be nearer to God."

NEW MAY EMERGE

As the 20th century jet age overtakes the Amish horse and buggy, a new Amishman may emerge—one like school teacher Yoder.

Although he is a wordly man as Amish go and he needs only one more summer school session to obtain a masters degree in education at the nearby University of Iowa, Yoder has retained the ascetic traditions of his people.

He wears the beard (an Amishman's symbol of being married), has five children, drives the quaint horse and buggy, and dresses in a black broad-brimmed hat, baggy trousers held up by suspenders and lapelless coat fastened by hooks and eyes.

Yoder's school, operated by tax money from residents of the school district, has 21 pupils, all from Amish families. He teaches eight grades in the one room and the text books and courses conform with state regulations.

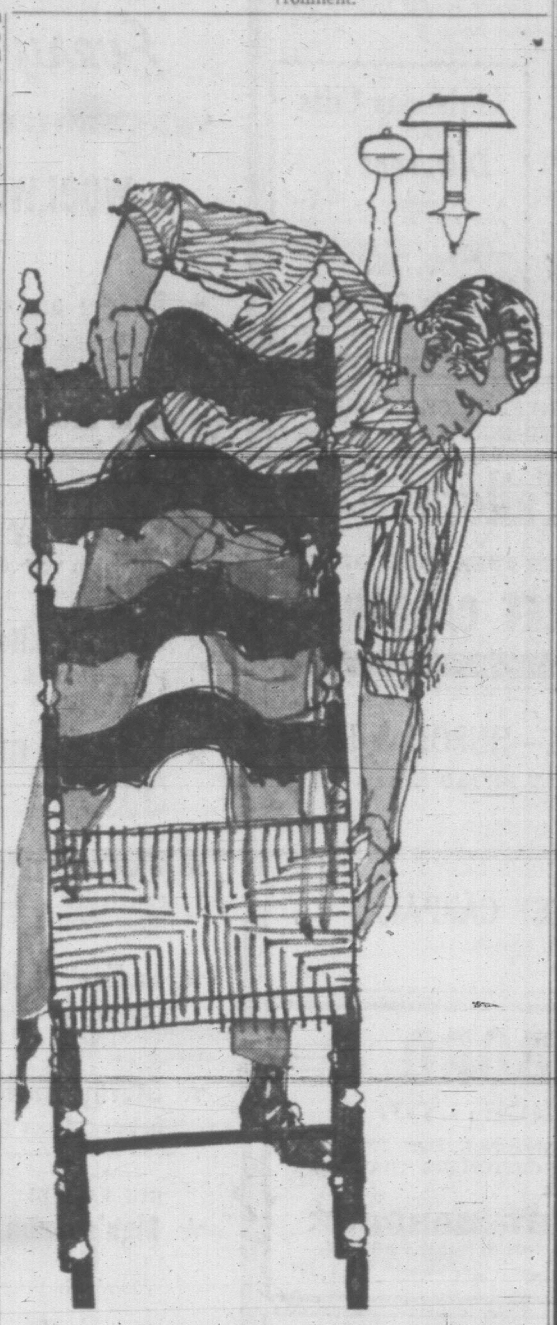
READS FROM BIBLE

"I give no (Amish) religious instruction," he said, but "I do read from a Bible story book at the opening of school each day and we sing religious songs on Friday."

The old order Amish, the most conservative branch of the Mennonite church founded in Zurich, Switzerland, in 1525, feel that an eighth-grade education is sufficient to maintain their simple farm life. Yoder gives the impression he is not so sure.

Their desire to educate their children in private and their objection to social security have involved the Amish in two new controversies.

Some 12 Amish families involving about 75 persons therefore plan to move from the Oelwein area to Canada over these controversies, and a variety of other reasons, some religious, some economic.



Negroes Admitted

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Tulane University admitted two Negro women Wednesday, less than one week after a federal court refused to order their enrollment.

Sinclair Apology Demanded on Douks

TRAIL, B.C. (CP)—T. A. McRae, chairman of the Kootenay and Boundary Citizens' Committee on Doukhobor-Canadian Affairs, has protested to the CBC over a television panelist's remarks concerning the treatment of Doukhobors in British Columbia.

Mr. McRae said in a statement he will ask for a public apology for "unwarranted and ill-informed" remarks he said were made by Gordon Sinclair on the Doukhobors situation during the Tuesday night showing of Front Page Challenge.

He gave reporters a copy of a telegram he said he sent to producers of the show in Toronto:

"Our your program Dec. 11, Mr. Gordon Sinclair passed several unwarranted and ill-informed remarks re the Doukhobor situation in B.C. We demand in the name of the citizens of B.C. a full public apology by Sinclair on the CBC news networks."

Mr. McRae said indignation was aroused by Mr. Sinclair's likening of the handling of the Doukhobor problem to the treatment of Canadian-Japanese during the Second World War.

Mr. Sinclair is a columnist with The Toronto Star and a regular member of the panel. The program features newsworthy guests who try to stump a panel of personalities.

Mr. Sinclair said in Toronto that "under no condition or any combination of conditions would he make an apology for the remarks he made.

He said it is "a national disgrace that Doukhobors, Canadians by birth, are being pushed around."

"Sure they are on our backs," he said, "but they are Canadians as I am a Canadian and shouldn't be pushed around."

He said he found no fault in the analogy he drew with the Doukhobor situation and the treatment of Canadian Japanese during the Second World War.

Don MacDonald, public relations officer of the CBC in Toronto, said until Mr. McRae's complaint is received, he would have no comment.

Mormons Give History To Premier

The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-Day Saints presented Premier Bennett with a book called "The Mormon Story" this week.

The book was dedicated to the premier and his government "in sincere appreciation of the many and varied public services rendered us as a people."

Four full-time missionaries of the church's Alaskan-Canadian Mission, Richard C. Landerman, Thomas Robinson, L. Jeffry Crane and Edward C. Colbert made the presentation on behalf of Milton Weilenmann, president of the mission.

Mr. Landerman said the premier accepted the book with thanks, and recalled happy memories of his recent trip to Salt Lake City, Utah, where he visited the famous Mormon tabernacle and the temple grounds.

The book, "Mormon Story," tells how the Mormon Church helped in the settlement of western Canada and the United States in the early days.

Christmas begins at the Bay!

Victoria Daily Times

VICTORIA, B.C., THURSDAY, DECEMBER 13, 1962 —PAGE 25

ARTHUR MAYSE

Workbound along Fort Street Wednesday morning, I glimpsed the latest act in a byplay which began immediately after the old Casanave house was cleared from property acquired by Greater Victoria School Board. A workman was turning away one of the student drivers who these last few days have been parking in the lot left vacant.

So that would seem to be the end of a spunky and to my mind rather pathetic move by a handful of kids to solve a problem which has kept their elders in a state of dither these several years.

Student-owned cars are emphatically unwelcome along the residential streets that border Oak Bay Senior High School. Oak Bay municipality has underlined the fact in its latest restrictive bylaw. A neighboring church has permitted a few cars on its grounds, but these are a mere drop from a large bucket.

How to cure what has become a headache for all concerned?

Not, it seems to me, by sweeping the dust under the carpet, the student cars off the school-adjoining streets.

At worst, that move smacks of malicious obstructionism, and since these boys are legally licenced car owners, I'm by no means sure that a smart lawyer couldn't shoot it full of holes.

At best, it's a questionable object lesson to the impressionable young in how to sidestep an issue.

As I see it, there are two obvious ways to unclutter those Oak Bay streets.

One is to change the legislation which sets licensing age at 16. This wouldn't affect boys already licensed; but in a year or two, when the present crop had moved on to college (where parking space is provided) or out to jobs, the streets would be given back to the taxpayers.

But if no such change is in the books, I think that student drivers should be given a place to park their cars, even if to do so meant an intrusion into high school grounds.

My notions are vague as to how and where the convention of an enormous greensward around every school originated. Maybe it's a hangover from the Iron Duke's apocryphal remark about the playing fields of Eton. In any case, I find the apparent assumption that every girl or boy is an eager athlete both inaccurate and naïve.

This is sheer heresy, but it seems to me that most Greater Victoria schools — and Oak Bay in particular — could shave those sacred grounds to the extent of a student parking lot and still leave plenty of room for games, exercise and additions made necessary by an expanding population.

To come out flatfooted on this embroglio, my sympathies are with the student driver. I think there's every justification for his view that he's getting a lopsided deal.

Not that I'm unaware of his group faults. Many a time, he's caused me to feel like a hunted rabbit. I suspect too that his academic record would be brighter if he were grounded, even though getting to school would become the devil's own problem for boys in certain of our boondocks where Big Brother's buses with the double cross new-painted on their fronts are more myth than reality.

Still and all, since the law allows a boy over 16 a car, there's no earthly point in denying him a reasonable spot in which to park it. Or in telling him he ought to walk.

Checking back through our files, I find those words repeated each time the student car issue has raised its beady-eyed little head.

"Let them walk! It would be better for them. Take the cars away and let them walk!"

Well, walking is no doubt beneficial, but again dealing with facts, the horseless carriage seems to be here to stay, at least until some swifter and more lethal conveyance replaces it.

Having accepted that fact, why not attempt a reasonable solution to one not-very-complex problem it has posed for us?

My faith in boys isn't all-embracing. I do believe, though, that given schoolground parking privileges, they might do a pretty good job of policing their driver group. The boys who were tucking their cars into the Casanave place until the work crew rooted them out didn't impress me as hoodlums.

Personally, and in the full knowledge that my neck is out on this one, I'd like to see them get a break.

MR. and MRS. RICHARD GUEST
. . . after 65 years of marriage

Victoria Couple Wed 65 Years

By NORMAN CRIBBENS

They've been married 65 years, but you'd never guess it to look at them.

They were married in a lonely farmhouse at Holland, Manitoba, on Dec. 20, 1897, when the thermometer dropped to 40 below and the snow was so thick they had to travel to and from their trysting place in a horse-drawn sleigh.

Since they retired to Victoria 17 years ago, Mr. and Mrs. Guest have lived in a trim well-kept house with a long front garden at 1819 Lillian Road.

ACTIVE GARDENER

Mr. Guest is still an active gardener and only 17 years ago —at the age of 80—he was pitching sheaves on his Manitoba farm.

He started farming in Devonshire, Eng., when he was eight years old and came to Canada at 23.

"If I had my time over again I'd still be a farmer," said Mr. Guest, echoing the sentiment of John James Abbott, another retired farmer, who celebrated his 95th birthday at 13 Cambridge Street last Monday.

Mr. Guest is a walking advertisement for life on the farm.

"It's a good way to live," he says, "and the best place to raise children. Let them run around barefoot in summer and help with the chores and you'll never have any trouble."

Mr. and Mrs. Guest raised nine children and all are in good health. The rest of the family consists of 11 grandchildren and 16 great-grandchildren living in Winnipeg, New Westminster, Chicago Seattle and Victoria.

In Victoria are three sons, James H., Clarence, and Gordon S. Guest, and a daughter, Viola. Most of the family will attend the 65th wedding anniversary celebrations at the senior Guest's home next Thursday, and friends will be welcome between 2 and 5 p.m.

FROM ONTARIO

Mrs. Guest was born at Port Hope, Ont., and like her husband is a staunch Canadian.

"After two years in Manitoba, I went home to Devonshire for a short stay," Mr. Guest said, "but I didn't like it after Canada and I saved as fast as I could for a return passage.

Milk Producers to Join Forces In Protest Against Price Cut

Vancouver Island herd owners, threatened by what they term a disastrous milk price cut of 30 cents a hundredweight, will join mainland producers Friday in protesting a British Columbia Milk Board order which they consider a breach of the formula under which they have worked harmoniously with distributors for the past five years.

At the meeting between milk board and B.C. Federation of Agriculture dairy groups in Vancouver, spokesmen will stress that producers don't want consumers to be burdened with a price increase.

They feel that upped dairy costs, on which the board based its Nov. 1 order, can be trimmed if dairies will reassess a sales policy made top heavy by overlapping and duplication.

As a concrete suggestion, they may offer a plan for milk sales and deliveries based on a modified zoning system.

FORMULA IN '57

The formula, which producers insist the milk board has "thrown out the window" with the contested order, was arrived at by a royal commission under Mr. Justice J. V. Clyne in 1957. It stipulated that the price paid to the dairy herd owner for milk be keyed to his operating costs.

"This has been working fine for the farmers," says John Pendray, who keeps 85 cows on his Blenkinsop Road farm. "It established harmony between the dairies and the farmer for seven years. This order is a clear breach of faith as the farmer sees it."

Mr. Pendray, speaking for the more than 50 members of Royal Oak local of Vancouver Island Dairymen's Association, stressed producer's conviction that the middleman rather than the farmer or the consumer should absorb any necessary cost increase.

"We want our milk to reach the consumer as cheaply as possible," he said, "because that's how we're going to sell more milk."

Sketching the background of the order, he referred to an August 8 petition for a price raise filed with the milk board by four mainland distributors.

The gist of it, according to Mr. Pendray, was that distributors wished to drop their price to the farmer by 30 cents a can "because they weren't making any money." He said that although milk producers attended the meeting, their representations were ignored.

Upshot of the meeting was the price-reducing order of November, which was published at Victoria as a regulation under the Milk Industry Act.

ALTERNATIVE

"The statement has been made by Mr. Carr (milk board chairman E. C. Carr) that no pressure was exerted by the distributors," Mr. Pendray said. "But if not, why was this order put through? It certainly has done anything but stabilize the price of milk—we feel it was done simply to bail out the distributors, who claimed their only alternative was to raise the consumer price."

In his own case, the producers spokesman said, he has received 31 cents a can less for milk since the order was signed Nov. 8. A milk board bulletin lists December price for Vancouver Island and Vancouver areas as $5.908 per hundredweight for qualifying milk of four per cent butterfat.

This is a drop of 25 cents from the October figure.

"Basing our calculations on the latest production figures for Vancouver Island (October's) the producers' loss for December will be in the neighborhood of $12,000," Mr. Pendray said. "The whole sum goes into the hands of the distributor out of the farmer's pocket."

If pursued, farmers warn, the milk board policy indicated by the order will lead to a drastic reduction of dairy herds, since milk plays an important part in the farm economy.

"We feel that under the formula pricing setup as it existed before the order, the milk board was doing a good job of policing," Mr. Pendray said. "Now, we're in doubt, and a lot of us are wondering whether it's worthwhile for our sons to follow us into the business.

"The whole point is: we were happy with the formula, and able to work under it, even though we took a cut when we accepted it. Now, we feel the milk board has sold us down the river."

ALBERNI COMPLAINT

Meanwhile, at Alberni, herd owners, alarmed by the order, pointed out that milk prices to the consumer haven't risen since 1958, and that if distributors can't operate within their present profit structure, they are free to raise consumer price.

Attack Turned On Three Punks

By IAIN HUNTER

A bottle wielding gas station attendant put three armed and masked men to flight in a holdup attempt early this morning.

A. B. Carson, 56, was on duty alone at Westview Service station, Trans-Canada Highway and Tillicum, at about 5 a.m. when he was held up by three hooded men.

One of the hoolums carried what appeared to be a sawed-off shotgun or rifle.

Mr. Carson was ordered to do as he was told and he would not get hurt.

"And what makes you think I'm going to get hurt?" was his reply.

A few minutes later one of the men had a quart bottle full of oil broken over his head, and all three were on the run.

His Story

"Bert" Carson, who lives at 3340 Kingsley, told the Times he was hosing down the station yard shortly before 5 a.m. this morning when the hooded men arrived.

"Two of these characters came up behind me at a gallop. One of them had what looked like a rifle of some kind. It might have been sawed off at both ends," he said.

Get In There

"One of them motioned to the office and said 'get in there and do as you're told and you won't get hurt.'

"So I looked them up and down and said 'And what the hell makes you think I'm going to get hurt?'

"They were just young punks," Mr. Carson said. "I think they were between 17 and 20 years old."

They prodded the attendant into the office, where there was a third hooded man trying to break into the cash register.

Secret Lever

"But they couldn't get in because I've got a special trip lever which unlocks it. No one knows how to operate it but me," Mr. Carson said.

"I figure they had been trying to get into the drawer, and when they couldn't, came to get me to open it."

As the two men pushed him into the office, Mr. Carson grabbed a quart bottle of engine oil from a rack near the door and smashed it over the head of the man at the cash register.

"He swayed quite a bit," he said, "and then one of the men from behind hit me with the gun."

Cut on Neck

He was taken to Royal Jubilee Hospital where he was treated for a large bruise and cut on the neck, X-rayed, and released.

The blow from behind knocked Mr. Carson's spectacles off into the oil which covered the floor. The three men also were soaked with the heavy lubricant.

"I ran into the garage and picked up a scoop shovel. I figured I could do something with that," Mr. Carson continued.

"Only then I began to think that maybe there were some bullets in the gun."

The men fled at this point. It is not known whether or not they had a car.

BERT CARSON
". . . What makes you think I'm going to get hurt?"

Accused Treated For Brain Injuries

Peter Howard Dootson, charged with the attempted murder Oct. 19 of a colleague in the staff house of Wilkinson Road Mental Home, had suffered head injuries in two accidents previous to the assault, it was testified at the preliminary hearing Wednesday.

He had undergone head surgery.

Dr. Hiro Nishioka, a neurological surgeon, testified in Saanich police court at the sixth session of the preliminary hearing, he had performed the operation in September, 1961, to remove two pieces of bone fragment which had become infected.

They were pressing on the temporal lobe of the accused's brain.

Dr. Nishioka also said he had examined Doetson in February of this year, for another head injury following a second accident.

At this time the patient only suffered concussion, he said.

The victim was covered with congealed blood, his left ear was badly mangled, and his face showed signs of being beaten under the burns, detective Stewart said.

The mattress was burned both sides and at one end, and a piece of pillow was found on it, "wet and heavy with blood," the court was told.

There also was blood splattered from the head of the bed to the ceiling on one wall, over eight feet high.

BLOOD ON FLOOR

A pair of trousers found in grass outside the building had red stains on them, and one pocket had been cut or torn out.

The missing piece of pocket was not found. Neither was a wallet containing "certain monies," the detective said.

A search was carried out in the room of the accused the next day.

Detective Stewart said that Dootson, alone of the other occupants of the staff house, was not around for questioning immediately after the assault was discovered, about 2.30 a.m.

The hearing continues today.

ASK The TIMES

Q. Could you give me a brief history of Trounce Alley? L.V.D.

A. Trounce Alley was built in 1858 by Thomas Trounce because he was mad at the city fathers for not making View a through street.

As late as 1898, Mr. Trounce had the alley barricaded for one day each year, just to remind the public of its private ownership. There was actually no real stoppage of traffic, provided each person politely asked one of the guards stationed at either end if he could pass through the barrier.

Anyone wishing a question answered is invited to send the problem along to The Times, addressed to "Ask the Times" Editor. Questions and answers will be published daily.

All questions should deal with matters of fact and be of general interest. The Times does not undertake to solve conundrums or legal problems. Nor will it attempt to put a value on old coins, stamps or antiques. These should be submitted to a dealer.

Cash Drawer Thief Chased From Store

A thief fled when caught rifling a cash register at Goodwill Enterprises, 560 Yates, on Wednesday night.

Members of the organization surprised him in the office about 7:30 p.m.

He ran upstairs and out a fire escape.

Provision Made For 300 Mourners At Stelck Rites

Provision for 300 mourners will be made at the funeral Monday of Victoria businessman Leonard Stelck, who died in a fall from a building in Seattle Tuesday.

The 47-year-old hardware proprietor had just returned with his mother, Mrs. A. H. Stelck, from a weekend in Hawaii, where they were to have had a two-week rest before Christmas.

He suddenly left a waiting bus in which they were to drive to Vancouver, climbed to the fourth floor of a nearby apartment building and was next seen standing on a fire escape looking down.

Funeral service and commital will be held at McCall's chapel and interment will be in Royal Oak Garden of Remembrance.

Final Victory Within $29,764 In St. Joseph's Hospital Drive

A $10,000 pledge by St. Joseph's Hospital Ladies' Auxiliary today brought the hospital building drive to within $29,764 of its $350,000 goal.

It was the second largest single pledge of the campaign, next to $25,000 previously pledged by the same group of women.

"They've done a tremendous job. They should be very proud of themselves," said hospital information officer Maurice Cownden.

He said the auxiliary has been working toward helping a building fund for the past two years, and recently raised $7,500 at a bazaar.

First Graduates Will Receive Certificates

Councils to Honor CD Heavy Rescue Class

First graduates of a combined Saanich-Oak Bay heavy rescue civil defence course will receive their certificates from councillors in a ceremony at Saanich police-fire hall tonight at 8.

The 18 men, representing volunteers from both municipal outside staffs and the public, will form the first units of civil defence mobile rescue teams to be established for immediate relief in civil, natural or nuclear emergency.

A start has been made at assembling an initial $2,000 rescue kit.

Training in basic rescue procedure has covered some 30 hours since October, under direction of chief rescue instructor George Bone, head of the Saanich rescue service.

Civil defence officer Davé Smith said plans are being laid for a second basic course to start in mid-January, with advanced training going on meanwhile for those who have finished the first course.

There were 11 candidates who failed the course, due either to insufficient knowledge or attendance.

Successful candidates will receive civil defence lapel badges as well as certificates signed by their municipal CD officers. From Saanich council will be Coun. Joseph Casey and Hugh Curtis; from Oak Bay, Coun. Walter Dodsworth.

Council representatives will attend with Saanich engineer Neville Life, Oak Bay engineer and CD officer Geoffrey White and instructors Clint Fotheringham, Bill Craven and Eric Gravenor.

Those from Oak Bay are R. C. Cooney, Herbert Thornber, K. G. Todd, M. F. Phillipse, F. W. Stoddard, Bertie Pollard, A. J. Buckler, H. J. Pylypa, E. W. Marshall, H. B. Thomson and J. H. Higgs.

SHOPPING GUIDE

The Eternal Basic Dress A Party Season 'Must'

By Penny Saver

Have you stopped long enough in the Christmas rush to examine your wardrobe to see if you are prepared for the unexpected informal parties that always crop up during the season? We always seem to be ready for the parties that have sent out advance warning but never for the surprises. They always seem to throw everyone, except the super-organized type, into a tizzy.

The ever-faithful basic dress is the answer, but it doesn't have to be eternally black. This year there is a wonderful selection of basic dresses in fine wool crepe that are only $19.95. There are a whole host of colors to choose from including watermelon pink, daffodil yellow, ice blue, grey, green, and, black if you must. Sizes range from 12 to 20.

There are two styles to choose from—one has a plain round neck and the other a slightly boat neckline. The skirts are straight with a slight fullness over the hips for those who have already tried the Christmas goodies.

The belt is a self-fabric tie sash and sleeves are three-quarter length. That's it—the basic dress, ready to be worn once you dress it up or dress it down.

While you are in this store shopping you might like to pick up a pantie set in a double-duty box for a young lady on your gift list.

One set comes in a jewel box with three pairs of fancy panties and costs only $2.98. Another box is a fancy Kleenex holder filled with four pairs of panties for $2.98. Seven pairs of panties marked with the days of the week are $3.97 without an extra container.

A 'Winter Rhapsody' Repeated Tonight

Many Victorians enjoyed a pre-Christmas feast of dancing on Wednesday evening when they attended "Winter Rhapsody," first dance recital of the Vivian Briggs' School of Dance. Held in Oak Bay Junior High School auditorium, recital was sponsored by the Victoria and Vancouver Island Multiple Sclerosis Society.

For those who missed Wednesday's evening's performance there is still another chance to treat the family to a delightful evening out. There will be a repeat performance this evening at the Oak Bay Junior High School, beginning at 8:15 p.m. As on Wednesday, proceeds will be used to assist multiple sclerosis victims.

Whatever the taste — modern, nostalgic old-world setting or the futuristic space theme—all were served up in a delightful combination of dancing, music and costume that left the audience enthralled.

For the "ever young" there was a ballet in a doll shop that had everything from frisky elves and precise toy soldiers to a very sophisticated leopard. Narrator for this piece of delightful whimsy was Victoria's flower girl, Risha Golby.

Julia King and Jean MacKay starred as the earth girl and boy who danced through a breath-taking experience that found them landing on the planet Mars, the girl being put under a spell by the Martians and eventually dying and the boy finally captured by the eerie Martians.

And, of course, there were Christmas fairies a-plenty as the school portrayed scenes from "A Midsummer Night's Dream," all ably assisted by the singing of Peggy Walton-Packard.

Deborah McIntyre, who was chosen from 150 dancers to appear in the New York city ballet's production of "A Midsummer Night's Dream" never failed to captivate her audience as she appeared in numbers throughout the show.

Also adding to the success of the evening were soloists, Rino Elverhoy and Johnny Page.

WHY GROW OLD?

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Different Parts of the Face Require Different Treatment

Often, different parts of the face require different care and treatment. Suppose, for instance, that the skin of your face and neck is very dry but you have an oily nose. In this instance you must use a combination treatment.

Lowman

Cleanse your your face and neck (all except your nose) with cleansing cream. After removing the cleansing cream, allow a lubricating cream to soak into your epidermis.

Use no cream on your nose at all. Wash it with soap and water. Rinse well and apply an astringent or some alcohol or a drying lotion which a dermatologist can give you.

I do not recommend massaging cream into the skin except in certain circumstances. I believe that it is much better to pat it into the skin easily. Exceptions are under the jaw and when lubricating crow's feet at the corners of the eyes.

You can slap briskly along and underneath the jawline with benefit. Massage along the little lines at the corners of the eyes, using a fingertip in a rotary motion. Of course you must apply cream first.

You will be surprised to see that you can, to a great extent, "iron" out the crow's feet if you do this faithfully each day or night.

The eyelids and the skin under the eyes must be treated very gently. Lightly pat a special eye cream around the eyes. Let this remain on all night. If you do not apply it too heavily it is not unattractive.

Many women are bothered with puffs and lines under the eyes. If this is your problem you will find lots of helpful suggestions in my leaflet, "Puffs and Lines Under the Eyes." If you would like to have a copy, send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 60 to Josephine Lowman in care of this newspaper.

DEAR ABBY . . .

He Needs Enlightenment!

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I am married to an outdoor man. In the summer it's fishing and in the winter it's hunting. Don't get me wrong. I want him to enjoy life, but is it asking too much of him to spend a weekend a month with me and the children? I would like him to take us to a movie and have dinner out once a month. He leaves every Saturday at sun-up and doesn't come back until late on Sunday. Then he hands me the car keys and says, "Here—take the kids to a show so I can sleep." Am I being unreasonable?

SPORTSMAN'S WIFE.

DEAR WIFE: Not in my opinion. How about this approach: "Look, dear, if you don't want to waste any of your spare time on me, that's OK. I'll always be around, both wiser and sadder. But the kids are growing up and away from you. Soon they'll be gone. You'll have memories of hunting and fishing, but none of your family. That'll be an open space in your life that you won't like. Think it over before it's too late."

DEAR ABBY: What's your opinion of a woman who works out when she has 4 children at home under the age of 5?

WONDERING.

DEAR WONDERING: She is either desperately and unfortunately eager to get out of the house, or she desperately and unfortunately needs the income.

DEAR ABBY: A few years after my marriage I came down with polio. I was left with a slight disability which slowed me down a little. I can still do my own housework, although somewhat awkwardly. For years my mother-in-law (who was a fast worker) would come in and, if I was sweeping, she would take the broom from my hands and say, "Let's get this done!" Not wanting to hurt her feelings because I knew she meant well, I said nothing but I felt like crying.

Now I see the same thing happening to a friend who has another kind of crippling disease. Only it's her mother who tries to help her. My friend was drying her dishes and broke a cup. Her mother sat her down, took the towel and said, "Let me do it or you won't have any dishes left!" I knew how it must have hurt. Please print this, Abby. There are so many who mean well but don't know better.

SLOW WORKER.

BE SMART—

Jewelry plays a major role in the fashion theatre this season; and the right jewelry can determine the total effect of an ensemble. A baroque hair ornament—as shown—heads off an outfit with compliments galore. This one is done in the old-fashioned tradition and has pearl teardrops for a touch of modern verve. A novel necklace appears in white mink, clasped with a crystal and topaz brooch.

Party Hosts

Days of the Klondike gold rush were recalled when members of the Xi Nu Chapter, Beta Sigma Phi entertained their husbands and friends at a Klondike-style Christmas party in the War Amputations of Canada Hall on Saturday evening. Entertainment included a lively can-can chorus and songs and melodies of the Klondike era. Guests were welcomed by the conveners, Mrs. Fred Breen and Mrs. P. Smith.

Represent League

Mrs. A. C. Niehaus, president of the Diocesan Council, accompanied by Mrs. J. A. McLellan, past president, will represent the Catholic Women's League of the Diocese of Vancouver Island at the consecration of His Excellency, the Most Rev. Remi J. De Roo, S.T.D., Bishop-elect of Victoria, on Friday in the Basilica of St. Boniface, Manitoba.

Shower

Bride-elect Miss Suzanne McElmoyle was honored at a cup and saucer shower in the Arundel Drive home of Mrs. Jack Corry. Co-hostess was Mrs. John Spriggs. Red poinsettias and candlelight set a Christmas theme for the party. Chrysanthemum corsages were presented to the guest of honor, her mother, Mrs. W. McElmoyle and her grandmother, Mrs. E. Finley. Gifts were in a box decorated with silver paper and red bows. Other guests included Mrs. John Rowland, Mrs. Gilbert Margison, Mrs. W. McElmoyle, Jr., and the Misses Margaret Towers, Marilyn McElmoyle, Joan Moffat, Judy Pope and Barbara Watkins.

Mr. and Mrs. B. K. Doherty, 4020 Saanich Road, have announced the engagement of their eldest daughter, Sharon Elizabeth, to Mr. William Michael Champion, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Champion, 31 Wellington Avenue. The wedding will take place on Saturday, December 29 in Sacred Heart Church at 10 a.m. Fr. J. Planeta will officiate. (Photo by F. W. Barnes Studio.)

Makes $170

Founder's Day tea and bazaar arranged by Sir James and Lady Douglas Chapter, IODE, realized a sum of $170 it was reported at meeting held in the Terrace Avenue home of Mrs. M. Lougheed.

Yearly donation of oranges was made to Veterans' Hospital at the meeting. A sum of $28 was voted for library books for the adopted school at Upper Kispoix, Hazelton, and three yearly subscriptions of the IODE magazine Echoes to other adopted schools.

In connection with a continuing project of the chapter —to assist and aid the Victorian Order of Nurses in this city through donations of cod liver oil and other necessities —a stethescope and attachment and hand-made woollens were presented this month.

You Can Help

One of India's most progressive slums, Idgah, may soon disappear. The slum, considered one of the worst in India before the Unitarian Service Committee of Canada organized a concentrated program of self-help for years ago will be swallowed up by industry. Land has been allotted five miles from the original site for the 5000 families involved, and a new housing development is now planned. The houses, a family "do-it-yourself project", will be built according to a specific pattern, and will consist of two rooms, a bathroom, a kitcher and verandah. Each will have its own back yard, an unheard of luxury. The Central Social Welfare Board calls the Idgah project one of the best in the country. It is one of 85 projects of world relief and rehabilitation sustained by the USC. USC is appealing for $300,000 — by Christmas Day. Mail your donation to The Times, 2631 Douglas St., or leave at Bank of Montreal, Douglas and Yates.

Covers 10,000 Miles To Open Eskimo Hall

TORONTO (CP) — After a 10,000-mile trip that took her to the Arctic and the Yukon, Mrs. Peter Robinson, national president of the Imperial Order Daughters of the Empire, is now returned to her home here.

Mrs. Robinson visited Tuktoyaktuk, near the mouth of the Mackenzie River, Nov. 29 to open a $16,000 community hall for the Eskimos and then visited IODE chapters in Whitehorse and Dawson City.

Mrs. Robinson said more than 400 Eskimos, "every grown man, woman and child," attended the opening of the hall—a much-needed facility in a community where homes are often 12 feet square.

She said the Eskimos were fascinated by her sealskin parka which she wore to fight the 40-degree-below-zero temperature.

Mrs. Robinson bought the jacket when she opened the IODE community hall at Frobisher Bay.

Christmas Carol

Students Present Christmas Play

Outstanding treat of a play performed by young people, was enjoyed by members of the Women's Canadian Club, Wednesday afternoon, when they attended the annual Christmas tea in the ballroom of the Empress Hotel.

Play, "The Little Star," was presented by Anne Gates, Ruth Sawbridge, Ricky Gross, Dave Scholefield, Judy Windsor, Judy Tuttle, Beverley Polson, Sheila Harrison, Inge Bertelsen, all of Mount Newton Junior Secondary School Drama Club. Play was directed by Mrs. R. G. Phillips.

David MacFarlane acted as narrator and also supervised lighting effects. Others in the backstage crew were Bob Hewlett, Gary McKevitt, Edwina Wilkinson, Georgina Wood, Sandra Ruckle, Inge Bertelsen, April Tennant, Mrs. J. Southern, Linda Anstey, Heather Britton, and Diane Higgs.

In addition to the play, a program of carols rounded out the pre-Christmas party.

Mrs. George R. Pearkes, honorary president, was a special guest at the head table. Using novel rhymes, president Mrs. F. M. Corbett introduced Mrs. Pearkes and other head table guests.

They were Mrs. W. A. C. Bennett, honorary vice-president; Miss E. L. Forbes, program chairman; Dr. Olga Jardine, Mrs. H. H. Youson, Miss Mary Ashworth, Mrs. Charles L. Smith, Mrs. F. L. Watters, Mrs. H. Summers Clark, Mrs. H. L. Smith, Mrs. Percy B. Scurrah, Mrs. P. J. Mulcahy, Mrs. Dorothy Wrotnowski and Mrs. Pat Dufour.

Tea tables shimmered with mobile silver, gold and scarlet stars that were suspended from miniature gilded trees. Completing the attractive decor were cedar boughs and placings of gilded laurel leaves and lighted red candles. Decorations were by Mrs Youson.

Presiding at the tea urns were Mrs. Margaret Harvey, Mrs. Harold Campbell, Mrs. W. H. Wilson, Mrs. T. H. Johns, Mrs. F. G. Aldous, Mrs. Kenneth Drury, Mrs. Bruce Hutchison, Mrs. Scurrah, Mrs. Alan J. Campbell, Mrs. W. G. Wilson, Dr. Jardine, Miss Ethel Bruce, Mme. Lugrin Fahey, Mrs. H. S. Grove, Miss Kathleen Agnew, Dr. Margaret Newton, Mrs. M. J. K. Snape, Mrs. D. Leslie Macdonell, Mrs. R. H. Baking Competition At Happy Valley

Approximately $150 was realized at annual Happy Valley Guide and Brownie bazaar, held in Luxton Hall. Affair was opened by Mrs. A. M. Thomas, Juan de Fuca division commissioner.

Mrs. W. Hutchison, Mrs. F. J. Wilway and Mrs. A. Hankin were judges of cake baking contest for guides and brownies that proved to be a highlight. Mrs. R. A. Campbell convened arrangements.

Prizes were presented by Mrs. J. Simons, Rivers district commissioner.

Mrs. J. R. Van Humbeck placed first in bread baking competition. Mrs. W. Hobbis was second, and Mrs. Geoffrey Johnson, third. Judges were Mrs. H. Johnson and Mrs. Dave Willson.

Stall conveners were: Mrs. W. Hobbis, Mrs. R. Willing, Mrs. B. F. Nikkels, Mrs. J. Chidlow, Mrs. A. G. Winter, Mrs. G. C. Andrews, Mrs. A. J. Green, Mrs. M. Bouveur, Mrs. W. Williams, Mrs. Geoffrey Johnson, Mrs. H. Chidlow, Mrs. G. Collins and Mrs. F. Crowthers.

Mrs. Drummond and Mrs. J. Doran were in charge of wardrobe of doll given as door prize. They also convened toy stall.

Last week I faced a problem . . . one that many of you will face in the busy weeks ahead . . . what to wear when attending a reception direct from work. I had a brainstorm and wore a basic green wool dress and carried my aurora jewellry in my hand bag. Quick change of jewellry and I was on my way.

CLUB WOMEN'S NEWS

Re-elected—Mrs. M. Moore was re-elected president of the Afternoon Branch of Christ Church Cathedral Woman's Auxiliary at recent annual meeting. Other officers are: First vice-president, Mrs. H. S. Langford; second, Mrs. P. Jensen; recording secretary, Mrs. R. M. Smith; treasurer, Mrs. G. A. P. Harris; prayer partner, Mrs. C. Simmons; Dorcas, Mrs. T. E. Brown; united thank-offering, Mrs. G. J. Fielder; educational, Mrs. R. O. Taylor; extra cents, Mrs. J. R. MacDonald; Living Message, Miss E. Brown; social service, Mrs. J. M. Ball. Dean Brian Whitlow conducted installation service and dedication of officers. Mrs. Taylor and Mrs. Jensen convened the Christmas party which followed.

Reports—Mrs. L. M. Roskelley, educational secretary, reported books valued at $11.65 had been sent to Saturna Island School when members of the Florence Nightingale Chapter, IODE, met in her home on Fifth Street for meeting at which Mrs. G. C. Baker presided. Miss Marjorie Hurst, services at home and abroad, announced that hand-knitted wool socks and layette sets had been sent to Korean children. Members brought donations of fruit juices, soups, jelly powders and cake mixes for city's retarded children.

'Doughnut Skirt' Easily Made From Wide Material

"Dear Eunice Farmer,

"What in the world is a "doughnut skirt"? I have seen them advertised in ready-to-wear and they are quite expensive. Is it possible to make one yourself?"

Mrs. V. K.

Dear Mrs. V. K.:

A "doughnut skirt" is cut from a large piece of fabric in a complete circle, as the name implies. There are no side seams. Simply cut out a circle for the waistline and clip one side for the slide fastener closing.

Be careful when cutting the centre for the waistline; it is very easy to cut it too large. I would suggest you machine stitch your proposed seamline, clip the curved edge and pin to your waistband. If it is too small, you then cut the centre a little larger.

These skirts usually can be cut from wool that is 60 inches wide or felt that is 72 inches wide. Most wool material is not wide enough for this type of skirt—except in small sizes

TODAY'S RECIPE

MARZIPAN

One pound almond paste, ½ cup light corn syrup, 1 jar (1 pint) marshmallow topping, 2 teaspoons vanilla, 6 cups sifted confectioners sugar, vegetable coloring (liquid).

Combine almond paste, corn syrup, marshmallow topping and vanilla; mix thoroughly. Add sugar, 1 cup at a time, mixing well after each addition (knead in the last 2 or 3 cups with the hands) until marzipan is satiny. Mold small pieces into fruit and vegetable shapes (a garden catalog is helpful). Insert artificial leaves where needed (huckleberry leaves from the florist can be used) while marzipan is soft. Let stand several hours to dry surface before painting. Paint with vegetable coloring, diluted and mixed as necessary, using artist's brushes. Roll "potatoes" in a mixture of cocoa and cinnamon instead of painting. Roll "strawberries" after painting. Makes about five dozen pieces.

RIBBON ROCKET

Cut ⅝ inch ribbon that sticks to itself, into 12-inch lengths. Take one piece, holding one end in each hand with thumbs up, two inches apart. Roll the ends toward each other. Continue until shanks tighten. Each twist should slip under the one above it but may need coaxing. Now, hold the ends four inches apart and rotate the rocket point down in a clockwise direction until the shanks become taut. Moisten a scrap piece of ribbon to fasten the end.

Pacifist Group Said 'Crucified'

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Nobel prize-winning scientist Linus C. Pauling said today the House committee on Un-American activities had chosen the Christmas season "to crucify" a group of woman peace workers.

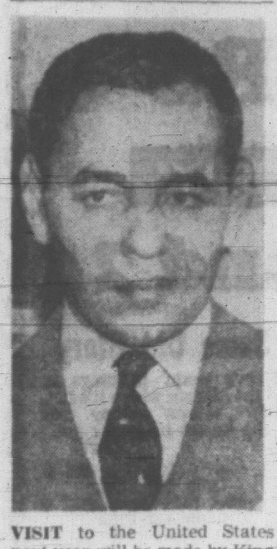
The atomic scientist said the House committee's investigation of peace organizations was "an outrageous violation of the right of freedom of speech guaranteed by our constitution."

He said the committee was guilty of "a shameful action" in investigating to determine whether Communists had infiltrated a group called "women strike for peace."

Four woman members from metropolitan New York were questioned by the committee Wednesday. All refused on constitutional grounds to say whether they were Communists. The inquiry continued today with Mrs. Dagmar Wilson, Washington, D.C., housewife and founder of the women's group, as the chief witness.

Pauling, in a telegram to Mrs. Wilson's group, said the committee investigation was an "oppressive action in order to frighten the American people into silence about their opposition to the dangers of militarism."

"This festering sore in our government has appropriately selected the Christmas season to crucify the women of 'women strike for peace' who are working for peace on earth and good will toward men," he said.



VISIT to the United States next year will be made by King Hassan of Morocco, it was announced Wednesday. During his trip Hassan will hold talks with President Kennedy in Washington.

Urban Renewal Grant Request Report Prepared

Completion of a draft formal application for federal and provincial urban renewal grants is expected at City Hall before the end of the month, officials said Wednesday.

A complex and detailed report on the north Blanshard redevelopment project is required by the senior governments before they decide whether or not to provide up to 75 per cent of the $1,200,000 cost.

ROOF FALL-IN KILLS FIVE

HILLSBORO, Ore. (AP)—Fourteen men plummetted 60 feet to the ground when a partly completed reservoir roof collapsed Wednesday night. Five were killed.

The other nine were injured and one of them was in serious condition.

The men were only a half-hour from pouring the last concrete on the doomed roof of the reservoir when scaffolding supporting the roof gave way.

RUM BLAST KILLS TWO

SAN JUAN Peurto Rico (AP)—A vat in an illegal rum distillation plant exploded at nearby Corolonas Wednesday, killing two men. Police said antiquated equipment probably caused the blast.

Next Year May Prove Test for Forest Fire Program

Next year may prove the payoff year for a new concept in B.C. forest firefighting, Forest Minister Ray Willison said Wednesday.

He was opening a meeting here of fire protection officers from throughout the province.

The officers will discuss every facet of firefighting and lay plans for next year's campaign.

B.C. launched a new protection program this year after disastrous fire losses in 1961 cost the government $5,000,000 and caused $13,000,000 worth of damage.

But there wasn't much chance to prove the effectiveness of the new program—based on the use of aircraft rather than men—because of poor weather.

This summer there were 4,536 fires costing $529,000, compared with a 10-year average of $3,100,000 worth of damage.

Mr. Williston said the former firefighting program of taking men off the streets was both inefficient and expensive.

Chairman of the forest protection officers' meeting is H. B. Forse, head of the forest service's protection division.

Topics under discussion include use of aircraft, lookouts, maintenance of roads and research.

The Bradley, C34B1X, Deluxe 23" TV
The Kenmar, L53C1X, Imperial 23" TV
The Salem, L43A1X, Custom 23" TV
The Bonville, L53B9X, Imperial 23" TV

Here is fine furniture—a collection of Decorator Approved Originals in Danish, Early American, French and Italian Provincial stylings. Many Admiral cabinets are handcrafted in genuine veneers with hardwood solids.

Another pleasure awaits you—when you tune a new Admiral. You'll view the best picture in television history—brighter, clearer, more fun to watch than anything you've ever seen. Cast your eyes on Admiral TV for '63—best looking yet!

New TV control centre with "Digital" tuning is another Admiral first. Turn the channel selector and large, evenly lit, soft-green numbers flash across the panel. More reliable, too ...no pilot light to burn out!

Admiral-pioneered Compactron tube solidly "locks-in" the picture to your screen. And, because it's stronger and more dependable than other tubes, you save on service calls.

Safety Glass and built-in tinted optic filter are sealed directly on the aluminized picture tube face plate. There's no bothersome glass to remove and clean, no dust behind the glass anywhere ... no danger of tube breakage!

Andy sends a complete, 20-volume set of the World Book Encyclopedia to Ellen Barnes, age 10, of Sarasota, Fla., for her question:

What Makes the Bubbles in Boiling Water?

Every up-to-date young person knows that water is made from tiny water particles and that all water particles are alike. Some experts call them molecules. But in any case, a water particle is different from, say, a salt molecule. It is different from a molecule of any other substance in the universe.

Water is water, and every water molecule must obey the special set of natural laws for water. We can test a chemical, and if it obeys these laws we know that it is water. It has a certain weight. It reacts to other chemicals in a certain way. It reacts to gravity, pressure and temperature in a certain way, which brings us to the dancing bubbles which form in a pot of boiling water.

Under normal conditions of pressure at the surface of the earth, water must freeze solid when the temperature falls to 0 degrees centigrade. Between 0 and 100 centigrade degrees, water must become a liquid. When it reaches its boiling point of 100 degrees, liquid water must turn to gas.

On an ordinary stove, this transformation does not happen all at once. Here and there a pocket of water molecules near the flame reaches the boiling point and turns to gas. The gas needs more room. It expands evenly in all directions, and this makes a little round bubble. Since gas is lighter than water, up, up floats the bubble to the top, and there it joins the air and mingles with the other invisible gases around us. If the pot boils long enough, all its water turns to bubbling gas and disappears.

Molecules Attract Each Other

Wet water molecules attract each other and cling together. The energy they use to obey this and the other water rules comes from heat. And there is still a little heat energy left in a chilly ice cube. The molecules in liquid water have enough energy to stay on the go constantly. A glass of water looks perfectly still. But its long links of clinging molecules are actually swinging around and around in an endless game of follow-the-leader.

At that certain temperature which is the boiling point, the energy in the water is greater than the energy which attracts the molecules to each other. They separate, and when free molecules go their separate ways, the substance becomes a gas. The bubbles in boiling water are made of water molecules, but they must now obey the natural laws which apply to gases. They spread out, float up through the heavier liquid water and join the filmy gases of the air.

Andy sends a Hammond's International World Globe to Betty Owensby, age nine, of Dallas, Tex., for her question:

How did the White Sands of New Mexico get their name?

At some time in the distant past, New Mexico and the southwest were swamped by shallow seas. Silty sands, muddy debris and other chemicals dissolved and floated in the ancient seas just as salty chemicals still dissolve in the sea. Sizable fragments of chemicals tend to sink and form dregs and sediments on the sea floor. In the White Sands region, the sea floor was carpeted with gypsum.

When the sea went back to its home, the gypsum sediments were left on the dry land. They formed layers of sand which the wind soon blew into rolling dunes. And this gypsum sand is white. Under the brilliant desert sun, the rolling dunes are as dazzling as a white snow field. White Sands is the most suitable name that anyone could possibly find for the place.

The largest inland sea or lake is the Caspian Sea with a total area of approximately 169,500 square miles.

Science Fair Movement Grows

By JACK HUTTON

WANTED: Young Canadian high school students with an interest in science. The top two will win an expenses-paid trip to Great Britain next summer.

That's a phony advertisement, of course—but it sums up in a nutshell the pressure building up for the 1963 science fair sweepstakes.

The science fair movement, which began in Canada with a Winnipeg exhibition in 1957, expects to see 28 regional science fairs across Canada next spring.

Ever since 1957, teen-agers in Canada have been amazing their elders with science fair exhibits that deal with everything, from beta-ray spectrometers to moths, fossils—or the Milky Way.

I chatted this week with E. C. Le Scelleur, a soft-spoken man whose job it is to co-ordinate Canadian science fairs from his Ottawa office. He had one main message. YOU could win national honors with YOUR exhibit.

National Honors

Quebec City and St. Catharines, Ont., are only a few of the cities across Canada planning regional science fairs for the first time. Who knows, if this carries on, it could almost rival the Grey Cup!

How do you enter a science fair? Well, if your school or if someone in your area is sponsoring one next spring, it's simple. Speak to your science teacher and he or she will guide you from there.

If you don't know about any science fair in your area, you still have a slim chance. Said Mr. Le Scelleur: "An exhibit may be sent to our special admission committee which would then contact a service club or the school in your area."

As someone who can barely hammer a nail into a board, I was fascinated to read about exhibits of recent years.

Last year's national fair in Ottawa saw 10 exhibits in physics; 10 in zoology; seven in medicine or health; five each with chemistry and geology; three with mathematics; two each with applied engineering and astronomy; and one with botany.

Originality

A project must show "original research, or be a demonstration of a biological, chemical, physical, mathematical or technical priciple, a laboratory or other procedure, an industrial development or an orderly collection of anything in the broad concept of pure or applied science."

"Don't figure that someone in Grade 12 has a better chance of winning than someone in Grade 9," Mr. Le Scelleur warned. Judges say that originality is something that can easily win for the younger student."

The rules are simple. Any secondary school student may enter a local fair. Closing dates for your entries vary, according to the local fair. But the second national fair, to be held in Toronto May 3 and 4, won't accept exhibits two weeks before it's held.

Well, you might enter. What do you do now? There are four steps before you: the idea (this might come from your own thinking, a science class, or someone else's suggestion), the actual project, interpreting that project, and making the exhibit.

NEVER, say the judges, think about the exhibit as the first step. "The exhibit is just one part of a learning and creating process," they claim.

Who won last year? Top girl was Carol Blane of Verdun, Que., who grew plants in various controlled solutions. (A Grade 9 student, by the way!) Top boy was Pierre Racette, a Grade 12 student in Joliet, Que., who enquired into the "quantitative variation with time in the microscopic fauna of a pond . . ."

There are many more details, but don't figure that YOU haven't a chance. For further details, speak to your local science teacher or write: The Canadian Science Fairs Council, 48 Rideau Street, Ottawa, Ont.

Girl Guides

You can watch for changes in Canada's Girl Guide movement in the next few years.

Miss Henrietta Osler, Chief Commissioner of Girl Guides of Canada, said in Montreal recently that the organization is being carefully studied right now.

"We want to see that the program is meeting the needs of the girl in Canada," she said. "Where we find the need to alter or modify this, it will be done."

How long will the study take? Estimates vary from two years up to four years. But, most important of all, the study is including the opinions of Girl Guides as well as outsiders.

"I feel it is very important that we should consider what the Guides think is needed to improve or alter Guiding in Canada," Miss Osler said.

Despite these upcoming changes, Guides are planning already for 1964, when provincial camps will be held in every province. The theme of the camps: "Our Cultural Heritage."

We're still getting "throw-away" gags submitted by faithful readers. Here's a time-honored one making its rounds again among the drugstore set:

What did the letter say to the stamp? Answer: "You're square but you send me."

Got any more?

Druggists Refused Exemption

B.C. druggists have been refused exemption from minimum wage and hours of work laws.

The B.C. Pharmaceutical Association applied for the exemptions to the Industrial Relations Board.

A board spokesman said today the request had been turned down after hearings and an investigation.

The druggists asked, in effect, for permission to pay whatever wages they liked and to make their employees work unrestricted hours.

The Pharmaceutical Association contended it was a professional group and should be exempt from work and wage legislation as are doctors and lawyers.

Druggists must pay their full-time employees at least 65 cents an hour, under the Minimum Wage Act. The Hours of Work Act limits the drugstore work week to 48 hours with a maximum of nine hours a day.

AIRLINE LOSES COINS VALUED AT $6,470

VANCOUVER (CP)—Officials of Trans-Canada Air Lines said Wednesday they have asked police across the country to look for a collection of gold coins—valued at $6,470—missing from one of their planes.

Airline spokesmen said the coins vanished at Montreal, Toronto or Vancouver. They comprised a collection being shipped by Samuel Montagu and Company of London to the Bank of Nova Scotia in Toronto on TCA flight 851 on Nov. 21.

The coins, 100 United States $5 gold pieces and 500 English sovereigns, did not reach their destination.

Airline officials said the flight from London stopped at Montreal, Toronto and Vancouver but that they had no idea where the box was taken off.

FUNERAL SERVICE was to be held today at Duncan for Douglas C. Helin, 20, whose body was found in his car Sunday by skin divers in Cowichan Bay. He had been reported missing a month ago and police say the car went off the end of a dock.

Traditional Yule Customs Speech Topic

Origin of traditional Christmas customs will be described by Dr. Douglas Leechman at a meeting of the English Speaking Union, Victoria branch, in the Douglas Building cafeteria Monday at 8 p.m.

George Brand of Victoria College, the newly-elected president, will be in the chair.

At a meeting of the new board of directors, following the annual general meeting, the following additional officers were named:

Lady Maze and C. Norman Senior, vice-presidents; C. H. Ker-Cooper, treasurer; Mrs. H. S. Grove, recording secretary; Mrs. H. L. Smith, corresponding secretary.

These with the two immediate past presidents, N. A. Swainson and Dr. W. H. Hickman, were designated as the executive committee.

The following were elected to the board of directors:

Transportation Study

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy has recommended the government provide $1,000,000 to launch a study of transportation needs in the heavily populated area between Washington and Boston. Kennedy, Tuesday, endorsed a White House report which called for an analysis of all types of transportation now in use in what it called the "northeastern megalopolitan corridor."

COMMERCIAL AREAS

Saanich Readies New Zoning Law

A comprehensive commercial zoning bylaw has been completed by the Saanich planning department.

Designed to protect property owners and to promote orderly commercial development, its endorsement by council will be sought by Coun. Robert Chard at a lands and planning committee meeting Monday.

It will be one of the last acts of the councillor, an ardent supporter of town planning, who was defeated in the Dec. 6 elections. He leaves at the end of the month.

The bylaw is Mr. Chard's "baby." He suggested months ago that the planning department take a good look at municipal zoning regulations.

He asked for a thorough investigation into the matter to prevent costly mistakes involving traffic and the development of residential districts.

DO MANY THINGS

If approved by council, the bylaw will do many things. It will ensure, for example, proper landscaping of commercial developments in certain areas.

It will also make off-street parking mandatory.

"The planning department has done a wonderful job," said Mr. Chard in describing the bylaw as a "break-through" in commercial planning. "Over a period of years, this bylaw can save taxpayers thousands of dollars."

With the exception of some regulations governing shopping centres, commercial development in Saanich up to now has been a haphazard affair. There are no overall regulations, and zoning is dependent on the discretion of council.

This has frequently led to clashes between council and ratepayers who have charged time and again that council deals with zoning matters in an arbitrary fashion.

Some councillors on the other hand are reluctant to support zoning bylaws because they tie their hands.

But the problems arising from the lack of a commmercial zoning bylaw has forced the majority of councillors to come around to the view that regulations are needed if taxes and costs for services are to be curbed.

9 IN MEMORIAM

STAFFORD—In loving memory of my dear husband, Alf Stafford, who passed away Dec. 13, 1961.

Nothing can ever take away
The love a heart holds dear.
Fond memories linger every day,
Remembrance keeps him dear.

Sadly missed by his loving wife, Sadie.

"F-O-R-E-S-T" CEDAR SIDING

Whether you are building or remodelling, "FOREST" Cedar Siding gives any home lasting, high quality distinction.
Carefully cut to highlight the warm grain, burl and color variations of fine selected British Columbia Cedar logs.
"FOREST" siding is as practical as it is handsome. For exterior use, the tightly sealed lap and substantial thickness mean added insulation, all-weather protection and extra structural strength.
Available with rough or smooth face in both Supreme and Quality grades.
"FOREST" siding may be finished in clear coating, stain or paint.

Sport

8:30: Channel 8: Tides and Trails.

Headliners

7:30: Channel 4: When Dave tells June he has to work late at the office, she becomes suspicious on Ozzie and Harriet. It seems his new secretary is a blonde bombshell.

Channel 5: Andy and Mitch run into good old Uncle Walt on Wide Country. They find he hasn't changed since the last time they saw him.

8:30: Channel 4: Beaver becomes a hero when he catches the winning pass for a touchdown. But he doesn't think much of it until the local paper builds it up.

9:00: Channel 2: Playdate presents "The Two-Faced Angel." The bitterness of the past overshadows the happiness of a wedding.

10:00: Channel 2: Dan Daily, Howard Duff and Jan Sterling star in the Alfred Hitchcock drama, "The Tender Poisoner." A man with a reputation as a solid citizen is two-timing his wife.

Tonight's Movies

5:30: Channel 12: "Submarine D-1" (1937). A rivalry disrupts the harmony of a submarine crew. Pat O'Brien, George Brent.

6:30: Channel 6: "Fun on a Weekend" (1947). A timid young man has some bright ideas. Eddie Bracken, Priscilla Lane, Tom Conway.

10:30: Channel 11: "Angels One Five" (English, 1952). A member of Britain's Hurricane Squadron has an accident during the Second World War. Jack Hawkins, Michael Denison.

11:00: Channel 12: "Manhandled" (1949). A psychiatrist and his young secretary are involved in a murder melodrama. Dorothy Lamour, Dan Duryea, Sterling Hayden, Irene Harvey.

11:30: Channel 4: "Suddenly" (1954). A professional gunslinger stops at a small town. Frank Sinatra, Sterling Hayden.

LARGE LIVING ROOM
Here is excellent value in a roomy and well-constructed home. Commencing at the front door, double glass doors lead off the wide entrance hall to the living room, 19x24, with fireplace and large windows on three sides. A through hall leads to one bedroom, a bigger than usual bathroom and a large kitchen with a roomy dining area. Upstairs there are two bedrooms and numerous storage closets. Good basement with separate utility room, automatic heat. The large grounds are landscaped with numerous shrubs and fruit trees. A driveway with two street entrances circles the house. There is a garage, workshop and tool shed, and a greenhouse. Located in a good residential area. We repeat—this is excellent value and terms are available.

IT HAPPENED LAST NIGHT

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — The Great Brains of Broadway are currently debating whether Robert Goulet, the new heart-strumming singer with the manish tonsils, the Boston Strong Boy of the Sexy Sixties, can make it real big — become an international epidemic—a menace to happy hearthsides all over the world.

I say he can.

Muscular and strong chinned, the kind of guy who can make a sweat shirt look dressy, the 29-year-old Goulet has the sextricity the old Vallee had and today's Sinatra still has

At the Plaza Persian Room ringside, the sophisticated New York females have been sighing over him — sometimes groaning over his singing like an overaged horse with the heaves

"He's so virile!" swoon the babes.

I predict that this "lousy middle-range baritone" (as he calls himself) will become a big movie smash after he does a Bob Hope special and such spots as Chicago, Las Vegas, Houston and Lake Tahoe.

THE MIDNIGHT EARL

Billy Rose removed the stock ticker from his digs and went back to work in Show Biz — so confident in the booming market that he's invested heavily in a highly speculative stock . . . Pat Tunder, the ex-showgal briefly Liz Taylor's rival for Richard Burton, is back on B'way . . . Our Gorgeous Mother-in-Law is recuperating nicely from the cataract surgery at Lenox Hill . . . French producer Raoul Levy says he signed Tony Curtis for his revived "Marco Polo" film . . . Bravo to Jane Pickens for that swinging Actors Studio on stage party at Carnegie Hall . . . Shapely Tybee Afra and husband Johnny Brascia entertained at the Poinsettia Ball m.c. by George DeWitt.

Linda Bement, an ex-Miss Universe, said at the Monsignore she'll wed jockey Manuel Ycaza in Italy . . . Roz Russell turned down the "Night of the Iguana film . . . Bandleader Richard Maltby is marrying his personal mgr., Phyllis Friedlander . . . Rita Hayworth left for L.A. by train —she doesn't mind flying but she wants time to read scripts.

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: A fellow at a local bar admitted sadly that his wife has a drinking problem: "Me."

WISH I'D SAID THAT: In the old days, if you paid cash people figured you were thrifty; nowadays they suspect your credit's not good.

U.K. Weeklies Merge

LONDON (AP)—Two British political and literary magazines, Time and Tide and John O'Londons, are to merge in a new weekly called Time and Tide, the publishers announced Wednesday night. Time and Tide publisher William J. Brittain has bought John O'Londons and will put out the first combined issue Jan. 3.

POLICE FEAR MAN JUMPED OFF BRIDGE

Flanagan, head of the city's property and insurance department, disappeared into the fog Tuesday night after being questioned by a policeman.

The policeman said he was checking Flanagan's car beneath the bridge, along with the man's credentials, when the man suddenly rushed through heavy fog to the water. The officer said he heard a splash.

Robarts Promises School Solution

TORONTO (CP) — Premier Robarts, offered conflicting advice on how to correct alleged inequities in Ontario's system of school financing, has promised the advisers a solution will soon be found.

The advice was given in two briefs, one Thursday from the Anglican Bishops of Ontario and the other Tuesday night from the Ontario Separate School Trustees' Association and the Association of Bilingual School Commissions.

The Anglican brief rejected an earlier plea from the province's Roman Catholic bishops that separate schools be given a larger share of corporation property taxes.

The brief said this request and one for extension of tax-supported separate schools to the secondary school system and do a definite disservice to the community as a whole."

The brief from the separate school trustees involved a departure from earlier demands for reapportionment of corporation taxes.

Instead, the trustees proposed a "foundation" program of financing similar to systems in force in Nova Scotia and Alberta and plans advocated by Ontario's Liberal and New Democratic parties.

Under the proposal, the provincial government would establish a basic standard of education cost for a child. The cost would be met by provincial grants and a uniform mill rate based on equalized assessment throughout the province.

Reaction to the Anglican brief varied from general approval by Protestant leaders and public school trustees to opposition on the part of Roman Catholic clerics.

Handicapped Author Betsey Barton Dead

WEST LOS ANGELES (UPI)—The courageous 29-year fight of author Betsey Alice Barton to lead a useful and creative life despite the paralysis of both legs ended Tuesday in apparent suicide.

Miss Barton, 45, who had been bedridden or in a wheel chair since an automobile crash when she was 16, was found floating in the swimming pool of her home—her wheel chair at the bottom of the water.

She was known as a good swimmer and had threatened suicide recently.

Daughter of former New York congressman and author, Bruce Barton, Miss Barton became known in her own right through several books she wrote encouraging others similarly afflicted. They included "And Now to Life Again" and "As Love Is Deep."

A year after the accident when she was 17 Miss Barton wrote:

"I am awake now to a surprising number of things. I am more sensitive to people and more clearly aware of my relationship to them. I no longer believe that the world is my oyster and the pearl therein mine alone."

She was the recipient of several awards, including the 1944 merit award of Mademoiselle Magazine for outstanding achievement and an honorary degree of master of human affairs from New York University in 1948.

New Satire TV Show Protested

LONDON (AP)—Britain's newest television hit show was in trouble today over a series of skits that included a burlesque of the Vatican ecumenical council.

After a flood of protests, Postmaster-General Reginald Bevins called for a copy of the script.

Labor MP Roy Mason said he might raise the issue in the House of Commons. As Postmaster-general Bevins is the cabinet minister responsible for broadcasting; he could ban the show or order it toned down.

Lasting 60 minutes and called What Was the Week That Was, the program is televised Saturday nights by the BBC.

The show is supposed to be hard-hitting satire of events of the week. In the Vatican skit actors impersonating cardinals sang the Italian popular song of several summers ago called Arriverderci Roma Farewell to Rome.

Another sketch had an actor impersonating Chancellor of the Exchequer Reginald Maudling meeting with a group of unemployed men. Cutting the interview short, Maudling's impersonator snarled:

"I've got work to do—if you haven't."

Columnist Dies

NEW YORK (AP) — George E. Sokolsky, 69, veteran Hearst Publications columnist, died on Wednesday night of a heart attack in his apartment here.

Sokolsky was a spokesman for conservatism in the United States for a generation, as a New York Herald Tribune columnist in the 1930s and since 1944 as a Hearst employee.

Khyber Pass Seems Quiet But Tribal Passions Boil

By DAVID LANCASHIRE

KHYBER PASS, Pakistan (AP) — The clang of ancient battle seems to echo still from the limestone cliffs of this historic invasion route where Alexander the Great's soldiers marched into India and generations of British troops fought the Pathan tribesmen.

But now you can drive comfortably through the Khyber Pass in a taxi and buy a porcelain bust of Abraham Lincoln or a bag of fresh popcorn on the way.

Tribesmen, with guns clutched in their hands and chests looped with bandoliers of cartridges, smile and pose for pictures. The road that twists along 21 miles of the Khyber Pass is a tourist route, travelled by garishly colored buses.

Under the colorfully calm exterior, however, tribal passions still boil and the pass is once again a point of tension. United States aid which poured through the famous mountain valley until last year, is affected.

CENTURIES OF INVADERS

Cut through great brown shale and limestone walls, the Khyber Pass joins West Pakistan and Afghanistan across the Hindu Kush Mountains. Over the centuries foreign invaders have used it to conquer India—Tartars, Greeks, Moguls and Persians.

British soldiers of the Indian army used to lead expeditions through it for wars against Afghanistan and to subdue rifle-wielding tribesmen on the northwest frontier.

The Khyber is still a restricted and loosely administered tribal area. Visitors need a special pass from the Pakistan government.

The political trouble that swirls around the pass today is another tribal affair. Pakistan and Afghanistan broke off diplomatic relations 15 months ago when Afghan diplomats were accused of fomenting strike and subversion among tribesmen in the frontier area.

Afghanistan brought its imports traditionally through Pakistan—many of them through the Khyber Pass. It stopped when the dispute arose. Pakistan lost a lucrative transport business but Afghanistan may have cut off its nose to spite its face.

Now the country has no practical way of importing anything. Some goods still come in through the Soviet Union or follow an almost prohibitively expensive roundabout route through Iran.

The United States has virtually suspended aid since materials cannot be brought in.

The dispute has not had much effect on life along the pass, except to cut down traffic.

In the crowded bazaar of Landi Kotal, the village at which the railway through the pass ends, vendors sell popcorn, sugar cane and birds in wooden cages — or Japanese fountain pens, Swiss watches and English brushes.

PAPER WON'T HOLD UP RELEASES

TORONTO (UPI)—The Toronto Globe and Mail, in its Thursday edition published last night, said that beginning immediately it will not accept hold-for-release news items but will publish facts as soon as they become known.

In a front page announcement, the newspaper said that its editor and publisher, Oakley Dalgleish, had become increasingly concerned "at the tendency of governments, organizations and individuals to distribute material to press with the stipulation that it could not be printed until a specified day and hour."

He said there was "no doubt that such release times were used to obtain maximum impact for the interested parties."

Bathrooms Banned

LUCERNE, Switzerland (Reuters)—Municipal authorities here have banned the use of bathrooms because of a serious shortage of drinking water due to prolonged drought.

Youths Jailed For Theft Of Two Phones

Two youths were sentenced in Saanich police court Tuesday to 10 months definite and six months indeterminate in the Young Offenders' Unit at Oakalla, for theft of two telephones, a tarpaulin, and hubcaps Nov. 19.

John T. Whittaker, 461 Dupplin, and Frederick Armstrong earlier pleaded guilty to the joint charges.

All sentences were made concurrent.

Whittaker also was sentenced to 10 months definite and six months indeterminate on two charges in city police court involving a stolen auto.

The Saanich sentences were made concurrent with those from city court.

Effecient Firemen Cut Insurance Rate

NANAIMO—Cedar district will get a reduction in fire insurance costs because of the efficiency of its fire department.

Fire Chief Bob Osborne told the North Cedar Ratepayers' Association the district is now listed by fire insurance underwriters as group four. Before it was group six. This means a reduction in fire insurance costs for residents of the area.

Go out on a limb, serve Seagram's Gin

That's the spirit!
While most folks deck the halls with colourless gins, you serve up Seagram's Gin with its hint of amber colour.
The difference, of course, is dryness.
By ageing Seagram's Gin longer we remove unwanted sweetness and perfumery.
As the gin becomes crisply dry, Nature supplies that amber tint.
So remember, 'tis the season to serve Seagram's. Because it's extra dry.

Did You Know That:

- A dishwasher also DRIES the dishes

Hot air is blown over all the tableware, it's dried spotlessly . . . ready to put away or use again! You can use this drying action as a plate warmer, too!

- You need no special plumbing or wiring

- Pots and pans "come clean" too

An automatic dishwasher cleans pots and pans that have not been burned.

- All the dishes for a family of eight

- Germ-free results assured

- Operating Costs

Skybolt Offered To U.K.

U.S. Will Give Up Rocket Program

PARIS (AP) — The United States has offered to turn over the entire controversial Skybolt rocket program to Britain free of charge, qualified sources reported tonight.

They said the British have been told they can take over the highly complicated project either in the United States or in their own country if they feel they can successfully develop it.

The British government accepted the U.S. suggestion for study along with other alternative proposals advanced as replacements for the 1,100-mile, air-launched rocket, according to a British informant.

Skybolt, a rocket designed to be fired from the swift-moving platform of U.S. and British bombers, thus far has cost the United States nearly $500,000,000 for development.

The British informant said that it would be quite feasible for his country to take over the Skybolt program despite American warnings that failure might lie ahead.

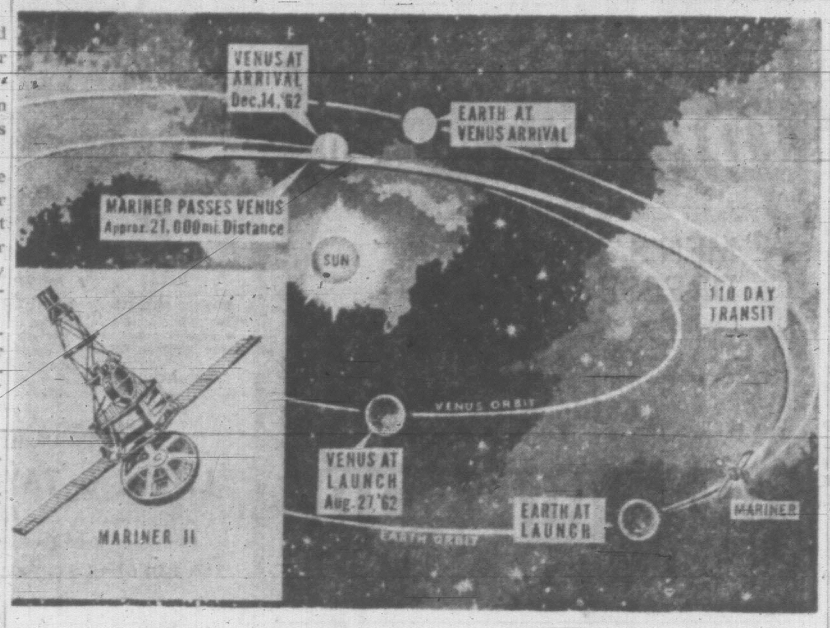
MORE TAXES

"We have by no means ruled it out," he said. "But of course it probably would mean another half-a-crown (about 35 cents) on the income tax and naturally it will have to be considered very, very carefully."

The disclosure of the American offer came at the end of a daylong behind-scenes meetings between American and British authorities on the Skybolt program.

CEILING FALLS, 6 MINERS DIE

HEESSEN, Germany (AP) —A ceiling collapsed today within the depths of West Germany's deepest coal mine—the Saxony, killing six miners and seriously injuring five. Another five working the same shaft escaped unscathed.



VENUS RENDEZVOUS FRIDAY

Zeroing in on target today is Mariner II spacecraft, which is scheduled to reach closest point of 22,000 miles from planet Venus at noon Friday. The 447-pound craft, shown in inset at left, was launched Aug. 27 from Cape Canaveral and is designed to radio back scientific information about cloud-shrouded planet. (NEA Newschart.)

U.S. Policy Praised By Soviet

Times News Services

MOSCOW — Soviet Foreign Minister Gromyko today praised the "calmer and more sober" approach by Washington to international issues and said the way appears to be clear for Soviet-American co-operation.

Gromyko was speaking at a session of the Supreme Soviet (parliament) that has been marked by attacks on Communist China and its Balkan ally Albania.

Gromyko told the Soviet deputies a "restrained and sober approach" has gained the upper hand in Washington even though the last two years have brought relapses into "extreme aggressiveness."

Russia, he said, no longer sees any unsurmountable obstacles to Soviet-American co-operation, provided the Americans want it.

DENIES U.S. CHARGES

Turning to Cuba, Gromyko sought to answer American charges that he personally misled President Kennedy and State Secretary Dean Rusk about the Soviet missile buildup on the island.

Gromyko said he assured Kennedy and Rusk there were no offensive weapons in Cuba. But he did not tell the American leaders about Soviet rockets on the island because "they did not ask us."

In any event, he said the rockets came under the category of defensive weapons "as Mr. Khrushchev pointed out yesterday."

Agreement between Kennedy and Khrushchev would mean a solution of the international problems on which the fate of mankind depends, Gromyko said.

He pointed to the international agreement on Laos as an example, coming as a result of the Kennedy-Khrushchev summit meeting in Vienna in 1961.

But a negative example was the disarmament talks where, he said, Russia has been trying to end the arms race but "the

Customers Disappointed

WINNIPEG (CP)—A Winnipeg music teacher says he was listed as a bootlegger on a public list of eligible voters in Friday's provincial election.

He says he has turned the matter over to his lawyer to see if any action can be taken.

The man said he has received several phone calls from people wanting liquor since the list was made public.

"I don't know what they mean," he said. "I don't have any liquor here for sale."

He said he has been in touch with his lawyer and asked him to see if he had been libelled by the listed occupation.

Workers at the returning office said they are puzzled.

'Time For West To Move'

PARIS (AP) — U.S. State Secretary Dean Rusk urged the North Atlantic Treaty Alliance today to take the initiative in the cold war and demonstrate that freedom is the wave of the future.

In a cautiously optimistic report to the annual NATO winter ministerial meeting, Rusk said the outcome of the Cuban crisis and weaknesses developing in the Communist bloc offered the West new opportunities.

The world may be arriving, he explained, at a time when the East instead of the West will do a greater part of the worrying.

Rusk also assured NATO allies the United States government is not negotiating with the Soviet Union on any other subject than Cuba.

He proposed wide ranging Western studies of major diplomatic problems to consolidate advantages now flowing toward the Atlantic community.

NO MORE CONCESSIONS

And he warned the Soviet Union the United States has given all the concessions it intends to offer in the negotiations for a treay to ban nuclear tests.

Rusk spoke for nearly an hour.

Family Groups Could Get Aid

A new plan to solve the problem of the 1,300 Sons of Freedom Doukhobors now camped at Hope, B.C., has been put forward by the British Columbia government.

They have been offered assisted passage to any part of Canada they may wish to go, if they go in family groups.

The plan was unveiled in Vancouver Wednesday by Premier Bennett and followed up with advertisements inviting those interested to make individual applications.

The policy applies only to the group at Hope, 49 of whom recently made a bus trip to Victoria and camped on the Legislative Buildings steps overnight.

They are the Sons who left burned homes at Krestova and trekked as far as Hope with the intention of being near the 60 convicted terrorists serving terms in Agassiz Mountain Prison.

Premier Bennett said:

He made the statement in an interview in Vancouver. Later, advertisements signed by Deputy Welfare Minister E. R. Rickinson and headed "Attention Sons of Freedom Doukhobors," appeared in Vancouver newspapers.

'GOOD INTENTION'

They state:

"In accordance with the individual's need, consideration will be given to assist bona fide applicants who show good intention."

Mr. Rickinson elaborated later:

"If the Freedomites wish to move as family groups, then we would be pleased to assist them to move to a community that would accept them as long as jobs are available to them.

"We would definitely not move them as the community that they are now."

The Premier said applicants had only to apply to Mr. Rickinson for the assistance.

At the same time, Premier Bennett criticized television remarks by Toronto writer and broadcaster Gordon Sinclair who said British Columbia should be ashamed of its treatment of the sect. (See story Page 20).

Mr. Sinclair likened the treatment of Sons of Freedom by B.C. to that accorded the Canadian-born Japanese expelled from their West Coast homes during the Second World War. He said the Bill of Rights should ensure the sect full privileges as citizens.

"Sinclair was completely wrong," the Premier said.

"The Doukhobors received voting rights and full citizenship long before the Bill of Rights. His statements were made without any knowledge of the situation."

City Vote Below '61 Level

A light vote appeared shaping up today as city electors went to the polls in the former Victoria Ballroom, northwest corner of Government and Cormorant.

Early voting patterns indicated about 30 per cent of the 20,452 eligible voters were casting ballots—bringing an urgent appeal from civic officials for more citizens to take the trouble to vote.

Polls remain open until 8 tonight and transportation is available in a car pool for those otherwise unable to get to the Victoria Ballroom. Phone numbers for transportation are EV 4-8331 and EV 3-8116.

First to cast a ballot was J. Targett, 166 Joseph Street, a night clerk at the nearby Westholme Hotel who waited for the polling station doors to open at 8 a.m.

EATIO LOWER

Total of 240 votes were cast in the first hour compared with 394 last year when the mayoralty race brought a 49.1 per cent turnout.

By noon the count had grown to 1,648 compared with 2,764 in 1961 at the same hour.

The vote will decide fate of a $950,000 Centennial Victoria Square bylaw. Seven candidates are running for four aldermanic seats and three candidates are trying for two school trustee seats.

Columbia 'Shot Down' To Shield Peace Cost

(Times News Service)

OTTAWA—The British Columbia government has "downgraded" the Columbia River project to divert attention from the higher power costs of its pet Peace River scheme in the north, Gen. A. G. L. McNaughton suggested Wednesday night.

"I can't prove it but, looked at logically, that is what happened," he told a group of senators and members of Parliament.

"The sooner the treaty is decisively rejected the better for all concerned including the United States," he told the informal group of about 35 legislators. He had been invited to give them his views on the treaty.

The treaty was so embarrassingly one-sided in favor of the Americans that a good many of them were "red-faced about this bare-faced deal."

OTTAWA (UPI) — Prime Minister John Diefenbaker said today no deadline has been set for Brjtish Columbia to agree to the terms of the Columbia River Power Development Treaty.

He said the pact, if approved by Canada, would be "very damaging" to Canada's control of its resources.

Warming to his subject before the receptive group, which met in the Liberal caucus room, he also said the treaty constituted a deprivation of Canadian rights and would perpetuate in a vicious form a servitude of Canadian sovereignty granted to the U.S. by the treaty.

"If this treaty goes through, we lose a kingdom—no, an empire," he told the meeting, which was attended by Liberal and New Democrat MPs and one Social Credit MP (H. A. Olson, Medicine Hat).

Gen. McNaughton, who was chief Columbia advisor to the Canadian government until he retired last spring with cries of "sell-out," blamed the B.C. government for the "improvident" deal.

In reply to a question by Arthur Laing (Lib—Vancouver South), he said the real "break-

Macmillan Under Fire

LONDON (Reuters)—Prime Minister Macmillan today faced a barrage of questions in Parliament about the future of the U.S. Skybolt missile and promised Britain will maintain its independent nuclear deterrent "if we are able to do so."

He told Labor opposition members who questioned the effectiveness of a British deterrent, in the light of U.S. doubts about Skybolt: "As President Kennedy has stated, no decision has been made."

Macmillan said he planned to discuss in detail the Skybolt question with President Kennedy next week in Nassau.

"I wish to go into all aspects of this matter and I hope as soon as possible to make a statement," the prime minister said.

Acquittal Refused

WASHINGTON (AP)—U.S. District Judge Alexander Holtzoff refused today to direct a verdict of acquittal of the U.S. Communist party on charges of failing to register as an agent of the Soviet Union. The case likely will go to the jury on Monday.

Florida Cold Snap 'Worst of Century'

LAKELAND, Fla. (AP)—A cold wave called the worst in the century blasted into Florida today and dealt a killing blow to the state's lush orange, grapefruit and tangerine groves.

Vegetables which escaped the earlier Arctic wave were blackened and withered by 30 mile-an-hour north winds pouring down into the state Wednesday night and today.

Robert W. Rutledge, general manager of Florida Citrus Mutual, said a preliminary survey indicated the industry "suffered the worst freeze of this century."

The citrus belt outside the lower east coast area lost more fruit than in the bad winter of 1957-58, Rutledge said.

In north Florida, the temperature plunged to 10 degrees at Tallahassee, the coldest weather since the big freeze of 1889 which started migration of people from the upper parts of the peninsula down into the warmer southern tip.

Extreme south Florida was more fortunate, with temperatures remaining above freezing.

Teachers, Newsmen On Strike

ROME (UPI) — Newsmen and school teachers joined a pre-Christmas strike wave today, leaving Italy without newspapers or magazines and children without classes.

The newsmen went on strike for eight days, the teachers for two.

Red Cross workers also started a 48-hour strike, and metal and paper workers went into the second day of their two-day walkouts.

Some telephone workers planned to strike Friday for one day. Bar and cafe workers scheduled a weekend work stoppage.

Ex-Soviet Spy Draws Jail Term

NEW YORK (AP)—Mark Zborowski, a former Soviet secret agent, today was sentenced to three years and 11 months imprisonment for perjury before a federal grand jury about his activities.

Judge Richard H. Levet passed sentence on the 55-year-old one-time Harvard University researcher who was convicted in a retrial last month.

He was convicted of the same offence in 1958 and given a five-year prison sentence. That conviction was reversed a year later by an appeals court.

Sunday Movies Out for Victoria

Victorians who applauded Vancouver voters' decisive approval Wednesday of Sunday movies will never have a chance to register their feelings at the polls under present provincial legislation.

The Vancouver referendum—which passed 67,006 to 35,565—was possible only because the mainland city has its own charter. (See story page 3.)

Victoria city council could not ask its citizens how they felt about Sunday movies even if the aldermen wanted to—the B.C. Municipal Act forbids it everywhere in the province except Vancouver.

The referendum virtually assures an "open" Sunday for Vancouver — citizens approved Sunday sports some time ago —under which movies, operas, concerts and other cultural entertainment will be allowed after 1:30 p.m.

Friendship Dollars for India

'We Live Like Kings Compared With Them'

Contributions ranging all the way from 40 cents to $25 swelled The Times "Friendship Dollars for India" Fund to $6,108 today.

The 40 cents was saved by a schoolboy out of his weekly allowance and there were three donations of $25 —all of them from Victoria residents who wish to be anonymous.

A Victoria College student sent 50 cents and there was an anonymous donation of $5 in memory of the late Dr. J. M. Thomas, a founder of the CCF party and a former high school teacher, who died last Monday.

"We should all give according to our needs," wrote a Victoria widow with four children. "We are a poor family and I have to work to keep the children at school. But we live like kings compared with those starving people in India."

She enclosed a $2 bill.

Many people feel this way about The Times annual fund and all contributions, great or small, are welcome. They may be sent to "Friendship Dollars for India," c/o The Times, 2631 Douglas, or left at the Bank of Montreal, Yates and Douglas.

An acknowledgement will be made in the news columns of this paper, with or without the name of the sender as desired.

An official receipt will be sent for income tax purposes by the Unitarian Services Committee, which puts the friendship dollars to work in India. (See list of donors on page 14.)

Hope th' voters hit th' target Square b'tween th' ayes.

VICTORIA, B.C., THURSDAY, DECEMBER 13, 1962 —PAGE 25

ARTHUR MAYSE

Workbound along Fort Street Wednesday morning, I glimpsed the latest act in a byplay which began immediately after the old Casanave house was cleared from property acquired by Greater Victoria School Board. A workman was turning away one of the student drivers who these last few days have been parking in the lot left vacant.

So that would seem to be the end of a spunky and to my mind rather pathetic move by a handful of kids to solve a problem which has kept their elders in a state of dither these several years.

Student-owned cars are emphatically unwelcome along the residential streets that border Oak Bay Senior High School. Oak Bay municipality has underlined the fact in its latest restrictive bylaw. A neighboring church has permitted a few cars on its grounds, but these are a mere drop from a large bucket.

How to cure what has become a headache for all concerned?

Not, it seems to me, by sweeping the dust under the carpet, the student cars off the school-adjoining streets.

At worst, that move smacks of malicious obstructionism, and since these boys are legally licenced car owners, I'm by no means sure that a smart lawyer couldn't shoot it full of holes.

At best, it's a questionable object lesson to the impressionable young in how to sidestep an issue.

As I see it, there are two obvious ways to unclutter those Oak Bay streets.

One is to change the legislation which sets licensing age at 16. This wouldn't affect boys already licensed, but in a year or two, when the present crop had moved on to college (where parking space is provided) or out to jobs, the streets would be given back to the taxpayers.

But if no such change is in the books, I think that student drivers should be given a place to park their cars, even if to do so meant an intrusion into high school grounds.

My notions are vague as to how and where the convention of an enormous greensward around every school originated. Maybe it's a hangover from the Iron Duke's apocryphal remark about the playing fields of Eton. In any case, I find the apparent assumption that every girl or boy is an eager athlete both inaccurate and naïve.

This is sheer heresy, but it seems to me that most Greater Victoria schools — and Oak Bay in particular — could shave those sacred grounds to the extent of a student parking lot and still leave plenty of room for games, exercise and additions made necessary by an expanding population.

To come out flatfooted on this embroglio, my sympathies are with the student driver. I think there's every justification for his view that he's getting a lopsided deal.

Not that I'm unaware of his group faults. Many a time, he's caused me to feel like a hunted rabbit. I suspect too that his academic record would be brighter if he were grounded, even though getting to school would become the devil's own problem for boys in certain of our boondocks where Big Brother's buses with the double cross new-painted on their fronts are more myth than reality.

Still and all, since the law allows a boy over 16 a car, there's no earthly point in denying him a reasonable spot in which to park it. Or in telling him he ought to walk.

Checking back through our files, I find those words repeated each time the student car issue has raised its beady-eyed little head.

"Let them walk! It would be better for them. Take the cars away and let them walk!"

Well, walking is no doubt beneficial, but again dealing with facts, the horseless carriage seems to be here to stay, at least until some swifter and more lethal conveyance replaces it.

Having accepted that fact, why not attempt a reasonable solution to one not-very-complex problem it has posed for us?

My faith in boys isn't all-embracing. I do believe, though, that given school-ground parking privileges, they might do a pretty good job of policing their driver group. The boys who were tucking their cars into the Casanave place until the work crew rooted them out didn't impress me as hoodlums.

Personally, and in the full knowledge that my neck is out on this one, I'd like to see them get a break.

MR. and MRS. RICHARD GUEST
. . . after 65 years of marriage

All for Farm Life

Victoria Couple Wed 65 Years

By NORMAN CRIBBENS

They've been married 65 years, but you'd never guess it to look at them.

They were married in a lonely farmhouse at Holland, Manitoba, on Dec. 20, 1897, when the thermometer dropped to 40 below and the snow was so thick they had to travel to and from their trysting place in a horse-drawn sleigh.

Since they retired to Victoria 17 years ago, Mr. and Mrs. Guest have lived in a trim well-kept house with a long front garden at 1819 Lillian Lillian Road.

ACTIVE GARDENER

Mr. Guest is still an active gardener and only 17 years ago — at the age of 80 — he was pitching sheaves on his Manitoba farm.

He started farming in Devonshire, Eng., when he was eight years old and came to Canada at 23.

"If I had my time over again I'd still be a farmer," said Mr. Guest, echoing the sentiment of John James Abbott, another retired farmer, who celebrated his 95th birthday at 15 Cambridge Street last Monday.

"It's a good way to live," he says, "and the best place to raise children. Let them run around barefoot in summer and help with the chores and you'll never have any trouble."

Mr. and Mrs. Guest raised nine children and all are in good health. The rest of the family consists of 11 grandchildren and 16 great-grandchildren, living in Winnipeg, New Westminster, Chicago, Seattle and Victoria.

In Victoria are three sons, James H., Clarence, and Gordon S. Guest, and a daughter, Viola. Most of the family will attend the 65th wedding anniversary celebrations at the senior Guest's home next Thursday, and friends will be welcome between 2 and 5 p.m.

FROM ONTARIO

Mrs. Guest was born at Port Hope, Ont., and like her husband is a staunch Canadian.

"After two years in Manitoba, I went home to Devonshire for a short stay," Mr. Guest said, "but I didn't like it after Canada and I saved as fast as I could for a return passage.

Milk Producers to Join Forces In Protest Against Price Cut

Vancouver Island herd owners, threatened by what they term a disastrous milk price cut of 30 cents a hundredweight, will join mainland producers Friday in protesting a British Columbia Milk Board order which they consider a breach of the formula under which they have worked harmoniously with distributors for the past five years.

At the meeting between milk board and B.C. Federation of Agriculture dairy groups in Vancouver, spokesmen will stress that producers don't want consumers to be burdened with a price increase.

They feel that upped dairy costs, on which the board based its Nov. 1 order, can be trimmed if dairies will reassess a sales policy made top heavy by overlapping and duplication.

As a concrete suggestion, they may offer a plan for milk sales and deliveries based on a modified zoning system.

FORMULA IN '57

The formula, which producers insist the milk board has "thrown out the window" with the contested order, was arrived at by a royal commission under Mr. Justice J. V. Clyne in 1957. It stipulated that the price paid to the dairy herd owner for milk be keyed to his operating costs.

"This has been working fine for the farmers," says John Pendray, who keeps 85 cows on his Blenkinsop Road farm. "If established harmony between the dairies and the farmer for seven years. This order is a clear breach of faith as the farmer sees it."

Mr. Pendray, speaking for the more than 50 members of Royal Oak local Vancouver Island Dairymen's Association, stressed producer's conviction that the middleman rather than the farmer or the consumer should absorb any necessary cost increase.

"We want our milk to reach the consumer as cheaply as possible," he said, "because that's how we're going to sell more milk."

Sketching the background of the order, he referred to an August 8 petition for a price raise filed with the milk board by four mainland distributors.

The gist of it, according to Mr. Pendray, was that distributors wished to drop their price to the farmer by 30 cents a can "because they weren't making any money." He said that although milk producers attended the meeting, their representations were ignored.

Upshot of the meeting was the price-reducing order of November, which was published at Victoria as a regulation under the Milk Industry Act.

ALTERNATIVE

"The statement has been made by Mr. Carr (milk board chairman E. C. Carr) that no pressure was exerted by the distributors," Mr. Pendray said. "But if not, why was this order put through? It certainly has done anything but stabilize the price of milk—we feel it was done simply to bail out the distributors, who claimed their only alternative was to raise the consumer price."

In his own case, the producers' spokesman said, he has received 31 cents a can less for milk since the order was signed Nov. 8. A milk board bulletin lists December price for Vancouver Island and Vancouver areas as $5.908 per hundredweight for qualifying milk of four per cent butterfat.

This is a drop of 25 cents from the October figure.

"Basing our calculations on the latest production figures for Vancouver Island (October's) the producers' loss for December will be in the neighborhood of $12,000," Mr. Pendray said. "The whole sum goes into the hands of the distributor out of the farmer's pocket."

If pursued, farmers warn, the milk board policy indicated by the order will lead to a drastic reduction of dairy herds, since milk plays an important part in the farm economy.

"We feel that under the formula pricing setup as it existed before the order, the milk board was doing a good job of policing," Mr. Pendray said. "Now, we're in doubt, and a lot of us are wondering whether it's worthwhile for our sons to follow us into the business.

"The whole point is we were happy with the formula, and able to work under it, even though we took a cut when we accepted it. Now, we feel the milk board has sold us down the river."

ALBERNI COMPLAINT

Meanwhile, at Alberni, herd owners, alarmed by the order, pointed out that milk prices to the consumer haven't risen since 1958, and that if distributors can't operate within their present profit structure, they are free to raise consumer price.

Attack Turned On Three Punks

By IAIN HUNTER

A bottle wielding gas station attendant put three armed and masked men to flight in a holdup attempt early this morning.

A. B. Carson, 56, was on duty alone at Westview Service station, Trans-Canada Highway and Tillicum, at about 5 a.m. when he was held up by three hooded men.

One of the hoolums carried what appeared to be a sawed-off shotgun or rifle.

Mr. Carson was ordered to do as he was told and he would not get hurt.

"And what makes you think I'm going to get hurt?" was his reply.

A few minutes later one of the men had a quart bottle full of oil broken over his head, and all three were on the run.

His Story

"Bert" Carson, who lives at 3340 Kingsley, told the Times he was hosing down the station yard shortly before 5 a.m. this morning when the hooded men arrived.

"Two of these characters came up behind me at a gallop. One of them had what looked like a rifle of some kind. It might have been sawed off at both ends," he said.

Get In There

"One of them motioned to the office and said 'get in there and do as you're told and you won't get hurt.'

"So I looked them up and down and said 'And what the hell makes you think I'm going to get hurt?'.

"They were just young punks," Mr. Carson said. "I think they were between 17 and 20 years old."

They prodded the attendant into the office, where there was a third hooded man trying to break into the cash register.

Secret Lever

"But they couldn't get in because I've got a special trip lever which unlocks it. No one knows how to operate it but me," Mr. Carson said.

"I figure they had been trying to get into the drawer, and when they couldn't, came to get me to open it."

As the two men pushed him into the office, Mr. Carson grabbed a quart bottle of engine oil from a rack near the door and smashed it over the head of the man at the cash register.

"He swayed quite a bit," he said, "and then one of the men from behind hit me with the gun."

Cut on Neck

He was taken to Royal Jubilee Hospital where he was treated for a large bruise and cut on the neck, X-rayed, and released.

The blow from behind knocked Mr. Carson's spectacles off into the oil which covered the floor. The three men also were soaked with the heavy lubricant.

"I ran into the garage and picked up a scoop shovel. I figured I could do something with that," Mr. Carson continued.

"Only then I began to think that maybe there were some bullets in the gun."

The men fled at this point. It is not known whether or not they had a car.

Hoods Found

Two of the hoods worn by the assailants were found soaked with oil, on the roadway outside.

Proprietor of the service station, Walter Smith, said he had told Mr. Carson to let any robbers have the money in the till.

"We're bound to get something like this happen here. We're open all night, you see," he said.

"But what can you tell a guy like that?"

Mr. Carson has been working at the station for three years, always on night duty.

Provision Made For 300 Mourners At Stelck Rites

Provision for 300 mourners will be made at the funeral Monday of Victoria businessman Leonard Stelck, who died in a fall from a building in Seattle Tuesday.

The 47-year-old hardware proprietor had just returned with his mother, Mrs. A. H. Stelck, from a weekend in Hawaii, where they were to have had a two-week rest before Christmas.

He suddenly left a waiting bus in which they were to drive to Vancouver, climbed to the fourth floor of a nearby apartment building and was next seen standing on a fire escape looking down.

Funeral service and commital will be held at McCall's chapel and interment will be in Royal Oak Garden of Remembrance.

Cash Drawer Thief Chased From Store

A thief fled when caught rifling a cash register at Goodwill Enterprises, 560 Yates, on Wednesday night.

Members of the organization surprised him in the office about 7:30 p.m.

He ran upstairs and out a fire escape.

Final Victory Within $29,764 In St. Joseph's Hospital Drive

A $10,000 pledge by St. Joseph's Hospital Ladies' Auxiliary today brought the hospital building drive to within $29,764 of its $350,000 goal.

It was the second largest single pledge of the campaign, next to $25,000 previously pledged by the same group of women.

"They've done a tremendous job. They should be very proud of themselves," said hospital information officer Maurice Cownden.

He said the auxiliary has been working toward helping a building fund for the past two years, and recently raised $7,500 at a bazaar.

Accused Treated For Brain Injuries

Peter Howard Dootson, charged with the attempted murder Oct. 19 of a colleague in the staff house of Wilkinson Road Mental Home, had suffered head injuries in two accidents previous to the assault, it was testified at the preliminary hearing Wednesday.

He had undergone head surgery.

Dr. Hiro Nishioka, a neurological surgeon, testified in Saanich police court at the sixth session of the preliminary hearing, he had performed the operation in September, 1961, to remove two pieces of bone fragment which had become infected.

They were pressing on the temporal lobe of the accused's brain.

Dr. Nishioka also said he had examined Dootson in February of this year, for another head injury following a second accident.

At this time the patient only suffered concussion, he said.

The victim was covered with congealed blood, his left ear was badly mangled, and his face showed signs of being beaten under the burns, detective Stewart said.

The mattoress was burned both sides and at one end, and a piece of pillow was found on it, "wet and heavy with blood," the court was told.

There also was blood splattered from the head of the bed to the ceiling on one wall, over eight feet high.

BLOOD ON FLOOR

A pair of trousers found in grass outside the building had red stains on them, and one pocket had been cut or torn out.

The missing piece of pocket was not found. Neither was a wallet containing "certain monies," the detective said.

A search was carried out in the room of the accused the next day.

Detective Stewart said that Dootson, alone of the other occupants of the staff house, was not around for questioning immediately after the assault was discovered, about 2.30 a.m.

The hearing continues today.

ASK The TIMES

Q. Could you give me a brief history of Trounce Alley? L.V.J.

A. Trounce Alley was built in 1858 by Thomas Trounce because he was mad at the city fathers for not making View a through street.

As late as 1898, Mr. Trounce had the alley barricaded for one day each year, just to remind the public of its private ownership. There was actually no real stoppage of traffic, provided each person politely asked one of the guards stationed at either end if he could pass through the barrier.

Anyone wishing a question answered is invited to send the problem along to The Times, addressed to "Ask the Times" Editor. Questions and answers will be published daily.

First Graduates Will Receive Certificates

Councils to Honor CD Heavy Rescue Class

First graduates of a combined Saanich-Oak Bay heavy rescue civil defence course will receive their certificates from councillors in a ceremony at Saanich police-fire hall tonight at 8.

The 18 men, representing volunteers from both municipal outside staffs and the public, will form the first units of civil defence mobile rescue teams to be established for immediate relief in civil, natural or nuclear emergency.

A start has been made at assembling an initial $2,000 rescue kit.

Training in basic rescue procedure has covered some 30 hours since October, under direction of chief rescue instructor George Bone, head of the Saanich rescue service.

Civil defence officer Dave Smith said plans are being laid for a second basic course to start in mid-January, with advanced training going on meanwhile for those who have finished the first course.

There were 11 candidates who failed the course, due either to insufficient knowledge or attendance.

Successful candidates will receive civil defence lapel badges as well as certificates signed by their municipal CD officers. From Saanich council will be Coun. Joseph Casey and Hugh Curtis; from Oak Bay, Coun. Walter Dodsworth.

Council representatives will attend with Saanich engineer Neville Life, Oak Bay engineer and CD officer Geoffrey White and instructors Clint Fotheringham, Bill Craven and Eric Gravenor.

Those from Oak Bay are R. C. Cooney, Herbert Thornber, K. G. Todd, M. F. Phillipse, F. W. Stoddard, Bertie Pollard, A. J. Buckler, H. J. Pylypa, E. W. Marshall, H. B. Thomson and J. H. Higgs.

Skybolt Offered To U.K.

U.S. Would Give Up Rocket Program

PARIS (AP) — The United States has offered to turn over the entire controversial Skybolt rocket program to Britain free of charge, qualified sources reported tonight.

They said the British have been told they can take over the highly complicated project either in the United States or in their own country if they feel they can successfully develop it.

The British government accepted the U.S. suggestion for study along with other alternative proposals advanced as replacements for the 1,100-mile, air-launched rocket, according to a British informant.

Skybolt, a rocket designed to be fired from the swift-moving platform of U.S. and British bombers, thus far has cost the United States nearly $500,000,000 for development.

The British informant said that it would be quite feasible for his country to take over the Skybolt program despite American warnings that failure might lie ahead.

MORE TAXES

"We have by no means ruled it out," he said. "But of course it probably would mean another half-a-crown (about 35 cents) on the income tax and naturally it will have to be considered very, very carefully."

The disclosure of the American offer came at the end of a daylong behind-scenes meetings between American and British authorities on the Skybolt program.

Turn Out Plea By Civic Heads

A light vote appeared shaping up today as city electors went to the polls in the former Victoria Ballroom, northwest corner of Government and Cormorant.

Early voting patterns indicated about 30 per cent of the 20,452 eligible voters were casting ballots—bringing an urgent appeal from civic officials for more citizens to take the trouble to vote.

Polls remain open until 8 tonight and transportation is available in a car pool for those otherwise unable to get to the Victoria Ballroom. Phone numbers for transportation are EV 4-8331 and EV 3-8116.

First to cast a ballot was J. Targett, 166 Joseph Street, a night clerk at the nearby Westholme Hotel who waited for the polling station doors to open at 8 a.m.

RATIO LOWER

Total of 240 votes were cast in the first hour compared with 394 last year when the mayoralty race brought a 49.1 per cent turnout.

By noon the count had grown to 1,648 compared with 2,764 in 1961 at the same hour.

The vote will decide fate of a $950,000 Centennial Victoria Squares bylaw. Seven candidates are running for four aldermanic seats and three candidates are trying for two school trustee seats.

U.S. Policy Praised By Soviet

Times News Services

MOSCOW — Soviet Foreign Minister Gromyko today praised the "calmer and more sober" approach by Washington to international issues and said the way appears to be clear for Soviet-American co-operation.

Gromyko was speaking at a session of the Supreme Soviet (parliament) that has been marked by attacks on Communist China and its Balkan ally Albania.

Gromyko told the Soviet deputies a "restrained and sober approach" has gained the upper hand in Washington even though the last two years have brought relapses into "extreme aggressiveness."

Russia, he said, no longer sees any unsurmountable obstacles to Soviet-American co-operation, provided the Americans want it.

DENIES U.S. CHARGES

Turning to Cuba, Gromyko sought to answer American charges that he personally misled President Kennedy and State Secretary Dean Rusk about the Soviet missile buildup on the island.

Gromyko said he assured Kennedy and Rusk there were no offensive weapons in Cuba. But he did not tell the American leaders about Soviet rockets on the island because "they did not ask us."

In any event, he said the rockets came under the category of defensive weapons "as Mr. Khrushchev pointed out yesterday."

Agreement between Kennedy and Khrushchev would mean a solution of the international problems on which the fate of mankind depends, Gromyko said.

He pointed to the international agreement on Laos as an example, coming as a result of the Kennedy-Khrushchev summit meeting in Vienna in 1961.

But a negative example was the disarmament talks where, he said, Russia has been trying to end the arms race but "the

Columbia 'Shot Down' To Shield Peace Cost

(Times News Service)

OTTAWA—The British Columbia government has "downgraded" the Columbia River project to divert attention from the higher power costs of its pet Peace River scheme in the north, Gen. A. G. L. McNaughton suggested Wednesday night.

"I can't prove it but, looked at logically, that is what happened," he told a group of senators and members of Parliament.

"The sooner the treaty is decisively rejected the better for all concerned including the United States," he told the informal group of about 35 legislators. He had been invited to give them his views on the treaty.

The treaty was so embarrassingly one-sided in favor of the Americans that a good many of them were "red faced about this bare-faced deal."

He said the pact, if approved by Canada, would be "very damaging" to Canada's control of its resources.

Warming to his subject before the receptive group, which met in the Liberal caucus room, he also said the treaty constituted a deprivation of Canadian rights and would perpetuate in a vicious form a servitude of Canadian sovereignty granted to the U.S. by the treaty.

"If this treaty goes through, we lose a kingdom—no, an empire," he told the meeting, which was attended by Liberal and New Democrat MPs and one Social Credit MP (H. A. Olson, Medicine Hat).

Gen. McNaughton, who was chief Columbia advisor to the Canadian government until he retired last spring with cries of "sell-out," blamed the B.C. government for the "improvident" deal.

In reply to a question by Arthur Laing (Lib—Vancouver South), he said the real "break-

'Time For West To Move'

PARIS (AP) — U.S. State Secretary Dean Rusk urged the North Atlantic Treaty Alliance today to take the initiative in the cold war and demonstrate that freedom is the wave of the future.

In a cautiously optimistic report to the annual NATO winter ministerial meeting, Rusk said the outcome of the Cuban crisis and weaknesses developing in the Communist bloc offered the West new opportunities.

The world may be arriving, he explained, at a time when the East instead of the West will do a greater part of the worrying.

Rusk also assured NATO allies the United States government is not negotiating with the Soviet Union on any other subject than Cuba.

He proposed wide ranging Western studies of major diplomatic problems to consolidate advantages now flowing toward the Atlantic community.

NO MORE CONCESSIONS

And he warned the Soviet Union the United States has given all the concessions it intends to offer in the negotiations for a treay to ban nuclear tests.

Rusk spoke for nearly an hour.

Gov't Offers To Move Sons

A new plan to solve the problem of the 1,300 Sons of Freedom Doukhobors now camped at Hope, B.C., has been put forward by the British Columbia government.

They have been offered assisted passage to any part of Canada they may wish to go, if they go in family groups.

The plan was unveiled in Vancouver Wednesday by Premier Bennett and followed up with advertisements inviting those interested to make individual applications.

The policy applies only to the group at Hope, 49 of whom recently made a bus trip to Victoria and camped on the Legislative Buildings steps overnight.

They are the Sons who left burned homes at Krestova and trekked as far as Hope with the intention of being near the 60 convicted terrorists serving terms in Agassiz Mountain Prison.

Premier Bennett said:

He made the statement in an interview in Vancouver. Later, advertisements signed by Deputy Welfare Minister E. R. Rickinson and headed "Attention Sons of Freedom Doukhobors," appeared in Vancouver newspapers.

'GOOD INTENTION'

They state:

"In accordance with the individual's need, consideration will be given to assist bona fide applicants who show good intention."

Mr. Rickinson elaborated later:

"If the Freedomites wish to move as family groups, then we would be pleased to assist them to move to a community that would accept them as long as jobs are available to them.

"We would definitely not move them as the community that they are now."

The Premier said applicants had only to apply to Mr. Rickinson for the assistance.

At the same time, Premier Bennett criticized television remarks by Toronto writer and broadcaster Gordon Sinclair who said British Columbia should be ashamed of its treatment of the sect. (See story Page 20).

Mr. Sinclair likened the treatment of Sons of Freedom by B.C. to that accorded the Canadian-born Japanese expelled from their West Coast homes during the Second World War. He said the Bill of Rights should ensure the sect full privileges as citizens.

"Sinclair was completely wrong," the Premier said.

"The Doukhobors received voting rights and full citizenship long before the Bill of Rights. His statements were made without any knowledge of the situation."

Macmillan Under Fire

LONDON (Reuters)—Prime Minister Macmillan today faced a barrage of questions in Parliament about the future of the U.S. Skybolt missile and promised Britain will maintain its independent nuclear deterrent "if we are able to do so."

He told Labor opposition members who questioned the effectiveness of a British deterrent, in the light of U.S. doubts about Skybolt: "As President Kennedy has stated, no decision has been made."

Macmillan said he planned to discuss in detail the Skybolt question with President Kennedy next week in Nassau.

"I wish to go into all aspects of this matter and I hope as soon as possible to make a statement," the prime minister said.

Sunday Movies Out for Victoria

Victorians who applauded Vancouver voters' decisive approval Wednesday of Sunday movies will never have a chance to register their feelings at the polls under present provincial legislation.

The Vancouver referendum—which passed 67,006 to 35,565—was possible only because the mainland city has its own charter. (See story page 3.)

Victoria city council could not ask its citizens how they felt about Sunday movies even if the aldermen wanted to—the B.C. Municipal Act forbids it everywhere in the province except Vancouver.

The referendum virtually assures an "open" Sunday for Vancouver — citizens approved Sunday sports some time ago —under which movies, operas, concerts and other cultural entertainment will be allowed after 1:30 p.m.

Florida Cold Snap 'Worst of Century'

LAKELAND, Fla. (AP)—A cold wave called the worst in the century blasted into Florida today and dealt a killing blow to the state's lush orange, grapefruit and tangerine groves.

Vegetables which escaped the earlier Arctic wave were blackened and withered by 30 mile-an-hour north winds pouring down into the state Wednesday night and today.

Robert W. Rutledge, general manager of Florida Citrus Mutual, said a preliminary survey indicated the industry "suffered the worst freeze of this century."

The citrus belt outside the lower east coast area lost more fruit than in the bad winter of 1957-58, Rutledge said.

In north Florida, the temperature plunged to 10 degrees at Tallahassee, the coldest weather since the big freeze of 1889 which started migration of people from the upper parts of the peninsula down into the warmer southern tip.

Extreme south Florida was more fortunate, with temperatures remaining above freezing.

Teachers, Newsmen On Strike

ROME (UPI) — Newsmen and school teachers joined a pre-Christmas strike wave today, leaving Italy without newspapers or magazines and children without classes.

The newsmen went on strike for eight days, the teachers for two.

Red Cross workers also started a 48-hour strike, and metal and paper workers went into the second day of their two-day walkouts.

Some telephone workers planned to strike Friday for one day. Bar and cafe workers scheduled a weekend work stoppage.

Friendship Dollars for India

'We Live Like Kings Compared With Them'

Contributions ranging all the way from 40 cents to $25 swelled The Times "Friendship Dollars for India" Fund to $6,108 today.

The 40 cents was saved by a schoolboy out of his weekly allowance and there were three donations of $25 —all of them from Victoria residents who wish to be anonymous.

A Victoria College student sent 50 cents and there was an anonymous donation of $5 in memory of the late Dr. J. M. Thomas, a founder of the CCF party and a former high school teacher, who died last Monday.

"We should all give according to our needs," wrote a Victoria widow with four children. "We are a poor family and I have to work to keep the children at school. But we live like kings compared with those starving people in India."

She enclosed a $2 bill.

Many people feel this way about The Times annual fund and all contributions, great or small, are welcome. They may be sent to "Friendship Dollars for India," c/o The Times, 2631 Douglas, or left at the Bank of Montreal, Yates and Douglas.

An acknowledgement will be made in the news columns of this paper, with or without the name of the sender as desired.

An official receipt will be sent for income tax purposes by the Unitarian Services Committee, which puts the friendship dollars to work in India. (See list of donors on page 14.)

Hope th' voters hit th' target Square b'tween th' ayes.

down" came when "B.C. interests" found it necessary to downgrade the benefits of the Columbia scheme (the McNaughton plan) which had been negotiated so that B.C. power development could be shifted to other areas—namely the Peace River.

The result, he said, was that the "guts" was removed from the Canada - U.S. Columbia agreement at B.C.'s insistence and with the aid of an American so that the U.S. would benefit.

Gen. McNaughton sharply questioned the safety and the economics of an integral part of the development plan envisaged by the treaty—the high Arrow dam on the Arrow Lakes.

He said he understood there was "no clear evidence" that the proposed dam had an adequate natural foundation. Test drilling had gone down beyond 100 feet without finding bedrock.

In addition it was clear, he claimed, that original cost estimates of $66 million for the dam were out of line, because they did not allow for cost of facilities for navigation or clearing or of provision for restoring spawning areas for game fish. These considerations would push the cost to between $100 million and $150 million, he said.

ARRANGED MEET

On both points, on safety and on cost, he turned for confirmation to Kootenay-West MP Bert Herridge of the NDP who, with James Byrne (Lib., Kootenay East), had arranged for the holding of the meeting.

(Earlier in the day Liberal MP Jack Davis of Coast-Capilano had asked Resources Minister Walter Dinsdale if information questioning the safety or engineering feasibility of the High Arrow dam had reached him. Mr. Dinsdale said it had, but that engineers had reported no such problems existed; there was a seepage question but this could be easily handled, he said in his answer.)

The general advocated that the treaty be rejected by Canada "decisively . . . the sooner the better." In its place could be negotiated a new deal still providing the U.S. with benefits, but enhancing Canada's position.

He said there were many Americans who would go along with such action because they believed the treaty in its present form would be more damaging to Canada-U.S. relations than the Alaska boundary treaty.

. . . GROMYKO

United States and other states remain dead."

NO REASON FOR DISPUTE

He said there ought to be no reason for disputes between Russia and the U.S.—"the biggest powers in the world."

Gromyko said the Soviet Union would like to negotiate a settlement of the Berlin problem but is setting no deadline for the agreement.

Gromyko told the Supreme Soviet, in the presence of Premier Khrushchev and President Tito of Yugoslavia, that the Soviet Union is prepared to continue an exchange of opinions with the west on a solution of the German problem.

While saying no time limit was placed on such negotiations, he said the Communist powers ultimately would sign a separate peace treaty with Communist East Germany if the Western power refused to come to an agreement.

"But we will not count the pages of the calendar," he said.

WANTS UN FLAG

Gromyko repeated the proposal by Khrushchev Wednesday to replace the Western allies' troops in West Berlin with the flag of the United Nations.

He said that after a treaty is signed and the Allied troops are out of West Berlin, the Soviet Union would give guarantees for the city's independence.

Gromyko said Soviet guarantees of West Berlin's independence would be just as dependable as those of the NATO powers.

Tito, who followed Gromyko to the rostrum, strongly praised Khrushchev for his handling of the Cuban crisis and defended the Soviet premier's conciliatory moves against the criticism of the Communist Chinese and Albanians.

Tito's appearance before the Soviet parliament was a dramatic turning point in Soviet-Yugoslav relations which Stalin ruptured in 1948. The Yugoslav president described those relations as having a "long and complicated history."

PROGRESS IN TALKS

He hailed the recent establishment of friendly relations between Yugoslavia and the Soviet Union and said that he and Khrushchev had made progress during their meeting here toward further strengthening the bonds between their countries.

He avoided overt criticism of the United States in the Cuban crisis but emphasized his approval of Khrushchev's handling of the Cuban crisis:

"I would like to express appreciation to the Soviet government and to Nikita Khrushchev personally for acting so courageously.

"Unfortunately, about this policy of the Soviet government there are strange views which are dangerous insofar as they might lead certain circles to a false assessment of the motives of the wise and peace - loving step."

City Coffee Company Included in Merger

Merger of J. L. Trumbull Ltd. of Vancouver, which owns the W. A. Jameson Coffee Co. Ltd. of Victoria, with J. Lyons and Co. (Canada) Ltd. of Toronto, was announced today by J. L. Trumbull, president of the Vancouver firm.

Mr. Trumbull becomes president of the new company, Trumbull-Lyons Ltd. He is also a director of B.C. Power Corp. Ltd., Confederation Life Association and the Toronto-Dominion Bank.

In making the announcement, he said: "This arrangement that brings my business, established over 40 years ago, into joint operation with one of the world's largest food companies will assure a continuity of management plus the strengthening of a local enterprise through affiliation with an international organization."

The Lyons company is a subsidiary of J. Lyons and Co. of London, England, a £40 million organization which is the largest caterer in the world and is famous for its Lyons Corner Houses. In Canada the firm's operations are limited to the tea and coffee business.

The Jameson company which was established in 1888 will be a subsidiary of Trumbull-Lyons Ltd. and no change in its spice packaging and extract manufacturing business in Victoria is expected under the new arrangement.

Free Bus Run Resumed At Hillcrest

DUNCAN — Free bus service for Hillcrest Lumber Co. loggers between Mesatchie Lake and their homes in Duncan and Lake Cowichan has been restored, ending a year-old dispute.

Decision was taken Wednesday by the company, which had already recommended the Lake Cowichan service on trial.

The firm announced last year its intention of dropping bus runs at the start of this year, and when it stood by the decision the members of Mesatchie Lake unit of the International Woodworkers of America went on a strike that lasted 5½ months.

When they agreed to negotiate the dispute and the Lake Cowichan run was replaced, the loggers went back to work in mid-June.

Company director Peter Stone said the decision "could hardly be called a settlement, but we have no alternative". A vote to accept must still be taken by the union.

Last month the loggers refused a suggested 50-50 cost split on restored bus service.

. . . NATO MEET

over the wisdom of approaching the Soviets to reopen negotiations on Berlin.

Rusk's stand that the U.S. will not negotiate with the Soviets on any other issue until the Cuban crisis is fully resolved, was backed strongly by Great Britain, France, West Germany, Denmark, Greece, The Netherlands, Turkey and, to a lesser extent, Italy. But Belgium, Canada and Norway urged that no opportunity should be lost to reopen talks with the Soviets if that would ease international tensions.

The two issues highlighted the opening day of the three-day NATO council session. It was devoted entirely to a broad review of the world political situation following the Cuban crisis.

He said the Soviet Union is bumping into serious problems, including troubles inside Russia itself, within the Communist bloc and in relations with the rest of the world.

He described Premier Khrushchev's differences with Peking as serious and predicted more trouble probably is coming. At home, he added, Khrushchev's government is beset with serious economic problems both in manufacturing and agriculture.

Rusk said the United States highly appreciated the immediate and firm support it received from its allies in the Cuban crisis. This had been a contribution to peace and could not have failed to impress the Soviet Union considerably.

UN PLAYED ROLE

The United Nations had played a useful role in the crisis and had exerted a moderating influence, he said.

He told the delegates that when such topics as Berlin came up during the Cuban negotiations, U.S. representatives replied with positions previously taken by the Kennedy administration.

W. GERMANS ROUND UP RED AGENTS

KARLSRHUE, West Germany (Reuters)—West German security forces have arrested nine East Germans who were spying on the United States and British armies in West Germany, the federal prosecutor's office said today.

FEDERAL Works Minister Davie Fulton will participate in a seminar-workshop of the Canadian Council of Christians and Jews Jan. 12 at Nanaimo. More than 100 persons are expected to attend.

Post Office Purloined

KELSEY BAY (CP) — A storm has burst upon this north Island community of 400 over the moving of the post office "in the dark of night."

The post office, since 1924 situated on the wharf of the bay, was moved Friday a mile down the road to a logging camp where most of the populace live.

But the residents around the wharf are demanding it be moved right back again.

A. B. Bendickson, owner of a tree farm on nearby Hardwicke Island, said: "They did it in the dark of night and what we'd like now is a full investigation into the move and, especially, we'd like to know who is behind it."

"We know secretive petitions were sent around last year asking for the move and we have an idea who sent them. Mainly, we'd like our post office back. It's not much of a building but it's darned important to us."

He says the post office is used by persons living in outlying areas and on nearby islands.

Officials said in Ottawa the department was faced with the choice of leaving the post office where it was to serve a few or moving it to serve the majority.

Thomas Barnett, New Democratic Party MP for Comox-Alberni, said he supports the move.

Athletes Win 'Biggest' Game

PORT RENFREW — Two locally-known basketballers of the prewar era played for their lives and won in floor waters of the San Juan River Wednesday after a fishing party of three was swamped.

Timothy McCullough, sheriff of King County at Seattle, his son Timothy Jr., 24, and Seattle cafe operator Tom Werner were dumped into the river when their prams tipped in a willow clump near 12-mile black suspension bridge.

The McCulloughs managed to fend for themselves, but Werner, an arthritic, was swept downstream in the icy water, held partly under a log, and struck by the water-filled pram which pinned him to the log.

The elder McCullough tried but lost his grip. He and his son together were able to release Werner and help him to shore.

When they walked out they still had to beat brush and ford the river four times.

LARGE LIVING ROOM
Here is excellent value in a roomy and well-constructed home. Commencing at the front door, double glass doors lead off the side entrance hall to the living room, 19x24, with fireplace and large windows on three sides. A through hall leads to one bedroom, a bigger than usual bathroom and a large kitchen with a roomy dining area. Upstairs there are two bedrooms and numerous storage closets. Good basement with separate utility room, automatic heat. The large grounds are landscaped with numerous shrubs and fruit trees. A driveway with two street entrances circles the house. There is a garage, workshop and tool shed, and a greenhouse. Located in a good residential area. We repeat, this is excellent value and terms are available.

Men! Free Your Slave from the Kitchen

Did You Know That:

- A dishwasher also DRIES the dishes

Hot air is blown over all the tableware, it's dried spotlessly . . . ready to put away or use again! You can use this drying action as a plate warmer, too!

- You need no special plumbing or wiring

- Pots and pans "come clean" too

An automatic dishwasher cleans pots and pans that have not been burned.

- All the dishes for a family of eight

- Germ-free results assured

- Operating Costs
